

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

—Oliver Hazel, of Bellefonte, visited at W. O. Rearick's on Tuesday.

—Our friend, Joshua T. Potter, called in and gave his label a forward move.

—Mr. and Miss Streeter, of State College, were the guests of Dr. Glosser on Sunday.

—Mrs. Phoebe Yearick departed last Friday on a visit to friends at Catawissa, Pa.

—Mrs. John T. Stuart, of State College, visited her sister, Mrs. W. A. Jacobs last week.

—Mrs. Linnie Ruble, of State College, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Mrs. B. D. Brisbin.

—Miss Eleanor Woods, of Boalsburg, visited her friend, Miss Roxanna Brisbin over Sunday.

—Miss Grace Smith left last week on an extended visit to her friend, Miss Alice Hazlett, in Williamsport.

—Prof. H. F. Bitner, of the Millersville, Pa., State Normal, arrived here last Friday on a short visit.

—Miss Emma McCoy went to Philadelphia on Tuesday, where she expects to remain for some time.

—Our former esteemed townsman, Jared Kremer, of Rebersburg, was up the other day, shaking hands.

—Station agent Frank Bradford is off on a hunting trip since last week, to remain until the season closes.

—Hoffer Dale and Miles Arney, students at State College, came home yesterday to eat their Thanksgiving turkey.

—Misses Winifred and Elizabeth Wieland, of near Linden Hall, were visiting friends in Centre Hall on Monday.

—Miss Pearl Runkle is a guest at today's wedding of Miss Elizabeth May Condo and Mr. Charles Lester Freedy at Millheim.

—Mrs. W. A. Sandoe went to Laurelton on Monday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Knarr, her grandmother, who died last Friday.

—John Van Pelt went to Bellefonte on Saturday morning where he will enter the Bellefonte Academy to take a course in studies.

—Mr. C. F. Herlacher, of Stormstown, a former good citizen of Centre Hall, was in town Tuesday and Wednesday greeting his many friends.

—Joseph Spangler, living on the Curtin farm east of Centre Hall, will emigrate to Illinois in the spring where he will engage in farming near Freeport.

—Lev. Bickle, of the Bellefonte Reformed church, filled the pulpit in the Reformed church here Sunday night, and delivered an able sermon to a well-filled house.

—Wm. C. Farner, of Colyer, was a pleasant caller on Tuesday. Mr. Farner will quit farming in the spring and go back to his old occupation of carpentering.

—Nicholas and Mrs. Graden, of Gregg, returning from a visit to friends at Zion, gave our sanctum a pleasant call, and made a change of label to 1900, after a short rest and chat.

—Mr. C. L. Freeby, of Wilkesbarre, Miss May Condo, Miss Stella Zerby and Harry Condo, of Millheim, were the guests of Landlord Runkle's family at the hotel last night.

—W. W. Royer, Potter township's efficient assessor, has been getting in good work the last week fitting up dwellings in town with a patent weather-strip, a good thing in this cold, windy climate.

—Mr. and Mrs. Auspacher, of Charlotte, Michigan, were the guests at the home of Dr. G. H. Hosterman on Tuesday. Mr. Auspacher is a Centre county man who years ago located in the west. They are visiting friends in the valley.

—Mr. and Mrs. John F. Glosser, of Paoli, Pa., arrived here on Saturday to visit their son, Dr. Glosser. Mr. Glosser holds a high position in the Penna. R. R. They left again on Monday to go to State College, in which town they once resided.

—Mrs. David Solly, nee Miss Mame Kremer, of Roanoke, Va., was the guest of her friend Miss Flora Love from Sunday to Wednesday. Mrs. Solly is north on a visit to her parents at Rebersburg, and expects to remain several weeks.

—Andy Reesman, our genial stove dealer, has been the busiest man in the town the last couple months, putting out stoves at a lively rate. He says this has been his banner year in that line, the sales exceeding that of any former year. He has a fine stock yet on hand.

—The Reedsville correspondent of the Lewistown Sentinel says: Cyrus Jeffries Shaffer, of Centre Hall, is the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Jacob Kohler, on Logan street. This young gentleman bears the name of his father's honored friend, Rev. Cyrus Jeffries, deceased, a well remembered minister of the U. B. church, as well as a renowned writer of prose, among his many fine compositions one being, "Legions of the Juniata Valley." Mr. Jeffries dropped dead while delivering a most eloquent sermon at a camp-meeting in New Jersey, in the autumn of 1870. He was a brother-in-law of A. M. Shoop, Esq., of Yeagerstown.

COBURN.

Sudden Death of Adam Stover.—News of the Busy Town.

Merchant W. C. Krader is attending court this week at Bellefonte.

