Foster's Weather Forecast.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from the 25th to 29th and the next will reach the Pacific coast about 30, cross the west of Rockies country by close of October 1, great central valleys October 2 to 4, eastern states 5.

Warm wave will cross the west of Rockies country about September 30, great central valleys October 2, eastern states 4. Cool wave will cross the west of Rockies country about October 3, great central valleys 5, eastern states 7.

While each storm brings first a rising and then a falling temperature the average temperature of the whole storm wave varies. The storm wave that crossed meridian 90 about September 7 and 8 averaged much higher in relative temperature than that which passed the same point about 16 and 17.

About the date of this bulletin the high temperature of the storm wave and the high temperature wave will be together and nearing the New England states. When these two temperature waves are together the result generally is very high or very low temperature, but this time it will not go to extremes above, while it will go to extremes below a few days after.

About September 25 or 26 the low temperature of the storm wave and the general low temperature wave will be together in the great central valleys and this will bring frosts in many parts of the northern states.

A Tot's Wanderings.

Charley Kriessinger, of Berlin, Pa., a 4-year old tot who arrived here with his parents at noon on Wednesday's, 20th, special pic nic train, to see the camp and visit the family of the editor, all passing through the grounds to our residence where dinner awaited the travelers, little Charley, after his meal, hatless, innocently and alone, wandered away, unobserved, to the grange park, 3/4 of a mile away, got in among the dense crowds, having escaped being run over by b'ikes and buggies, or dragged down by the surging crowds, suddenly realized he was lost, and began to cry, which attracted the attention of persons near him, and soon the word ran through the camp, "Who lost a little boy?" No one could place the tot, for he was a late arrival from away off Somerset county. Sheriff Cronister and Capt. Mulen took Charly in charge, and after many unsuccessful attempts to have him tell his name or home, he finally replied, "Joe Kurtz," (having stamped on his mind the colored boy, Joe, living with Mr. Kurtz). This led the sheriff to phone to the Kurtz home whether a little boy was missing, and was informed accordingly and that the parents were searching for him.

Taking in the Fair.

Quite a number went down to Lewisburg this morning to attend the Union county fair in blast at Brook Park this week. Special return trains will be run to Bellefonte today and tomorrow evening to accommodate those who wish to take in the show. The fair is said to be very good this year. The train had five or six coaches which were well filled by the time Centre Hall was reached. At this station sixty-four tickets were sold to fair goers.

Died Suddenly.

William F. Castner, of Loganton, Clinton county, died suddenly of heart disease on Saturday night last. He was 48 years of age and leaves a wife and three sons.

PICNIC ECHOES.

Good Crowds Attend the Two Closing Days.

Despite the unfavorable weather last Thursday morning, there was the largest crowd of the week on Grange Park to attend the picnic. The trains came in crowded and by noon there was scarcely an available spot inside the ground where a vehicle could be hung up. The crowd was estimated at from 6,000 to 10,000, it being hard to make a correct estimate for in all parts of the park were people congregated taking in the sights.

The attendance on Friday, the last and closing day was very good in spite of the fact that no special trains were run. In the afternoon there was a general move to get away and campers began preparations to flit home. The fakirs closed up shop while the stands and shops began packing to remove from the park. This work was at its height in the evening when the work was completed.

The work of dismantling the grounds began on Saturday morning, and by evening the park presented a desolate and barren appearance. Dirt and refuse of every kind littered the park, and it was far from presenting the inviting and business-like appearance of the ten days previous.

A gang of men were at work for several days the beginning of the week cleaning up and hauling away the debris, putting the grounds into their normal shape for another year until the time for the next annual affair comes along.

Wedding at Spring Mills.

Last Wednesday evening at 8.30 o'clock a very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Long, at Spring Mills. The occasion was the marriage of their youngest son, Frank A., of Punxsutawney, to Miss Ella, youngest daughter of John H. and Mary Myers, of Punxsutawney. The maid of honor was Miss Nettie Hanscom, a close friend of the bride, and the best man was Joseph Kurtz. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. G. Dodds, D. D., pastor of the First M. E. church of Punxsutawney, of which church both the contracting parties are efficient members. The wedding march was played by Miss Ida, sister of the bride. The guests were the immediate relatives and friends of the happy couple. The bridal party returned to Punxsutawney, starting from Spring Mills on Friday, making the trip overland by carriage.

Arrested for Assault.

Last Friday one of the fakirs attending the picnic got into an altercation with John Bowers, a character from Julian, and was arrested. Bowers has a leg off near the hip and gets along with one crutch. He was annoying and abusing a man connected with one of the games going on the park, until the fakir swiped Bowers over the head with a loaded cane. Bowers swore out a warrant and had the man arrested. He was discharged on payment of costs, and the county saved a lot of costs.

A Peculiar Accident.

