Pleasant Gap.—Singular Case.

The venerable John Furey, aged 87 years, ill all winter, seems to have won a new lease of life, being able to go about out doors again, which his numerous friends will be glad to learn.

A singular case of unconsciousness is related to us by Dr. Emerick. A 15-year old daughter of Mr. Curry, of Pleasant Gap, on Monday morning, 30 suddenly dropped over unconscious, and remained in that condition until Saturday morning following, when she suddenly regained consciousness, having been utterly oblivious to what was going on—a blank leaf in her life. After coming to, the young lady was as well as ever in all respects. The doctor is of the opinion that the trouble was caused by extreme over-exertion, when, day previous, Sunday, she, with others, ascended the steep mountain near the Gap, to view the fire.

Hot Fishing.

One day last week a Lewisburg fisherman drove to a mountain stream to fish. Fastening his horse to a convenient place, and had used his rod and line but a very brief time when he discovered he was being surrounded by fire. He lost no time in mounting his rig, galloped off, and by little spaces dashing through fire.

We learn of two other fishermen getting into a similar hot fix and coming near having their trout fried.

To Protect Game and Fish.

Judges in different counties in the state have been instructing constables in regard to the enforcement of the law for the protection of game and fish. This is as it should be. The state spends large sums to stock the streams with fish, and the laws passed for their protection should be enforced without fear, favor or affection.

Wants Big Damages.

Miss Annie Walker, whose home is near Snow Shoe, this county; has brought a $10,000 breach of promise suit against Arthur Scarborough, of Jersey Shore, who has just returned from the tour celebrating his marriage to Miss Edith Sonn, of Hazleton.

DEATH OF AN AGED LADY.

Mrs. John W. Scholl Died Thursday Night after a Long Illness.

Mrs. Scholl, widow of John W. Scholl, late of Miles township, this county, died at the residence of Dr. G. W. Hosterman on last Thursday evening. The immediate cause of her death was dropsy, from which she suffered for four weeks.

Mrs. Scholl was almost eighty-two years of age, having been born near Spring Bank, Miles township, in 1818. She was the daughter of Daniel Rishell and wife. In 1838 she was married to John W. Scholl, who at the time of his death seven years ago was a well-known man in lower Miles township. The early part of their married life was spent in Sugar valley, but later they removed to Brush valley, near Wolfe's Store, where they continued farming for many years.

About ten years ago Mrs. Scholl then an old lady, experienced a very serious fall which permanently injured her hip, making it very difficult for her to walk, and as a result she was confined to her room most of the time.

The past two years of her life were spent in this town with her daughter, the only surviving child, Mrs. G. W. Hosterman. Henry Rishell, of Rebersburg, and Peter Rishell, of Shamokin, are surviving brothers, and Mrs. Samuel Faust, of Spring Bank, is the only surviving sister.

The funeral was held Saturday forenoon, Rev. G. W. Kershner, of the Reformed church officiating. Interment was made in the Centre Hall cemetery.

Hairbreadth Escape.

Last Friday one of the hands at Snook's stove mill 1 1/2 miles north west of this place, made a narrow escape from being perhaps fatally hurt. He was caught by a belt and in less than a minute every stitch of clothing was torn from his body, except shoes and stockings. Being a man of strong build, he was able to brace himself to avoid being wound up by the shaft which was making 150 revolutions per minute. A deep skin scratch from one of his arms down his side to near the hip, not serious, was the only injury sustained. When the belt had finished the job of undressing the man, of course he dropped off. After a few days he was able to go to work again.

The man's name was Fred Treaster, and comes from near Zieglerville.

Chewed by a Vicious Hog.

At Jersey Shore Thursday, Charles, the two-year-old son of L. A. Stonebraker, followed his mother to the rear of the lot, where several hogs were kept. The child reached in through the slats to pat the pigs. One vicious hog grabbed the child's hand between its jaws and began chewing it. The boy's screams hurried the mother to the pen. She was compelled to beat the hog before it would release the child's hand. The little fellows hand and wrist were frightfully lacerated. The wounds were cauterized by a physician.

On Monday Luse's planing mill at the station had a narrow escape from destruction by fire. A spark from the boiler stack lodged on the roof and started an incipient blaze. The fire burned a hole through the roof and sparks dropped through the roof to the floor below. The hands were running the planer and the fire was right overhead, and was at once discovered. A stream was put on the blaze from a small hose, and it was extinguished. A hole about two feet in diameter was burned in the roof.

