

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

—Miss Emilie Alexander is visiting with friends in Tyrone since last week. —Miss Roxanna Brisbin spent Sunday visiting with friends in Boalsburg. —Miss Estle Ocker was down to Millinburg spending the holidays with friends. —Mr. and Mrs. James Gregg, of Milesburg, spent Christmas at the home of Porter Odenkirk, at the Old Fort. —Isaac Smith was down from Altoona for a week to spend the holidays with his family. —John Benner, now located at Lock Haven, was home to spend the holidays with his mother. —Willis Rishel, the popular landlord at Montgomery, Pa., was here on a short visit last Friday. —Olie Mader and family spent several days of the holiday week with their friends in Millinburg. —Sam'l Harter and D. M. McCool, two esteemed patrons of the Reporter, were pleasant callers. —Miss Marie McQuestion, of Bellefonte, was the guest of the family of Postmaster Boal the past week. —Harry Condo, of Millheim, was the guest of his friend, Miss Pearl Runkle on Sunday and Monday. —W. H. Durst, of near this place, called and, as is his habit, had his annual label put in with the saints. —Mrs. W. O. Rearick and two little daughters, returned last Friday from a week's visit with friends in Williamsport. —Prof. B. M. Wageneller, our efficient and popular principal, spent a week of the school vacation at his home at Sellingsgrove. —Dr. J. F. Alexander left last Wednesday for Los Angeles, Cal., to remain several months with the hope of recuperating his failing health. —Harry Boone, of Hartford, Conn., was here to spend Christmas with his wife, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Brisbin. —Geo. Huss, of Johnstown, once a prominent figure at Linden Hall and Spring Mills, gave us a call, bearing all the signs of prospering in the flood city. —Miss May Rhone, who was home on a brief vacation, returned last Wednesday to resume her duties as stenographer in a large New York publishing house. —Miss Grace Smith, who has been visiting in Williamsport for several weeks, was home for a week, and then returned to Williamsport to remain some time. —Ex-Governor and Mrs. D. H. Hastings, of Bellefonte, drove over to Centre Hall on Sunday, to extend their sympathy to the family of the late Mrs. Annie Van Pelt. —George W. Rowe, our expert horse shoer, expects to lay aside the leather apron and tongs this spring and follow the plow on Samuel Bruss' farm near town, now occupied by Geo. W. Barner, who will locate elsewhere. —S. P. Hockman, on the Krape farm near Spring Mills, will remove to Hecla Park, this spring where he has purchased a farm. Mr. Hockman will have public sale of his stock and implements on March 16. —Mrs. Emily Morrow, of Newburg, Pa., Mr. Jesse Guyer, of Shippenburg, Pa., Mr. John Rhoads and Miss Maggie Bingham, of Hartleton, Pa., were guests during the holidays at the United Evangelical parsonage, where they were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Rhoads. —Miss Ida Rhoads, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Rhoads, who has been teaching a large class in music at Newburg, Pa., for the last few months came home to spend the holidays with her parents. For several days she was quite ill with a severe throat trouble, but is recovering. She will return again to Newburg.

LINDEN HALL.

An Interesting Account of the Happenings in that Section. John Wilborn is visiting friends in Bellefonte and that locality. Miss Blanche Tressler spent her Christmas vacation in Altoona. Harry Kline, of State College, spent New Year's vacation with his friends, the Misses Gettig. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lee, of Lewisburg, spent Tuesday of last week with Mr. Lee's sister, Mrs. Philip Bradford. The extremely cold weather makes one wish to remain in-doors by the side of the warm and comfortable coal stove. The entertainment given on Sunday evening by the United Evangelical Sunday school, was very good, considering the short time in which they had to prepare it. Miss Nora Flory, of Tusseyville, and Miss Ella Meyer, of Centre Hall, were visiting friends in our town over Sunday, and remained for the entertainment. There is an attraction up this way for these young ladies. The burning of the large saw mill west of town, owned by the Linden Hall Lumber Co., created quite an excitement in our little town. The fire has thrown a number of men out of employment, and it is hoped the mill will soon be rebuilt.