Alvin Ertle, a thirteen-year-old boy, met his death from a peculiar accident at Howard last Saturday morning. He was tussling with another boy, when he fell, striking his head on a stake driven in the ground. The fall rendered him unconscious, from which he never recovered. He had but one arm, and carried the mail from the postoffice to the railroad station. He was a son of Jacob Ertle, of Howard.

Fruit Versus Alcohol.

Fruit will destroy the desire for alcoholic drinks. Oranges and apples have been found to be the most effectual cure for inebriates. And the more they eat of these luscious fruits the more the desire for drink will diminish, until at last it is completely crushed, and so far as the individual is concerned, is gone forever.

United Brethren Appointments.

The United Brethren held their annual conference at Altoona last week. Greensburg was selected for holding the next session of that body. Among the appointments for the East District are: Bellefonte, Alexander Rhem; Phillipsburg, S. C. Smiley; Port Matilda, N. H. Newall; Stormstown, E. B. Summers; Tyrone, W. W. Rymer.

No More Cases.

The small pox quarantine was raised Friday from the home of the last case of that disease in Altoona thus far reported to the health officers, and the city is now free from that dread disease. Since the 15th of January, sixty-four cases developed in the city, the largest number at one time being sixteen.

She Was no Good.

The Phillipsburg Ledger says: A Rauchtown girl applied for a school recently. A few days afterward she received a note from a member of the school board, which stated that they were going to "higher a mail teacher."

UNCLE JOHN SHAFFER.

Death of this Estimable Miles Township Citizen on Sunday.

The death of Mr. John Shaffer, familiarly known as "Uncle John," occurred on the old homestead about one-half mile east of Madisonburg last Sunday morning, from an illness dating back many months of cancer of the stomach.

Mr. Shaffer was one of Miles township's leading citizens, being of a genial and kindly nature, he had won for himself many friends. He had not been in good health for nearly a year, suffering from some ailment of the stomach, which finally developed into a cancerous affection and death resulted.

Mr. Shaffer was aged almost 75 years and was born in Brush valley, and with the exception of a few years, has always resided on the old homestead. He was married in 1848 to Miss Frances Schmeltzer, and to them were born six children, four of whom are still living. They are, Mrs. John Roush, of Gregg township; Washington, a farmer in Miles township; Mrs. Wilson Hazel, of Madisonburg, and Thomas Shaffer, residing in Dakota, Ill. Mrs. D. L. Bartges, of Centre Hall, is a sister of the deceased. The wife died in 1892 since which time Mr. Shaffer has resided upon his farm.

Mr. Shaffer was a consistent member of the Lutheran church. Politically he was a Democrat of the old line school. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning from his late residence, interment being made in the Lutheran cemetery at Madisonburg. Rev. J. M. Rearick and Rev. Salem officiated in the services.

Bad Year for Our Farmers.

Our farmers are not going to starve this year, but they will lay up little or nothing.

The hay and the oats crops alone were good. The wheat crop was some over half. The corn crop will count less than half, and in many fields nothing and only a small crop of fodder. Apples will be less than half a crop, and potatoes not up to an average.

In the face of this the Trusts' higher prices on all the farmer needs to buy, will operate against his pocket book quite feelingly. The farmer's wheat is down; what things he needs, are up, and going higher.

Safest Horse Will Run Off.

It is a true saying, No horse is safe untied. John Arney drove into town Monday morning and stopped to do a little business in Reesman's tin shop, leaving his horse untied to await his return. The horse started to run before Mr. Arney got half dozen steps into the shop, wheeled, upset the spring wagon, and in making the turn at the bank corner struck a post and tore from the wagon and ran home. The wagon was considerably damaged.

This animal was considered safe to stand thus, but at last broke its record and a spring wagon.

Wreck on the Beech Creek.

A freight wreck occurred on the Beech Creek railroad Saturday night near Snow Shoe in which five coal cars were derailed. The cause of the wreck is peculiar. A lot of Italians were having a jollification over a keg of beer and after the contents of the keg had been drained, one of the number picked it up and threw it under the wheels of a west bound freight train which caused the cars to jump the track. No one was injured, but traffic was delayed several hours.

Dislocated His Arm.

Last Friday Robert Bartges, of Penn Hall, driver of the milk wagon for the Spring Mills creamery, had a peculiar accident at Tusseyville. His team of horses became fractious and began to plunge. Bob held on to the ribbons and pulling hard, his arm was pulled out of joint at the shoulder. Dr. J. I. Robison was compelled to administer ether in replacing the member.

Stole Beef Hides.

A young man named Allison Woodring, was arrested last Tuesday in Phillipsburg for stealing hides from the Phillipsburg Beef company. He was committed for trial in the Clearfield county court by Justice Gallagher, of Osceola. Woodring implicates Wm. Potter, night watchman for the Beef company, in the stealing of hides, which amounted to over $200 in the past three months. The hides were sold to the Osceola Fertilizer company.