Died After a Long Illness.

The wife of Mr. Andrew Smith died near Salona, at three o'clock, on Saturday morning, after a long illness from a complication of diseases. For many years the family resided in Salona, but this spring Mr. Smith moved on to the Martin W. Herr farm. Mrs. Smith's maiden name was Jamison, and she is survived by her husband and several children. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning. Interment was made in the cemetery at Farmers Mills.

The report of Dr. Pierson, state veterinarian, submitted, says: For the year ending May 31, the board was allowed $40,000 for meeting expenses in its work of combatting diseases of animals. Of this sum $26,992.98 was paid to farmers for the tubercular cattle; $233.50 for glandered horses and mules; $5,692.03 in tests, and inspection of herds made at the owners' request, for purpose of suppressing tuberculosis; $2,906 for inspection, vaccination, etc., in relation to other diseases.

The Fires Out.—Great Damage Done.

Friday afternoon Providence sent a light shower, only .07 inch, which served to extinguish the forest fires in Centre county, which had now held sway for fully two weeks, in spite of the efforts to put out the flames by scores of squads of men in all sections. We think it is no overestimate to put the number of acres burned over in this county, at fifty to seventy five thousand acres. Averaging the harm done, to new growth and standing timber, at $5 per acre, and we have a loss sustained in our county of no less than a quarter million of dollars, from flames running riot in our forests for two weeks! Estimate the loss in fifty years past, not one year having escaped these fires both in the spring and fall. The damage runs high in millions.

Saturday morning last, for the first time in two weeks, a clear and smokeless sky greeted us. Providence with an 1-8 inch of rain, inside of an hour, did what a little army of rugged fire-fighters failed to accomplish in two weeks of the most strenuous effort.

Fires on the mountains a few miles east of here broke out again Sunday and Monday, as also in other parts; no doubt from stumps and dead timbers which remained on fire in spite of the rain Friday afternoon.

Nittany mountain east of Centre Hall, burned furiously for several days until Tuesday afternoon when the thunder shower extinguished the fire. The fire started below the Cave and burned steadily westward to within a mile of the town, when it stopped. The fire started over near Hecla and burned clear over the mountain.

Commissions for Many Justices.

About 1,100 commissions have been issued from the state department at Harrisburg to justices of the peace chosen at the last February election. The total number of those officials in Pennsylvania is more than 5,000. Justices of the peace are required to notify the prothonotary of their election within thirty days, but many of them neglect to familiarize themselves with the law, and thus forfeit their right to commissions. The consequence is that many have themselves appointed by the governor, who has the power to select and issue commissions to them until the following February election.

Will Burn Anthracite Coal.

Owing to the demand for coke for the various industrial purposes, the large iron furnaces at Bellefonte, will use anthracite coal in the furnace hereafter. This is something new for the furnaces to buy that kind of fuel. A great many of the large furnaces in the eastern part of the state use this kind of fuel for smelting the ores entirely. Coke and bituminous coal are exceedingly scarce at times.

Important Legal Decision.

In the Juniata county court last week, a case of the owner of a farm against her tenant was on trial. The prosecutrix depended on the written lease, signed by the tenant, to prove her case. The point was raised by the defendant's attorney that the lease not being stamped according to the act of Congress, it was not a legal lease and therefore should not be admitted in evidence. The court sustained the objection and the prosecutrix lost her case.

Short Bay, Quick Burn.

Some two weeks ago Esq. Reifsnyder, of Millheim, sold a 300 acre timber tract to H. B. Herring, of Pennhall who next day sent out a man to clean up a spot for erecting a shanty thereon. A little fire that had been kindled accidentally furnished a spark to combustible material a few rods away and soon there was a blaze that spread over Herring's newly purchased tract.

C., May 22-24, the Pennsylvania Railroad will sell tickets to the general public, from all stations on its line, to Washington and return, at rate of one fare for the round trip. Sudden Death.

Mrs. Jonathan Royer died very suddenly on Monday morning, at her home at Zion, from a stroke of paralysis. She had been in excellent health until this sudden affliction. She was aged about 58 years, and is survived by her husband, one son and one daughter. Her remains will be interred in the Zion cemetery Thursday morning.

Will Enforce the "Curfew Ordinance."

