ASSEMBLY.

We are authorized to announce that J. W. Kessler of Ferguson township, will be a candidate for Assembly, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention.

The Senate is in no hurry to vote on Quay. His friends are not strong enough to compel the Senate to act.

Governor Roosevelt will not accept the nomination from the Republicans for vice president. He wants the presidency.

Farr, the late speaker of the House, will not be a candidate for re-election. Reason, he went too far in the Quay business.

The doings of the Taylor moonshine gang in Kentucky was so highbanded an outrage that even McKinley refused to help Taylor out.

President McKinley found "Governor" Taylor's claims too shaky and refused to help him out by sending the asked for United States troops.

Some of the Philadelphia ballot box stuffers were found guilty last week. Taylor might bring his Kentucky moonshine brigade up and find lots of big game in the Quay-ker City.

It is to the additional discredit of Taylor and his armed mountaineer roushians that they come from the moonshine district, being the fellows that have given the United States revenue officers so many battles in their mountain hiding places.

The Boer War Department has decided upon a change in tactics, which means the flooding of Ladysmith. Huge quantities of timber and sandbags have been sent from Johannesburg and Pretoria for the purpose of damming the Klip river some miles below Ladysmith. By this means it is hoped to flood the town and drive the soldiers and inhabitants from their bomb-proof caves, and so expose themselves to the shell fire of the Boers.

Ireland is still an unwilling member of the British Empire. All sections of the party in Parliament took occasion on the first day of the session to bury their differences and unite for the annoyance of England in her war with the Boers by giving the latter all the aid and comfort they dare. For this purpose John Redmond was selected to offer an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech, declaring that the war in South Africa is unnecessary and unjust, and should be closed by a recognition of the South African Republic.

The British plan will now be to overcome the Boers by the slow and sure march of a resistless body of men, carrying artillery on a scale hitherto unattempted by anybody. It is whispered that an army nearly twice as large as that now in South Africa will be employed. The reverse at Stormberg and the checks at Colenso and Magersfontein have had a chilling effect upon all ranks. It may be three months before anything decisive is attempted.

The Colorado legislature is likely to pass a law regulating marriages. The bill places granting marriage licenses in the hands of a board of physicians in each county, which board is to have power to examine all applicants for marriage, and to refuse licenses to all who are judged mentally or physically unfit for the duties of married life. The proposed innovation is a startling one, and, as there are strong arguments both for and against it, the controversy that will follow its passage will be a heated one.

When the incorporated trusts lay the greedy hand of high prices upon farmers and other consumers, the rank and file should elect no lawmakers but such as will demand from these corporations such a tribute to the state's treasury as will pay the farmer's road, school and poor taxes out of the corporation revenues. It is the farmers who are hung upon corporation hooks to be skinned by trust prices, and beggared by unprofitable prices for their own products. There is a way of getting even with the trust sharks if honest men are chosen as lawmakers.

Perhaps the secretary of agriculture, John Hamilton, might keep in a paragraph in this line when he makes remarks on agriculture.

Secretary of Agriculture Hamilton, in his annual report says: "Pennsylvania, in area of improved farm land, stood, in 1889, tenth among the 45 States of the United States in the value of her lands, in fences and buildings she was fourth and in value of farm implements and machinery she was second. In the number of milk cows she was fifth, but in gallons of milk cows she was third, and in the pounds of butter she was second.

"She stood tenth in amount of wheat, eleventh in corn and oats, first in rye, fourth in hay, sixth in tobacco, seventh in potatoes, and ninth in apples. Taken altogether, the total value of her farm products placed her fifth among the States."

For five or six weeks previous to the shooting of Goebel the roughs of Kentucky's mountain moonshine district were known to be arming and making threats of bloodshed if Goebel should be declared governor, and traveled back and forth armed between Frankfort and the mountains. All this with the knowledge of "governor" Taylor discountenancing this rebellious manifestation. "Governor" Taylor is to blame for not squelching the moonshine mountaineers—but they were his friends.

In all this disgraceful trouble, be it remembered, the Democrats were law-abiding and peaceable. We cheerfully credit many Republicans with discountenancing the Taylor-Moonshine rebellion.

The population of the Transvaal in 1898 was reported at 246,000 whites and of the Orange Free State in 1890 at 77,700. If we would estimate the military power at one in eight we would have 40,000. According to the latest reports coming from Americans in the Transvaal, the republican army is made up of 40,000 Free State men and Transvaalers and about 10,000 Germans, Scotchmen, Irishmen and Americans, of the Outlanders and Transvaal who have thrown all their interests, commercial and political, with the Boers. It is probable that the Boer army may have been strengthened by 10,000 sympathizers from Cape Colony, Natal and other British colonies. This would give at the outside not more than 60,000 fighting men in the various Boer armies.

The European powers are making their war footing stronger—as one increases its land and naval forces, the other follow to match it. This leaves them about same as if the show of strength remained as now.

