—Cornelius Bower, of Haines, was a caller and spent an hour in our sanctum, in order to keep up boyhood acquaintance.

—Mrs. J. E. Ward, of Bellefonte, is spending several days this week with her mother, Mrs. Stiver, on Church street.

—Elias Vonada, an old and highly respected farmer of near Zion, gave our sanctum a call and set his label out to 1900. He spent a few days at the patrons' picnic.

Messrs. Creasy and Dixon, who delivered able addresses in favor of Reform, at the grange picnic, were guests of the editor during part of their stay in this place.

Mr. Grimm spent last week at the grangers' picnic where he had some of the finest exhibits in the lines mentioned below, in which he is a dealer. His exhibit, admired by all, consisted of Poland China, Chester White, and Berkshire pigs; and also, Wyandott chickens, and Bronze turkeys. He could easily have been voted a prize for any of the above.

to Colorado Springs to recuperate his failing health. To avoid a recurrence of the complaint, he will not return to the east. His wife and little daughter are with him at Colorado Springs.

—Dr. John I. Robison greatly surprised his many friends by hauling in his shingle yesterday morning and removing to State College, his old home, where he will locate. The Doctor came to Centre Hall about six weeks ago, taking the property and practice of Dr. Alexander, fully expecting to remain permanently, but he finds a wider field at State College. He made many friends during his short stay in Centre Hall, and wish him success in his new location. He's a bright young man and will make his mark in the medical profession.

The Real Danger From Trusts.

New York Herald: The real dangers to the public from these combinations are chiefly two—evil influence upon State and Federal officials, made possible by the concentration of vast capital and power in the hands of corrupt trust magnates; losses to investors who buy the shares of overcapitalized concerns. Prohibiting all corporations from contributing to campaign funds would help to check the first mentioned evil, and insistence upon the publication of full financial statements from every combination before permitting it to begin business, and at stated intervals thereafter, would protect investors.

Where a trust is secured from foreign competition by the tariff, abolish the protective duty; prevent reckless overcapitalization and insist upon sworn statements of their affairs, and there will be no danger to the public from these combinations. Given a free field, there is enough enterprise and capital in this country to ensure competition, and it will be a survival of the fittest. The overcapitalized or defective combination will have to go, and the new industrial revolution at the close of the century, like that which marked its beginning—when machinery superseded hand labor—will ultimately result in benefit to the whole people.

A Boy's Composition on Water.

Water is found everywhere, especially when it rains, as it did the other day, when our cellar was half full. Jane had to wear her father's rubber boots to get the onions for dinner. Onions make your eyes water, and so does horse-radish, when you eat too much. There are a good many kinds of water in the world; rain water, soda water, holy water and brine. Water is used for a good many things. Sailors use it to go to sea on. Water is a good thing to fire at boys with a squirt and to catch fishes in. My father caught a big one the other day, and when he pulled it out it was an eel. Nobody could be saved from drowning if there wasn't any water to pull them out of. Water is first rate to put fires out with. I love to go to the fire and see the men work at the engines. This is all I can think of about water—except the flood.

In Memoriam.

It is with deep sorrow that we, the members of the Union Sunday school, of Tusseyville, Pa., record the death of our beloved pupil and school-mate, Maggie M. Rossman. While we cannot fathom the reason why a life so promising has thus been extinguished, still we are assured in this early finishing her course, that she has entered into those mansions of rest which we can enter only after many trials and perplexities in the years to come.

Resolved, That we, her teacher and school-mate, offer to the bereaved parents and the remaining sisters our heartfelt sympathy, bidding them to entrust the departed one into the care of Him who is the resurrection and the life, and bear their bereavement in the humble spirit of Him who said, "Not my will, but thine be done." Let these resolutions be entered upon the Sunday school record, that a copy be sent to the family of our late scholar and school-mate, and also a copy be sent to the CENTRE REPORTER for publication.

Up Goes the Price of Shoes.

Shoe manufacturers have adopted resolutions increasing the price of shoes largely. One shoe manufacturers' organization has agreed upon raising the rates on men's boots and shoes 10 to 50 cents per pair; women's 10 to 25 cents, and children's in proportion.

A Young Girl's Experience. My daughter's nerves were terribly out of order. She was thin and weak; the least noise started her, and she was wakeful at night. Before she had taken one package of Celery King the change in her was so great that she could hardly be taken for the same girl. She is rapidly growing wondrous strong, her complexion is perfect, and she sleeps well every night.—Mrs. Lucy McNutt, Brush Valley, Pa.