A Pretty Wedding at the Home of Postmaster Hosterman. A happy New Year to all. Now for mistakes in writing the new year. M. D. Rocky, esq. and wife, of Tyersville were visitors to our town on Monday. The first ice of the season was put away by the Howard Creamery Co. on Tuesday. Mr. Lynn and wife of Howard, paid their daughter, Mrs. B. B. Wilson, a visit over Sunday. James R. Platt on Tuesday morning left for Clearfield county, where he has secured employment at a lumber camp. Mrs. S. B. Styers spent the holidays with her parents, who live at Moshannon, this county, returning from there on Monday evening. Mr. Henry Kaler who has made Fisher's Ferry his home for the last few years, came home to spend the New Year with his parents, who live at this place. Mrs. P. H. Stover is at Bellwood, Blair county, visiting her sister, Mrs. W. S. Burd. In the meantime Perry is doing the double-shuffle at home, cooking, washing dishes, etc. Miss Bertha Kerstetter has been confined to a bed of sickness for the last three weeks, suffering from appendicitis. But it is gratifying to her many friends that she is on a fair way to recovery. Quite a large number of drunks were again to be seen on our streets on Christmas—a very fitting way to celebrate this sacred holiday (?) and sad to say some of these deluded victims, were boys in their teens. Some one should be held accountable for this violation of the laws. A pretty wedding took place at the hospitable home of T. W. Hosterman, the postmaster of this place, on Thursday, Dec. 28, when his son Thomas A. was joined in holy wedlock to Ella C., daughter of J. H. and Christian Corman, of near this place. At about eleven o'clock in the forenoon the guests began to arrive, and soon the spacious rooms were comfortably filled. Promptly at half-past eleven Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Prof Irvin Meyer, and Rev. Brown of Spring Mills, entered and took his station under a canopy formed by evergreens and beautifully decorated with flowers. He was followed by Miss Verna Hosterman and Mr. L. L. Weaver, of Woodward, who were bridesmaid and groomsmen, and took their stations under the canopy. The bride entered, leaning upon the arm of the groom; they proceeded to the canopy and the minister pronounced the marriage ceremony in accordance with the rites of the Evangelical church. After congratulations were showered upon them, the party all retired to another room where a large table stood groaning under the heavy load of good things to eat, to which all did ample justice. The bride was attired in cream cashmere, trimmed in ribbon and lace, the bridesmaid in cream cashmere, with lace and satin trimmings. The happy couple were the recipients of many and costly presents. In the afternoon the Coburn Cornet band, of which the groom is a member, appeared and discoursed some very choice music in honor of the event. There were sixty-six guests present at the ceremony all told. The groom is an industrious young man, a teacher by profession, and has many friends; the bride is a well to do young lady, and will make a desirable helpmeet for Mr. Hosterman. A prosperous, happy, and long life are the best wishes of the writer, to these two who have linked their future for the battle of life.

A Letter of Interest from that Busy Town as Given by Our Correspondent. All our merchants did a very large business during the past several weeks. G. R. Meiss our enterprising merchant and huckster, lost a valuable horse a few days ago. Quite a number of our young folks attended services at Spruce town on Sunday afternoon last. T. S. Swartz, of our neighboring village, was to Lemont over Sunday, where, no doubt, he had a royal time. Our teachers, as is the custom in this community, were all locked out by their pupils, whose object was to remind them of a Christmas treat. The upper or west end of Potter township will have at least two candidates at the spring caucus, one for supervisor and one for tax collector. Millin Moyer, of New York, is spending a few weeks with his parents at Tusseyville, also visiting friends at this place. Miss Anna Weidensaul and Miss Virgie Walters, of Union county, spent the holidays at the home of Edward Kline. The shooting match at Meiss's store on Christmas was very largely attended. Among those who excelled in breaking the blue rocks were Korman Spiecher and Wm. Breon. M. F. Rossman, it is reported, has purchased the Wagner farm situated about one mile north-west of this place. As Mr. Rossman is one of our best citizens, all will be glad to hear that he will remain in our midst.

Death of Henry Crouse from a Paralytic Stroke.—A Double Wedding. Luther Bower moved into the house belonging to him, which was vacated by John Bower, his brother. Henry Hasley who is working in a piano factory in northern Ohio, is home on a visit to the old burg. He says with them everything is booming. Nelson Wert, son of Luther Wert, moved into the house on 2nd street, which Mr. Wert purchased from Dr. Musser, executor of the estate of the late Sarah King, deceased. Nelson teaches the school at Wolf's Chapel, and goes back and forth every morning and evening, and having moved increases the distance considerably. It is reported we had a double wedding in town on New Year evening. A son of Jacob Winkleblech married Lulu Dutwiler, a daughter of Frank Dutwiler, and Forest Stover, a son of B. F. Stover, married Lottie Leitzell, the youngest daughter of Noah Leit-

BOALSBURG.

The News of that Vicinity as Observed by Our Scribe.

Edward Hunter, a former resident of Boalsburg, spent Xmas in town. Chas. Fisher is spending several weeks in Sunbury, the guest of his brother William's family. Mrs. Lot Kimport and daughter Myra, are spending several weeks in Altoona, at the home of the former's son. Revival services are being held this week in the Lutheran church, conducted by Evangelist Worden, of Harrisburg. Henry Hosterman and wife, of Huntingdon, spent Xmas at the home of the former's father, Adam Hosterman, in our town. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Segner died on Friday morning, and was buried in the Boalsburg on Saturday afternoon. Rev. Leisher officiated. The week of winter services in the Reformed church will begin next week. Rev. C. E. Critz will preach several evenings of that week. Holy Communion will be held on the 14th, preparatory services Friday evening. A story goes the rounds that a certain young man forgot the day appointed for his wedding, and went to work on that important day. He was reminded of the fact by a gray-haired man from Centre Hall that his bride awaited his coming. Then he came to himself and face-to-face with the stern realities of life. It dawned upon him that he could have no more fun with the girls as he once had, but that henceforth he must be a slave of a woman.