Huntingdon's council and burgess have decided to rigidly enforce their "curfew ordinance," and the electric light works whistle will blow a signal at nine o'clock in summer and eight o'clock in winter, after which all persons under sixteen found on the streets and alleys will be arrested.

A Better Average for Us.

In the United States there is one church for every 337 people. Boston has one for every 1,000, Minneapolis one for every 1,054. Centre Hall can beat them all, it having one church every 125 people. Every Sunday 24 million people attend church in the United States.

DOGS MUST WEAR MUZZLES.

The Burgess Issues Such Edict Because of a Mad Dog Scare.

Considerable consternation was caused in town on Tuesday over a mad dog scare, and the posting of notices over Burgess Riter's name on a resolution by the town council, placing all four-legged canines under a quarantine for an indefinite period.

The proclamation requires all dogs running at large in the borough to wear a muzzle, and the notice cites that any found at large without a muzzle will be seized, and held for eight days, and if the owner does not pay all fines and costs, shall be sent to dog heaven in a humane manner, viz., by being shot.

And all this trouble and official proclamation was caused on Sunday, when a dog supposed to have the rabies, was seen by some one making fast tracks down through town, and acting very strangely. Just who saw the incident cannot be learned, and all profess ignorance when approached. Nevertheless Dr. Riter, the burgess, was notified and he believes in prompt and heroic measures in such cases to protect the public health.

The excitement as we have been able to learn, was caused by some boys who wanted some fun on Sunday. A dog was caught and a liberal application of turpentine was applied to a spot where it would cause the canine the greatest inconvenience for the quantity used. All dogs usually go wild for the time when similarly treated and this one was no exception to the rule.

There are no rabies in the town, and as the facts become known, there is a smile of amusement over the excitement created.

Shipped Another Car of Horses.

Nearby & Detwiler shipped a car load of horses from this station by freight last Friday morning. The horses were billed through to Philadelphia where they will be offered in that market. The load was bought in this vicinity, and were ferreted out by D. J. Meyer. One of the horses shipped on the car met with an accident at Pardee. It's leg was broken in two places by breaking through the floor of the car. The horse was killed. This makes the third car load shipped from this station to eastern markets. Five car loads have been brought from the west and sold here, and there are several sales in contemplation during the next few weeks.

The New Kettle Lumber Operation.

The big Kettle lumber operation by Reichley Bro's is progressing towards commencement of operations. The preliminaries, for tramroad, camps, mills, etc., are under planning. The firm now has two stations in view for reaching a shipping station, one being Centrehall, which is preferred and will be adopted if right-of-way privileges are not set at too high a price. The other point is Paddy Mountain, which they can reach by connecting with the Gotsball tramroad below Pat Garrity's which extends through Poe valley to Paddy Mountain west-side. The distance of laying the new tramroad is about the same to the connection below Garrity's as it is to Centrehall.

Death of Mrs. Koch from Burns.

Mrs. Koch, wife of Frank Koch, on Wednesday of last week was out in the yard burning rubbish near Bellefonte. In some way her dress caught fire, and in a minute's time all the clothing was burned from the woman's body and she fell insensible to the ground. She died next morning after great suffering. Her maiden name was Bertha Rice. She leaves two small children. Her husband is a soldier in the regular army now in service in the Philippines.

Improving His House.

Landlord Wm. H. Runkle, our genial boniface, has been engaged the past week in improving the office and bar room of his house. The room has been repainted and otherwise greatly improved. He will add a new bar and fixtures, with an equipment of pumps, refrigerator, and other up-to-date apparatus. Although in a somewhat dismantled condition, "Billy" is making his guests as comfortable as possible.

Rabbit Rearing.

Dr. Alexander brought with him from California five specimens of the Belgian hare, which he will acclimate and introduce in these climes. The rabbits are blooded stock and are considered a finer breed than the grade we have in this locality, and grow to be considerable larger and heavier. The rabbits brought by the Dr. are from a stock which sold some weeks ago for $800 in California.

The Sick.

George Flory is mending some. Wm. Colyer is able to knock around. The venerable Wm. Emerick is unexpectedly improving. A. S. Kerlin, we're pleased to note, is gaining strength these spring days. The aged widow of John Rishell remains critically ill.

—The best flour in the world is the Pillsbury flour. It is kept always on hand by John S. Auman, at his mill, Centre Hall. There is none better than this brand. Give it a trial.