Samuel Ard, Emanuel Eisenhuth and R. F. Vonada are attending court at Bellefonte this week in the capacity of jurors.

Everybody is invited to come out to the sociable on Saturday evening, to be given by the Aid Society of the Lutheran church.

Mrs. James Burd, of the Kulp lumber operations near Lewisburg, came to this place on Monday morning, and will visit a short time among friends before returning to her home.

J. E. Kooney came up from Harrisburg on Monday morning and will remove with his family to this city today, Thursday. He has secured a lucrative position there and will now make his home for the time being.

The pupils of the Grammar school have organized a literary society, and devote every other Friday afternoon to the rendition of literary gems, recounting current events, etc. Parents, and patrons of the school are invited to attend these exercises.

Miss host S. R. King, proprietor of the popular Coburn House, has added a complete livery to his establishment, and he now not only caters to the wants of the inner man, but can accommodate his guests with first-class driving outfits on short notice, and at reasonable prices.

The memorial sermon upon the death of Annie R. Vonada, daughter of R. F. and Emma J. Vonada, who died on September 2nd, 1899, of diphtheria, were held in the United Evangelical church on Sunday afternoon by Rev. Buck. His text was II Kings, 20-1. The services throughout were very sad and impressive, and many tears came from hearts that bled in sympathy for the precious jewel that was "gone but not forgotten."

They were standing upon the bridge, gazing thoughtlessly upon the bright stars in the firmament above them, absorbed in visions of the dim future, and oblivious of everything but themselves, when a shrill voice rang through the still night air, which so impressed Joe with its terrors, that he started to run at a breakneck speed, and did not stop until he had reached home, two and one-half miles away.

On Saturday morning this community was shocked to hear of the sudden and unexpected death of Adam Stover, who lived about one and three-fourth miles east of this place. Mr. Stover on Friday helped to butcher at Emanuel Rote's, and ate a hearty supper before leaving for home. On his way home he remarked to his two daughters who accompanied him, that he wanted to hurry to get home, and go to bed early, that on Saturday morning he had to go to Ingleby to load a car of staves. He accordingly went to bed apparently in good health, and about two o'clock in the night his wife was awakened by hearing him breathing heavily, but thought it was only an attack of catarrh in the throat to which he was at times subject. She tried to arouse him by speaking to him, but got no answer; she at once noticed that all was not well with him and called her two daughters, who reached the bedside just as the spirit was taking its flight. Mr. Stover was aged 56 years, 5 months and 13 days. He was a consistent member of the Reformed church, having served in the Consistory for a number of years. His remains were interred in the Aaronsburg Reformed cemetery on Tuesday forenoon, by his pastor, Rev. F. W. Brown. Politically he was a life-long Democrat. He was a son of Michael Stover, who still survives him, together with four brothers and one sister, wife and two daughters, Gertrude, married to Jacob Fryer, and Annie, who is unmarried.

SPRING MILLS.

The News of Our Neighboring Town.—Personal Mention.

Edwin Ruhl has just received a very large assortment of fine candies for the holidays.

Orris McCormick is at present employed in the Spring Mills planing mill.

C. P. Long our enterprising merchant, has had his residence and store building very handsomely painted.

The skimming station located here, is now operated on the regular winter schedule, three days a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Turkeys will evidently suffer on Thanksgiving Day; in fact gobblers looked melancholy ten days ago, possibly reflecting on the fate in store for them.

Clyde Shirk, of Cowan, Union county, is visiting friends in our village the guest of William Baker. Mr. Shirk is quite an intelligent and agreeable young man.

Robinson the hardware and grocery merchant, has had quite a neat private office erected in his store room. Everything about this building has a business like appearance.

Quite a number of our hunters have returned after tramping over the mountains for the last week, but deer and bears are very conspicuous by their absence. Game of any kind seems a trifle off.

The long talked of walk from the foot log over Penns creek, passing the M. E. church building up to the bridge over Sinking creek has been built at last. Now let us have a lamp post between the two points with a lighted lamp—particularly on Sunday evenings.

Several weddings are on foot in our neighborhood. If all our bachelors, maiden ladies, widows and widowers intend turning over a new leaf by entering the tried and untried state, the sooner we commence building houses the better, for evidently dwellings will be rather difficult to obtain in the spring.

MILLHEIM.

An Interesting Account of the Happenings in this Town.

Rev. Buck commenced a series of revival meetings last Monday night, in the United Evangelical church, to continue indefinitely.

Revs. Buck Evangelical; Brown, Reformed, and Chilcote, Methodist, will conduct Union Thanksgiving services in the Lutheran church at Aaronsburg on Thanksgiving morning.

