Hummel to Swing, June 5.

Hummel, the quadruple murderer, will be hung at Williamsport, June 5. When informed he almost broke down and tears came to his eyes, his limbs shook and in a trembling voice he said: "I guess it's all up with me now—that's the way it looks."

He soon recovered his composure, however, and lighting a cigar began pacing to and fro in his cell. Hummel requested that no visitors be permitted to see him.

Hummel was taken into the Williamsport jail, and selected the spot where wished the gallows erected, and remarked he wanted to be hanged where people could not laugh at him.

SCALDED TO DEATH.

The Little Three-year-old Son of Samuel Gross is Fatally Injured.

A sad accident occurred at the home of Samuel Gross, last Saturday morning, when Paul McKinley, his son, aged nearly three years, was so severely scalded by falling in a bucket of hot water, that death resulted on Monday morning.

Mr. Gross occupies the house with his father-in-law, Jerry Stump, on Church street. On Saturday morning Mr. Stump's daughter, Miss Mary, got a bucket of boiling hot water to do some cleaning up about the house. She placed the bucket on the floor of the kitchen. The little boy was playing about the kitchen and in some way fell backward into the bucket of hot water. The bucket was upset and the hot water struck the little fellow on the back, terribly scalding him from the shoulders to the hips. The child suffered terrible agony, and everything possible was done to alleviate his sufferings. He went into convulsions several times, until Monday morning when death resulted. When the little fellow's clothing was removed from his body the skin peeled off on places on his back. The flesh on his back was parboiled and came off in patches as large as one's hand.

When the little fellow fell into the scalding water his screams were heard by his grandmother, Mrs. Jerry Stump who ran to his assistance. She slipped and fell on the wet kitchen floor and received a severe sprain by the fall.

The funeral of Paul was held on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was made in the Centre Hall cemetery.

Hearing on Friday.

The hearing in the suit brought by the Bible sisters against the boro of Centre Hall to compel payment of the annual water lease, will be held on Friday before Justice J. M. Keichline, at Bellefonte. The decision of the Justice will likely be appealed to the court for a final judgment of that body, and the hearing is only a preliminary gun in the legal battle to follow. The Bibles have employed good attorneys and they will compel the boro to pay according to contract or there will be very good reason for not doing so. We can only hope that the council will not have to pay another $600 attorney fee bill on this case.

A Fine Lot of Animals.

Mr. Bree, the horse dealer, on Thursday last expressed a carload of horses to New York, from this station. A number of these horses were bought up by Hiram Durst, of which one weighed 1785 pound and was bought of Wm. Vonada, of Gregg, for $195. The horses were shipped by express in a palace horse car to Jersey City. The most of them will be shipped at once to Liverpool, England, with a probability of going thence to South Africa, to be used in the Boer war. There is an enormous demand for horses and mules, and the prices will go skyward.

They Were Biting Fast.

In spite of the hard luck tales exploited by our nimrods who were out whipping the streams on Monday, James Gregg and Frank Bradford came home with a fish story that is somewhat out of the ordinary incidents in connection with that sport. They were fishing one of the Seven mountain streams and struck a pool which seemed to have side boards on it to hold all the trout. Jim made a cast and so hungry were the trout that two of them struck the bait and Jim landed both, and the strangest part of the tale is that neither fish was hooked, both having fastened on the bait and preferred landing in the basket rather than let the other have the worm. Frank's story varies somewhat. He caught two trout at one time and had but one hook on his line. The trout were biting fast, one caught the hook, which passed through the mouth of the trout and made connection with another trout through the gills. Both fish were pulled out of the stream dangling from one hook, and safely landed. For the day's sport they got about forty fish each.

Wreck Victims Buried.

The three victims who were killed in the wreck on the Snow Shoe railroad by the engine going down a bank, were buried on Sunday. Calvin Temple was buried at Milesburg; Allen Beamer, engine hostler was buried near his home at Dix Station near Tyrone; and Harry Temple, the fireman was buried at Snow Shoe. The wreck was caused by a broken rail. The three men were buried under the engine which left the rails and rolled down the bank into a swamp, crushing the three men instantly to death. The wrecking crew from Tyrone were nearly twenty hours in placing the engine back on the rails, and the bodies of the men were not recovered for several hours.

