CENTRE HALL, PA., THURS. FEB. 22

ASSEMBLY.

We are authorized to announce that J. W. Kepler, of Ferguson township, will be a candidate for Assembly, subject to the decision of the Democratic County Convention.

The Senate has again made the Quay case sit aside on a rail—has other more important business.

In case of dire necessity the United States could put in the field in time of war a total force of 10,343,152 men.

The great world powers are the United States, Great Britain, Germany, Russia, and France, with Japan not far away.

The Democratic national convention will be held about the last week in May, and thus come in ahead of the Republican convention.

The Altoona Tribune, once a believer in woman suffrage has dropped that heresy and gone over to the side of all sensible men and women upon that subject. William, emperor of Germany, told a volume of truth when he made the remark that woman's sphere was, "Kochen, Kleider, und Kinder."

The smallest of republics, the Boers, have too much spunk and patriotism to knuckle under to the powerful British. But the great power, the Republic of the United States, President McKinley proposes shall yield to England control of the Nicaragua ship canal so that it shall be neutral.

Pottsville has a sensation in election frauds. There was a wholesale arrest of foreigners, a few days ago in an adjoining township, for illegal voting. It is charged that at the last election they voted on bogus naturalization papers. Nearly 100 men are implicated. O, ye saints, that howl about Kentucky, here, and in Philadelphia, there are infinitely greater frauds.

The Kansas Board of Directors of the State Penitentiary have decided to hereafter sell the entire output of binding twine of the Kansas Penitentiary direct to the farmers. Implement dealers in various parts of the State had offered to purchase the entire output, but it is said the prison officials feared the Binding Twine Trust was back of some of the dealers. There is now more than 75,000 pounds of twine at the prison warehouse.

The "World" finds in the story of the great Frick-Carnegie suit "one of the most pitiful and moving tales of the poverty of the protected industries that has ever reached the public eyes. Only a paltry $21,000,000 of profits last year, with a gloomy outlook for a miserable $42,000,000 this year! The Carnegie Steel Company ought to go into the shipping business and apply for bounties to supplement its tariff stipends."

It is an accepted fact, as per Washington advices, that the Hanna-Payne ship subsidy bill will be side-tracked until the next session of Congress, after the presidential election. And it may be the same with the Hay-English treaty, giving up American control of the ship canal. It is thought prudent that the issues involved in these two bills should not be shouldered by the Republican party just at this time. After the presidential election the short session of Congress may whirl them through, should the Subsidy and Trust party win and elect McKinley.

Most of the States of the Union provide methods for determining a contest for governor similar to the Kentucky method. There is an appeal from the decision of the State canvassers to the Legislature. In Pennsylvania this is the case. In Kentucky this method did not originate with the much-talked of Goebel law, but was incorporated in this law from an older statute, with this difference: that whereas the old law made the finding of the legislative committee final, the Goebel law requires that it must be confirmed by the Legislature. In this respect the Goebel law, bad as it is in other respects, is fairer than the old law.

Those Republican voters who are smarting under the skinning of the tariff protected trusts and howling for a law to stop the trusts and wondering how to get a law to abolish these man-eating sharks—those fellows, the Reporter has to say, can find the remedy they pretend to be sighing for, by simply going to the ballot boxes at their own homes and voting against the party of McKinley, Hanna & Co., who are the fathers of the trusts. Only thus can relief be had, as congress and legislatures are owned by the trusts.

See, how simple the remedy!

H. C. Frick's expose of the enormous profits of the Carnegie Steel Company, contained in his bill of equity, against Carnegie, stuns the manufacturers and business men of Pittsburgh and the world.

It has always been known that the company was a big money maker, but no one, except those in the concern, thought that the profits for this year would be $40,000,000. This is over $12,000 clear profits for every working day. Many manufacturers did not believe Mr. Frick's allegations, but persons connected with the Carnegie Company said that Frick had not figured high enough. For instance, he stated that in 1899 the company made a profit of $21,000,000. During the past year the company made and paid for improvements that cost several millions of dollars. These improvements were not counted in the earnings, and it is claimed, the profits for 1899 were nearer $25,000,000.

The Kentucky situation is still one with two state governments. On Tuesday speaker Trimble, Dem., at the session of the house in the morning, announced that there would be a joint session of the general assembly in the afternoon at 3 o'clock to consider the reports from the committees on the governor and lieutenant governor's contest, and the former action in reference thereto.

The house adopted the Allen resolution passed by the senate on Monday, ratifying the former proceedings by which Goebel and Beckham were declared in office. The Republicans refused to vote on the original call, hoping to break a quorum, but seeing that it had carried, went on record.

