DEATH OF MRS. MARTHA ODENKIRK

Fatal Results of a Fall Received Several Weeks Ago.

The death of Mrs. Martha P. Odenkirk, one of Centre Hall's most estimable and highly respected ladies, occurred last Friday morning at about nine o'clock, from an illness incident to a fall received about two months ago.

During the first week in November, one evening Mrs. Odenkirk was coming down stairs. When on the third step from the bottom she tripped and fell. She received such injuries that made its appearance on the she was unable to rise, and was found lying on the floor about an hour later by a neighbor who called at a most fortunate time. Mrs. Odenkirk broke Well, lets tell you about it. In 1863 she was married to George Odenkirk, being his second wife. There were no children to this union, and Bellefonte, Pa. for many years, since the death of her husband, she has resided in her comfortable home down street.

Mrs. Odenkirk was a member of the Presbyterian church. She contributed largely towards the erection of the present edifice and was always liberal in her contributions for the cause. Her age was over seventy years,

The funeral took place on Monday morning. Services were held at her late residence, conducted by her pas--saving customers many dollars tor, Rev. F. F. Christine, assisted by Rev. Rhoads. Interment was made in the cemetery at Centre Hill.

25th Anniversary. The Odd Fellows lodge of Centre Hall celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary by holding a banquet at vited their wives and best girls to $1.48 to 5.00 share the heavily laden boards prepared for them on this particular occasion. The members made the trip by sleighs, If you are looking for a place to and the party included about twenty be neatly and comfortably fitted in couple who participated in the event. Several of the charter members were present, and their reminiscences were greatly enjoyed. The banqueters left Potters Mills about midnight and arrived home at an early hour. The order started a quarter century ago, has flourished and it now has a membership of about sixty, and is in a good financial condition.

Good Old Ages.

A correspondent gives the Journal the ages of the oldest persons in Rebersburg, namly:

Murderer Hummel Was Jealous

Miss Cordelia Fisher, who lives across the river from Milton, and who promises to be an important witness in the Hummel murder trial, has made a statement of her experience with the alleged murderer. Miss Fisher is the woman from whom Hummel received a letter a few days before his arrest, in which she said she would be his housekeeper. This statement is significant from the fact that at the time it was written the fate of the murdered Mrs. Hummel and her children was not

Miss Fisher had been at Hummel's house two different times acting in the capacity of housekeeper.

She says she was to have married Hummel, if she liked the place, but after being there a week she returned to her house and decided not to become Hummel's wife. Hummel, she says, wanted to marry her. She left Hummel's place about a month before Mrs. Delany went there as housekeeper.

Miss Fisher says Hummel was of a very jealous disposition and believed that other men were coming to his house in his absence.

Kind Words Appreciated,

Francis Fleisher, of Michigan, in renewing his subscription, writes: I am coming again to order the old friend Reporter to visit us another year with its charming news from home. . . We had no snow and the weather is mild and not like winter.

Mrs. Kate Moore, of Montana, with remittance, writes: We all watch anxously for the Reporter.

Mrs. Summerson, of Clinton county, says she could not do without the Reporter for anything.

G. L. Long, of Illinois, remitting, says: I am wedded to the Reporter: no paper so nobly and steadily labored for the good of my native valley.

S. R. Stover, of Wisconsin : The Reporter was ever faithful and outspoken in defense of Democracy, and I can't but admire it for its aid and advocacy of public enterprises at home; every true Centre countian will give it deserved credit.

Thanks, friends.

Frain, Former Millheim Landlord, Dead

Samuel T. Frain, years ago the hustling landlord of the National hotel, at Millheim, and later proprietor of the Crawford house, in Williamsport, died suddenly in Harrisburg on Sunday afternoon, of heart failure.

Mr. Frain was born in Union county, and is survived by one son and six brothers. He was a veteran in the continuously until Oct. 6, 1864, when he was discharged. He participated in eighteen engagements and was wounded four times.

Engine Disabled.

The passenger train west due here at 3 30, was delayed for several hours on Tuesday afternoon by the engine becoming disabled about two miles below Centre Hall. A part of the machinery on the locomotive broke, and the train came to a stand still on an embankment. An engine was sent down from Bellefonte and the belated train was pulled through here about nine o'clock. The disabled engine was

Didn't Know it Was Loaded.

Quite a serious accident occurred at Kistler, Perry county, recently. David Gutshall loaded a gun on hearing a noise at his barn and set it behind the stove. The next morning the boys gathered about the kitchen stove and one of the lads picked up the gun, not knowing it was loaded, drew back the hammers and the discharge from one of the barrels struck the younger brother in the forepart of the head killing him instantly.

No Dispute.

This decision is far from meeting with the approval of public opinion, as public sentiment is that the county should pay the damages in this case.

This is "Awfulness."

One of our exchanges takes the floor to remark that next year we may expect to read something like the following in the daily papers: "About ten o'clock this morning a horseless wagon loaded with cowless milk collided with a brainless rider on a chainless wheel. The luckless wheelman was badly injured and being homeless, he was taken in a horseless cab to a home for the friendless, where his death was

The REPORTER last week made the statement on what it considered unquestioned authority, that the boro council had paid the annual water lease to the Bibles, which was in dispute. Councilman W. H. Bartholomew called us up by phone and stated that we had been misinformed, that the $50 had not been paid and that it never would be either. We stand corrected and according to the above, a beat little legal controversy is in sight.

A Board of Trade.
