From New Zealand.

Reefton, New Zealand, Nov. 23, 1896. I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicine the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

He will also preach in all the congregations in the Aaronsburg charge. This charge is now vacant, with a view to fill that vacancy, is the object of Rev. Sheeder's visit. He will be followed by others, until the congregations make a choice.

The other day the writer sauntered into the spacious storeroom of James E. Harter, and found the counters piled high with new goods just received. On closer inspection we found the shelves well filled with reasonable goods, showing a decided healthful business condition, in fact it seemed to be a veritable beehive of industry, and the emporium for all kinds of goods, at honest prices. For fair dealing and courteous treatment, go to this establishment.

Mrs. Promelia Snively, wife of Lewis Snively of this place, departed this life on the 18th inst, of a complication of diseases, chief of which was diabetes. Mrs. Snively was a patient sufferer from rheumatism for many years prior to her death. She was born in Franklin township, Snyder county, on the 9th day of November, 1844, being at the time of her death 55 years, 8 months and 9 days of age. On the 19th day of November, 1864 she was married to Lewis Snively, who with seven children, five daughters and two sons survive her, one child having died in infancy. The children are all married except the youngest son, Wesley. Mary J., to Luther Musser; R. J., to Ellen Fryer; Rebecca, to Milford Gharret; Katie, to William H. Burd; Emma, to John Krader, and Cora, to Emanuel Krader. Her remains were interred in the Paradise burial ground on Tuesday, followed by a large concourse of her relatives and friends. She was a consistent member of the Lutheran church for many years, but owing to the absence of a regular Lutheran minister in this charge of which she was a member, Revs. Brown, of the Reformed church, and Buck, of the United Evangelical church officiated at the funeral.

MILLHEIM.

Death of Charles W. Albright, One of the Town's Estimable Citizens.

Sheriff-elect Brungart is busy as a nailer assisting his friends butchering, and getting ready to go to 'jail.' He carries the honors bestowed upon him very modestly.

The Parker Concert Company rendered a first class entertainment in the town hall last Friday evening. They are a first class troupe and deserve the patronage of the public wherever they go.

The Millheim hunting party returned after a week's stay in Mifflin county, bringing with them a lonely bear cub. They report deer very scarce, or exceedingly hard to raise, having hunted all week without seeing a single number of the fleetfooted family.

The Millheim schools are getting along nicely since the three weeks' vacation, caused by the epidemic of diphtheria. The attendance is on the increase, and the faculty express themselves as being gratified on account of the progress made by the pupils.

Andrew J. Albright, one of the leading citizens of Tylersville, Clinton county, and a brother of the late C. W. Albright attended the funeral of his brother last Sunday. Andy has many warm friends in Millheim who are always glad to see him.

Pete Shires, the popular drayman, is chuck full of work at this season. He says that to supply the people of town with coal, and haul the freight for our merchants is as much as he and his faithful horse can do. The amount of goods hauled indicates a healthy condition of trade among our business men.

Noah Kahl, from Sugar valley, with a gang of hands has been operating on William Kreamer's farm north of town, pulling stumps. He finished the job last Friday, having taken out between fifteen and sixteen hundred. Mr. Kreamer is well pleased with the job, and his farm will present a very changed appearance.

The community was shocked on last Friday morning, to learn that during the night the spirit of one of its citizens had taken its flight, and that Charles W. Albright was no more. Mr. Albright was born and raised in Millheim. He was a coachmaker by occupation, and in connection with his brother Foster was engaged in that business. Mr. Albright was a good mechanic, and never in better spirits than when work was plenty. Politically he was a Democrat, true as steel. Religiously he cast his lot with the Lutherans, where he was a regular attendant, being a faithful worker in the Sunday school and an almost indispensable help in the choir. He has been a member of the Millheim band since its organization. On election day he was out to the polls, since then he has not been away from home. Everybody was rejoicing over the fact that he was improving and would soon be out. The fever took a sudden turn and death soon relieved his sufferings. He leaves a wife, one daughter, two sons, and two sisters and three brothers. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon, Rev. Buck, of the United Evangelical church officiating. Age 55 years and 10 months.

The High School Literary Society elected the following officers: President, Ira Stover; Vice President, Belle Miller; Secretary, Charles Mothersbaugh. Their first meeting will be held next Friday afternoon; all are welcome. The meetings this year will be principally on Friday afternoons, owing to Prof. Hower being engaged in private teaching in the evenings.

Mrs. William Baumgardner died at her home on Main street Friday morning, of Bright's disease. The funeral services were held at her late residence Saturday at 3 o'clock, Rev. Hepler officiating. The body was taken to the home of her parents at Reading, from where burial was made on Tuesday. The deceased had been in poor health for some time, however, her death was sudden and unexpected. Mrs. Baumgardner was well and favorably known; she attended the Presbyterian church, but was a member of a Baptist church in Reading. She leaves a husband to mourn her death.

The R. G. and B. N. Kenneley gunning party of a dozen Nimrods, after wandering over the Seven mountains for a week, returned on Saturday last empty handed. Their failure to capture any game is charged to unpropitious weather—perhaps.

Christian pastor; on December 1, by the Evangelicals, Rev. Salvin pastor; on the 2nd by the United Evangelicals, Rev. Brown pastor; on the 3rd by the Methodists, Rev. the immense amount of flooring, siding, sashes, etc., manufactured, the company are manufacturing some very elegant interior fixtures and decorations principally in hard wood, exquisitely carved and polished like a mirror. Mr. Confer, one of the firm, designs nearly all the patterns used by the company, and displays artistic skill and ability in this special department of the highest order. The most widely circulated weekly newspaper in America is the Thrice-a-Week edition of The New York World, and with the Presidential campaign now at hand you cannot do without it. Every week each subscriber receives 18 pages and often during the "busy" season 24 pages each week. The price is only $1 per year. It is virtually a daily at the price of a weekly. Its news covers every known part of the world. No weekly newspaper could stand alone and furnish such service. The Thrice-a-Week World has at its disposal all of the resources of the greatest newspaper in existence—the wonder of modern journalism—"America's Greatest Newspaper," as it has been justly termed—"The New York World." Its political news is absolutely impartial. This fact will be of especial value in the Presidential campaign coming on. The best of current fiction is found in its columns. These are only some of the reasons; there are others. Read it and see them all. We offer this unequalled newspaper and The Reporter for $1.90 per year.