The Stock for the Shirt Factory all Secured. Officers Elected. On Sunday night the church bells were rung for the dying of the old year and the incoming of the new. Misses Maude Musser, Jennie and Sadie Harter, of State College, spent the holidays among Millheim friends. Willie, son of Calvin Keen, fell and broke his collar bone. This is the third time that Willie had the misfortune to break the same collar bone. Sheriff Brungart and family left for Bellefonte Monday morning to enter upon the duties of his office. The best wishes of his many friends accompany him. On New Year evening Prof. Windy Foote's Dramatic Co. gave an entertainment in the town hall. The company is composed of home talent, and is just entering the field. Mrs. J. W. Stover entertained a number of young folks on Friday evening, at her home on Penn street. Mrs. Stover served a magnificent dinner at five o'clock; the guests were equal to the task and did their full duty. On Christmas eve the Reformed Sunday school rendered a very pleasing program. The house was crowded. The children did full justice; Pastor Brown made a few timely remarks and wound up by asking a collection for the orphan home. Mr. George Homan, from Williamsport, bought a tract of timber land from J. H. Reifsnnyder. The tract is located on Brush mountain on the much disputed tract. As soon as the choppers commence to operate there will be music in store for somebody. The members of the Millheim band held their annual banquet last Saturday evening. Samuel Weiser the "John Kelly" of the band was caterer. Oysters moved freely and the Order of "Night Hawks" was entirely overshadowed by the covers laid in the tin shop at this time. Mr. Charles Deaderlea, proprietor of the Millheim Dye works, was the happy recipient of many valuable and useful Christmas presents. Mr. Deaderlea came from Corning, N. Y., to this place but a few weeks ago. He is a gentleman well met and during his short stay has made hosts of friends. On Christmas evening the M. E. church gave an entertainment consisting of music and recitations. Rev. Buck, of the United Evangelical church, delivered an address. After the literary exercises a box social was held; many a unique couple shared a lunch box. Ice cream and hot coffee were on tap until a late hour; proceeds for the benefit of the parsonage. Last Wednesday night the stock for the proposed shirt factory was all secured and an organization effected. The following were elected directors of the proposed corporation for the ensuing year: A. A. Frank, J. P. Condo, A. J. Gephart, G. S. Frank, J. Spigelmyer, J. C. Smith, and F. O. Hosterman. Steps will at once be taken for the incorporation of the Millheim Manufacturing Co., and arrangements made for preparing a suitable room and purchasing the machinery. Bravo!

MILLHEIM NEWS.

On Sunday night the church bells were rung for the dying of the old year and the incoming of the new. Misses Maude Musser, Jennie and Sadie Harter, of State College, spent the holidays among Millheim friends. Willie, son of Calvin Keen, fell and broke his collar bone. This is the third time that Willie had the misfortune to break the same collar bone. Sheriff Brungart and family left for Bellefonte Monday morning to enter upon the duties of his office. The best wishes of his many friends accompany him. On New Year evening Prof. Windy Foote's Dramatic Co. gave an entertainment in the town hall. The company is composed of home talent, and is just entering the field. Mrs. J. W. Stover entertained a number of young folks on Friday evening, at her home on Penn street. Mrs. Stover served a magnificent dinner at five o'clock; the guests were equal to the task and did their full duty. On Christmas eve the Reformed Sunday school rendered a very pleasing program. The house was crowded. The children did full justice; Pastor Brown made a few timely remarks and wound up by asking a collection for the orphan home. Mr. George Homan, from Williamsport, bought a tract of timber land from J. H. Reifsnnyder. The tract is located on Brush mountain on the much disputed tract. As soon as the choppers commence to operate there will be music in store for somebody. The members of the Millheim band held their annual banquet last Saturday evening. Samuel Weiser the "John Kelly" of the band was caterer. Oysters moved freely and the Order of "Night Hawks" was entirely overshadowed by the covers laid in the tin shop at this time. Mr. Charles Deaderlea, proprietor of the Millheim Dye works, was the happy recipient of many valuable and useful Christmas presents. Mr. Deaderlea came from Corning, N. Y., to this place but a few weeks ago. He is a gentleman well met and during his short stay has made hosts of friends. On Christmas evening the M. E. church gave an entertainment consisting of music and recitations. Rev. Buck, of the United Evangelical church, delivered an address. After the literary exercises a box social was held; many a unique couple shared a lunch box. Ice cream and hot coffee were on tap until a late hour; proceeds for the benefit of the parsonage. Last Wednesday night the stock for the proposed shirt factory was all secured and an organization effected. The following were elected directors of the proposed corporation for the ensuing year: A. A. Frank, J. P. Condo, A. J. Gephart, G. S. Frank, J. Spigelmyer, J. C. Smith, and F. O. Hosterman. Steps will at once be taken for the incorporation of the Millheim Manufacturing Co., and arrangements made for preparing a suitable room and purchasing the machinery. Bravo!