A Chance for Farmers and Horsemen.

Pfaltzgraf & Bubb's sale of a car load of western horses at Runkle's hotel, Centre Hall, on Wednesday next, 25th, will be an opportunity for our farmers and horsemen to secure a fine animal at a nominal figure. These horses were selected with great care to meet the needs of this section, and come from the best stock farms in the west. The car load will arrive here several days before the sale and they can be inspected at the hotel stables. A catalogue with full description of all the horses will be published in a few days. Watch for it.

A physician was sent for who gave the necessary attention.

SPECIAL EASTER SERVICES.

Fitting Exercises in Our Churches Last Sunday.

Easter was fittingly observed in several of our town churches last Sunday with beautiful services, specially prepared for the occasion. The weather was mild and warm, and there was a liberal attendance.

In the Lutheran church a special program was rendered the author of which was the Rev. W. E. Fischer, former pastor of the Centre Hall charge but now stationed at Shamokin, Pa. within the pulpit railing there was a profusion of palms, flowers and potted plants tastily arranged. The music rendered was entirely the work of Rev. Fischer and it was well performed. The program was rendered by the Sunday school with Supt. E. M. Hupett in charge. The service was interspersed with recitations and select readings by Grace Boob, Emma Wolf, Nellie Kerlin and Marion Miller. Rev. Rearick delivered a brief address during the service. It was an excellent program and the Sunday school rendered it finely.

The Sunday school of the Reformed church rendered a beautiful Easter service in the evening to a large audience. The program consisted of responsive reading, by the different classes, the primary department rendering their part in a distinct and beautiful manner. The music was of a high order and well rendered by the school. A male quartette added to the interest of the service and a most pleasing feature was an infant solo, by Isabelle Rowe; Miss Katie Keller also sang a beautiful solo. A very appropriate and interesting address was delivered by their able pastor, Rev. Kerschner. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms and blooming plants artistically arranged.

Penna Valley Peaches Frosted.

Weeks ago the Reporter mentioned the fact of the peach buds being damaged in the orchards of this valley. This is confirmed by Mr. George Kiester, of Aaronsburg, who is interested in the most extensive peach culture in this county. Mr. Kiester informs us that upon examination lately made, he finds that three-fourths of the peach buds among his thousands of trees, are killed, and that in other orchards he finds the damage to the same extent. Some varieties of the fruit stood the cold better than others.

Dr. Schuyler Accepts.

At the meeting of Presbytery held at Lewistown, on 12, at his own request Rev. Dr. Schuyler was released from the churches at Schellsburg and Mann's Choice, and the call from the churches of Centre Hall and Spring Mills was placed in his hands and by him accepted.

Dr. Schuyler is expected to be at Centre Hall about the first week in May. Installation services at Centre Hall and Spring Mills, on Sunday, May, 22.

'So So.'

Trout fishing opened on Monday, and a goodly number of anglers were out "hooking." No one strained his arms carrying home his catch. If you asked a fisherman, What luck, the answer came, "Oh, so so." If you inquired of another whether he caught any big ones, the answer was, "Oh, so so; a couple of big ones got away for me." All know the meaning of "so so."

Feast of the Passover.

Pesach, or passover, one of the most important holidays in the Hebrew calendar began at sunset on Monday. The festival continues for eight days and commemorates the deliverance of the Children of Israel from Egyptian bondage and their departure from the land of their slavery under the leadership of Moses. The word Pesach signifies the passing over by the Almighty of the houses of the Israelites when the first born of Egypt were destroyed.

Planted Trees.

This week nearly two hundred trees were planted in Grange Park by the grangers, which will give the hoped for shade in a few years. The trees are of the Norway and sugar maple varieties. They were planted about the auditorium and headquarters. It is the purpose to increase the planting each year, and cover the park with shade trees.