The Democratic senate at 11:55 took a recess until 2 o'clock and at noon the Republican senate, presided over by Lieut. Gov. Marshall, convened, but only remained in session five minutes.

An Act That Should Be Understood by Commissioners.

The Cambria county commissioners under the law of 1844, recently sold several hundred acres of land upon which taxes had been unpaid, and issued title deeds to the properties all in due form. But now the officials are studying an act of assembly of 1891, which requires that before county commissioners may make sale of "lands which they may in any manner become possessed of," they shall first present their petition to the court asking leave to do so, and the court shall fix a day for a hearing, etc. These requirements were not complied with and attorneys now contend that for this reason the sales are illegal and void. As the matter stands, there are many people in Cambria county who do not know whether they own their land or not, and it will take a deal of litigation to determine the question. And the commissioners have come to realize that there are too many laws at variance or that interfere one with the other.

Life of Dwight L. Moody.

Not less than four different Publishing Houses claim to have in preparation "the only authorized edition of the Life of Dwight L. Moody." Many of the readers of the REPORTER desire to know the truth, which you can safely tell them.

There is only one, authorized by Mr. Moody's family, under the supervision of his son, Mr. W. R. Moody and Mr. Ira D. Sankey, Fleming H. Revell Company, of New York, will soon issue this only authorized Life of the great Evangelist. All the profits derived by the authors from the sale of this book will be given to the Endowment Fund for the continuance of Mr. Moody's life work. Price of the book varies with the style of binding. The cheapest edition, $2.00, gives contents with illustrations complete.

I have been requested to receive orders from any who desire this valuable book.

Readable Clippings.

A late item of news from Manila states that when the Americans first occupied Manila there were but three or four saloons in the city. Now there are 300 or 400. No better evidence could be offered of the invasion of the Philippines by civilization, for it is a historical fact that civilization and the saloon have invaded savage domains together. Not everyone, however, will regard the fact as creditable to civilization.

Do not emulate the turkey gobbler lest you be laughed at for your strutting and gobbler-like tongue work, to the disgust of all sensible people.

The United States steamer Nero, during its recent survey for a transpacific cable, broke the record for deep sea soundings. One sounding near Guam Island marked 5269 fathoms, only a trifle short of six statute miles.

Sauerkraut a Tonic.

A physician in Norristown, Pa., prescribes sauerkraut, with excellent results. He claims that the fermentation in the sauerkraut, which is the same as that which takes place in wine, gives just such strengthening and tonic qualities to this juicy food as wine has, only, whereas the tonic effect of wine is but temporary, that of sauerkraut—a solid substance, that is digested and completely absorbed by the system—is permanent.

The Biblical Millennium and Union of Denominations.

I have been verily delighted reading in what we call "secular" newspapers, reports of the discussion concerning the "Biblical Millennium," and Union of Christian Denominations. It is especially "pleasant" because the discussion seems to be conducted in a Christian spirit. If it were otherwise I should have no word to express on the subject. The free and tolerant discussion of such subjects in the papers will always provide a public and everlasting benefit.

As to the Biblical Millennium we know just enough to charitably differ; just enough to secure what God has wisely ordered for us to "Watch" and "Be ye also ready."

The "Post" and the "Pre" in the Millennium will never appear until the good time coming is here. Perhaps the same may be said of the mode of baptism.

Christians everywhere combine to differ in their belief and practice on that subject, leaving room for charity but never for unchristian controversy. Certain it is, we have never seen more "charity" manifest among Christians on that subject than there is today.

In regard to the union of Christian denominations I sincerely hope that our wise Doctors of Divinity will continue to preach and write about it and never think of ceasing to do this good and needful Gospel service. In his last prayer for believers Christ prayed in three petitions "That they all may be one."

The great Apostle exhorts all Christians to attain unto "unity" and "love which is the bond of perfectness."

As a Presbyterian, I fully believe that the six or more separate denominations of Presbyterianism should unite and form one Presbyterian family in the church.

I believe, also, that the seven or more separate Methodist denominations, and a similar number of the Baptist divisions, should do likewise. For obvious reasons, there are too many churches of these divided flocks. For more than fifty years I have never yet met a prominent business man who did not agree with me on this point. Mankind set apart in separate families is Scriptural, but certain separations without cause in the same family is not Scriptural. In Canada five separate Methodist denominations, the M. E., P. E., B. C., W. M. and P. M. have united under one name, "The Methodist." The same wise course has been taken in Australia. Under His Divine guidance "Jesus Christ the Head over all things to the church," the one church of the future will formulate in His time and in His way.

We should pray, speak and write freely concerning it, for Christ would never have prayed that prayer if it were not to be answered and realized "That they all may be one."

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences.