Dad Stoner although up in the seventies is still the champion lime stack builder in this section. During the last few weeks he erected two, one on his own farm and the other for Cashier Walter.

Merchant J. W. Stover slaughtered two hogs on last Tuesday that tipped the beam at 558 and 613 respectively. William Kremer killed two on Friday that weighed 952 combined; these are record breakers. Jack and Klondike will warm their jackets when they bring their reports.

A Samuel Burrell's farm, situated south east of this place, containing about seventy acres, was sold last week at public sale and brought the snug sum of eighty-eight dollars per acre, the Meyer Bros., from Coburn being the purchasers.

The board of health notified the town council to clean all the alleys within the built up portions of the borough before winter sets in. This is a move in the right direction, and should serve as a reminder to the citizens to avoid throwing anything in the alleys that might later become offensive.

The board of trade is pegging away at the shirt factory project and the outlook is bright. If they succeed with their present project the town will own and operate the plant. This seems more practicable than to give an outright bonus to a stranger, of from eight to fifteen hundred dollars. We hope the board will succeed.

Millheim is to have a new industry in the shape of a shingle mill. Michael Loney has bought the planing mill property lately occupied by Conner & Son and will equip it with the necessary machinery for manufacturing shingles. We hope some other enterprising citizen will start something else and thus boom the town.

"The Acme Store Company" is the title of a new firm who are about opening a new business on East Main street. They purpose handling groceries, confections, oysters, fruit, flour, feed, etc.; more about it later. We believe in expansion along those lines.

Our hunters seem to be in hard luck this fall; they go out and roam the mountains in vain, not even finding a trace of deer. While they are away seeking for the animals, they come out in the valley and make their escape back to the forest without being captured.

Mr. Brain the junk dealer, who located in Millheim some time ago, is cleaning up the old iron, rubber, etc., of this community. He has two wagons out regularly gathering material, which he ships east, and gets a good price for it. The boys are scouring the alleys for old rubbers and old metal.

Adam Lohr, from Williamsport, a traveling Evangelist, circulated in Millheim during the early part of the week. He says he is a miracle of grace, claiming that in answer to prayer the Lord healed him. He holds religious services whenever an opportunity is given, being entirely undenominational.

The very air seems to be filled with gossip concerning a number of prospective weddings in our town. People who pretend to move in the higher circles are guilty of gossiping, and of such a character that respectable persons blush and shudder over what one hears from parties who lay claims to refinement and culture. Of course such conduct is only the true indication of what constitutes the real make-up of an individual, no matter how much deception and imposition is practiced. "Fine feathers never can make fine birds." You may adorn the crow with the peacock's garment, but when he sings—alas! Even so with over-wise and eager busy bodies.

TUSSEYVILLE.

Personal Mention and Other Items of Interest.

Quite a number of the people of this community are doing their butchering this week.

David Fortney shipped fifty-one turkeys and twenty-six chickens on Monday morning.

Miss Houseman, of Millheim, is the guest of her cousin, Miss Blanche Houseman.

Rev. Rearick united a class of twelve with the Lutheran church at this place Saturday last.

The minister of the Evangelical Association will hold communion services on Sunday next.

Who will say Tusseyville is not advancing? James Moyer has erected a new smoke house.

W. F. Rockey had a busy day on Saturday last, getting turkeys ready for market. He shipped near three hundred for Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Creps, of Pine Grove Mills, were the guests of Clem Fortney and family on Monday; they came down to sample the new sausage but were too early.

LINDEN HALL.

Personal Mention and Other Items of Interest.

Mrs. H. Williams and sons Ray and Fred, spent Monday last in Bellefonte.

J. A. Gettig, of Scotia, spent Saturday at the home of his mother east of town.

The revival meeting is still in progress; good attendance and good conduct have prevailed so far.

Miss Sadie Lee, of Colyer, is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Kate Bradford.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tharp and children, of Boalsburg, were visiting in our vicinity on Sunday last.

Miss Mary Seanson, of Boalsburg, spent a few days at the home of her grand parents at this place quite recently.

Messrs. I. A. Zeigler and Trensue, two of Nittany valley's jovial young men, were the guests of Henry Zeigler and family over Sunday.

The butchering season is here again, and in traveling over the country the crack of the rifle and the squeal of the porker, the noise of the chopper machine greet one on every side.

J. H. Ross, the alert and enterprising merchant of this place, is doing quite an extensive business throughout the county. If we had more men like Mr. Ross our town would boom.

The young gentleman who is at present filling the place of Phillip Bradford (who is absent on a hunting expedition), had better keep himself cooped in, or the young ladies of the town and vicinity will all be on his heels.

I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.