Rev. Eisenberg Accepts a Call.

Rev. Eisenberg, some ten years pastor of the Centre Hall Reformed charge, has accepted a call from the Millersburg, Dauphin county, Reformed charge, and will begin his labors in his new field, November 1, next.

Down to Work Again.

The schools resumed their course again Monday morning after a week's vacation during the picnic. The streets are quiet and with the picnic over and schools in session, there is very little excitement in the town at present.

Arbor Day.

Dr. F. Shaeffer, state superintendent of Public Instruction, has set Friday, October 29th, as Autumn Arbor Day for this state.

DIED AT AARONSBURG.

Franklin J. Weaver Succumbs to a Dropsical Ailment.

Aaronburg lost one of its good citizens in the death of Franklin John Weaver, who died at about one o'clock Wednesday morning, at his home, after a prolonged illness, from a dropsical complaint.

For over a year Mr. Weaver had been a sufferer, but his ailment did not assume a serious aspect until six or seven weeks ago, when he became seriously ill, and steadily grew worse until death relieved him of his sufferings. For several years he was engaged in the butchering business, and was one of the town's reliable and trustworthy citizens. He was aged 62 years and 26 days.

He leaves to survive him a wife and three daughters. The daughters are, Mrs. George Kelster, Aaronburg; Mrs. W. M. Auman and Mrs. J. Willis Musser, both of Millheim.

Mr. Weaver was a staunch Republican, yet was liberal in his views. He was a member of the Lutheran church and his remains will be interred in that church cemetery at Aaronburg on Friday morning.

Large Funeral.

The funeral of James G. Evans, of near Spring Mills, on Saturday last, was perhaps the largest yet held in that section, upwards of 100 vehicles are supposed to have been in line. Salem church was crowded to its utmost. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Brown, pastor of the deceased, assisted by Rev's Eisenberg and Black.

The deceased, previous to his death, gave directions as to his funeral; among these the request that his sons, Rev's L. K. and John, Wells, two grandsons, and Rev. Dr. D. M. Wolf, be his pall-bearers and lower his body into its last resting place; his favorite hymns he requested to have sung at the funeral services. These and all his dying requests, were lovingly carried out.

Students Who Like Cider.

Sunbury Daily: Col. Wm. Foster, of State College, was in this city on Tuesday with a tale of woe. The Colonel has a farm at the college and on Monday he had three barrels of cider made by his farmer. In the evening three hundred boys marched down to his barn and loaded the cider on a wagon, and took it up to the campus, broke in the heads of the barrels, and proceeded to drink it. His farmer ran down to the barn, and attempted to stop the boys, and got licked good for his trouble, while the Colonel viewed the battle from the hotel porch.

The Equinox.

The autumnal equinox occurred on Thursday, the sun entering the sign Libra, and the equator crossing each other. The sun will then shine from pole to pole. A storm is generally supposed to occur, at this time of more or less severity. Sometimes it comes a few days in advance or a few days later than the actual time of the sun crossing the equinoctial line. The days and nights will from that day be equal all over the globe for awhile.

Sale of Horse and Mule Colts.

H. Plaltzgroff will offer 50 head of Kentucky horse and mule colts at public sale at the Centre Hall hotel on Monday next, October 2. The colts range in age from weanlings to yearlings and are selected from the best Kentucky stock-farms. The stock will arrive at Centre Hall several days before the sale where they can be inspected.

Dr. Atherton's Daughter Weds.

Among the marriage licenses issued in Philadelphia in last Thursday's North American was that of Mr. Albert Buckhout and Miss Harriet C. Atherton both of State College. The groom is the son of Prof. W. A. Buckhout and the bride is the daughter of George W. Atherton, president of State College.

Death of a Farmer.

Jacob Ricker, a well-known farmer of east Nittany valley, died Monday afternoon at four o'clock, aged 72 years 7 months and 11 days. He is survived by his sons, William J., Samuel G. L., H. L., and Charles. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon, interment at Cedar Hill.

Wants Damage.

A. W. Oppe, of Opplesville, who some time ago was arrested on oath of a postoffice inspector and bound over for his appearance in the United States Court, charged with using what was said to be used or cancelled stamps, has brought suit against the postoffice department for $10,000 damages.

Snyder County Barn Burned.

The large bank barn on the farm of Henry Brown, near Freeburg, was burned to the ground a short time ago along with 156 bushels of wheat, 290 bushels of oats, and nearly all the farming implements. Origin of the fire unknown. It began in the straw stack.

Lutheran Synod.

The forty-sixth annual convention of the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Central Pennsylvania convened at Bellefonte, Mifflin county yesterday. The Synod covers many counties in this part of the state.