Russia opened the ball by appropriating nearly 90 million dollars for the building of new ships even while the delegates were gathering at The Hague to attend the Czar's Disarmament Conference. Great Britain almost immediately replied with a thumping addition to her naval budget. The German Bundesrath has recently sanctioned the Kaiser's program to double the number of battleships in the Imperial navy, and to build six large and seven smaller cruisers; and now the French Ministry has introduced various bills in the Chamber of Deputies to provide for the construction of six battleships, five armored cruisers, 29 destroyers, 112 torpedo boats and 26 submarine vessels, and to strengthen the coast defenses, make an invulnerable naval fortress of Bizerta, in Tunis, and establish independent cable communications between France and her colonies—the whole plan involving an outlay of $150,000,000. The Queen's speech from the throne at the opening of Parliament foreshadows additions to the British fleet sufficiently large to neutralize the proposed expansion navies, and in the end the Powers will be relatively in the same position as they were before, and half a billion or so out of pocket.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. THE WAR IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Great Britain may well be amazed at the extraordinary force required to fight the Boers in South Africa, says the Philadelphia Ledger. No less than 213,000 men and 452 guns have been gathered for the war, although the Boers are not supposed to number more than 90,000. Of these 213,000 men 10,000 have already been lost in battle and 10,000 more are locked up in Ladysmith. There are besides 12,000 absent, leaving 180,000 available for action. But a large force must be kept at Cape Town and other parts of Cape Colony to prevent an uprising of the Dutch, who greatly outnumber the British colony, so that from the present force not more than 100,000 can be put on the firing line. Winston Churchill, who had some experience with the Boers while he was their prisoner, verifies the Boer estimate that one Boer is equal to from three to five British soldiers when he is fighting on the defensive in his own country. If the Boers have 90,000 men all told they can probably put 75,000 on the firing line, and a force of 100,000 British is not strong enough to overcome them.

It is now reported that General Roberts has called for 90,000 more men, and that the Cabinet is about to send him 50,000 militia and volunteers and 40,000 militia reserves. This would raise the army in South Africa to nearly 300,000 men.

Snyder County's Balance.

The accounts of Snyder county have been audited. The report shows a net balance for the county of over $5,000. There are few counties in the state that can show a balance in favor of the county as Snyder county has.

THE MONUMENT FUND.

Superintendent Gramley's Address to the Teachers of Centre County.

To the TEACHERS OF CENTRE CO.: At the last annual session of the Teachers' Institute the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That in the furtherance of the proposed monument to be erected to the memory of the soldiers and sailors of Centre county, in the war of the Rebellion, with which a statue of the late Gov. A. G. Curtin is to be connected, we recommend the observance of a "Memorial Day" some time during the present term, the date to be fixed by the County Superintendent.

The object of this action is to acquaint the boys and girls with the patriotism of Gov. Curtin, and the active part he took in the cause of the public schools, and to teach them to honor and revere the memory of those who sacrificed their lives that we may enjoy our glorious heritage.

Gov. Pollock, recognizing the eminent qualifications of Hon. A. G. Curtin, appointed him Secretary of the Commonwealth, a position which he filled with signal honor and ability, and in addition to the duty of Secretary proper, he was, ex-officio, Superintendent of Public Schools. In this position he took special pride and labored zealously, and was instrumental in inaugurating great improvements in the common school system.

Centre county was the home of Hon. A. G. Curtin, "Pennsylvania's War Governor," who ranked with the ablest lawyers, greatest statesmen and most benevolent citizens of his time. His career as Governor was filled with acts of kindness and beneficence in behalf of the state, and he was ceaseless in his devotion to the interests and wants of those whom the state had given for national defense. The desolate hearth-stone and the moans of the bereaved excited his sympathy, and he devised a system of care and instruction for the orphan of the fallen slain which should make the state their guardian and supporter." This was possibly the crowning act of his life. "He was the soldiers' friend and made his orphans the children of the state." Of him it may be truly said, "One of the few immortal names that were not born to die."

February 21, 1900, is designated as "Parents' and Memorial Day," and it is hoped every school in the county will prepare appropriate exercises for the occasion, and make special efforts to secure the co-operation of parents, friends and veterans, thus giving to patrons the privilege to see the work done in the schools, and at the same time show honor and reverence to the soldiers and sailors who fell in battle.

To show our further appreciation of the heroes of the Civil War, it is suggested—yea urged—that a collection be taken, and may it be a liberal one. Contributions are to be forwarded to the undersigned, who will acknowledge the same through the county press, or through any channel designated by the Veteran Club Monument Committee. C. L. GRAMLEY, County Superintendent, Bellefonte, Pa., Jan. 30, 1900.

For the next two weeks Aikens', Bellefonte, will hold a grand Muslin Sale, giving the people an opportunity to secure splendid bargains in this line. Every article offered will be up to the standard. No shoddy, no trash.
