

It Was Only $7.50

For Ten, Twelve and Fifteen Dollar Men's Suits that made our store such a busy place.

A Very Few of Them Left.

Centre County people know when we say we are selling Ten, Twelve and Fifteen Dollar Suits for $7.50, that we are doing that very thing, and they are not a bit slow at taking advantage of so big a reduction. Only a very few left.

.....THIS WEEK WILL END THEM.....

M. FAUBLE & SON,

The Largest Clothing and Gents' Furnishing Goods Establishment in Central Penna.
 Brockerhoff House Block, BELLEFONTE.

A Card of Thanks.

I wish to say that I feel under lasting obligations for what Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has done for our family. We have used it in so many cases of coughs, lung troubles and whooping cough, and it has always given the most perfect satisfaction, we feel greatly indebted to the manufacturers of this remedy and wish them to please accept our hearty thanks.—Respectfully, Mrs. S. Doty, Des Moines, Iowa. For sale by J. H. Ross, Linden Hall; S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; H. F. Rosman, Spring Mills; J. F. Smith, Centre Hall.

MILLHEIM.

The Body of M. M. Harbach Brought to this Place for Burial.

Charles Wolf shipped another load of cattle to the eastern markets on Wednesday morning.

B. B. Wilson, the Creamery man at this place, went to Bellefonte on Tuesday, and attended the convention.

The school directors had their annual settlement in the school house on Monday. They left a snug balance to their credit.

W. F. Smith, W. D. Zerby, J. F. Rishel and D. B. Geary attended the County Convention on Tuesday, as delegates from Penn township.

The festival on Saturday evening, held by the members of the band, was well patronized, despite the inclement weather. They realized about $60.00.

Mr. Reigle who has been employed in Pittsburg for the last few months, and who came on a visit about two weeks ago, again returned to the former place on Monday.

Mr. James Burd has his bakery located on W. R. R. street in full blast, and is turning out fresh bread, cakes, etc. daily. He has a wagon on the road, and delivers his goods to the near by towns.

W. J. Rote and Frank Wingard who have been employed by a walnut firm in the state of New Jersey, came home one day last week to remain a short time. Mr. Rote has about completed the wall for his new house on Main street near the bridge, and will then push the erection of the superstructure. Now girls, here is a chance.

The dead body of M. M. Harbach, of this place, but who for the last year or more had been employed by a lumber firm in Clearfield, as a shingle sawyer, was brought to this place early Sunday morning from Bellefonte, whither it had been sent by railroad, from Clearfield, and after it had been viewed by the friends and a few neighbors, was immediately taken to the Paradise cemetery and buried.

The funeral services were not held until two o'clock in the afternoon. The cause of Mr. Harbach's death is shrouded in mystery. The Philadelphia Record of June 2, has the following account of the affair:

Clearfield, Pa., June 1.—The authorities here are working on what looks like a murder case. While walking along the river bank below town this afternoon, James Condon found the body of a man, who was identified as Maxton Harbach, a shingle sawyer, employed seven miles north of here. He was in Clearfield Wednesday, and had considerable money on his person. The face is much discolored, and there are cuts and bruises about the head. Near where the body was found are the railroad yards, a great resort for tramps.

very much discolored, bruises on the head could distinctly be seen, and the supposition is that he was the victim of thugs, and came to his untimely death by some foul means. He was aged 48 years and 25 days, and leaves a wife and two step-daughters to mourn his loss. The entire community was shocked upon hearing the news of his unexpected and violent death, and his family have the sympathy of the entire surrounding community.

SPRING MILLS.

Memorial Day Services Were Interesting and Imposing.

All our merchants report a very satisfactory business during May. Commercial agents passing through here report business rather quiet along the line.

O. T. Corman, the active merchant and extensive produce dealer, was on the sick list last week, but is again able to attend to his large and increasing business.

Major William Waller and family, and Samuel Wagner, all of Ickesburg, Pa., are here on a visit. They are the guests of that prince of hospitality Jas. N. Leitzel.

On Wednesday evening last a number of young ladies of our village, tendered a reception to the students attending the Academy here, which proved a very brilliant and enjoyable occasion. The refreshments were very elaborate, very choice and served in an elegant and inviting manner. Conversation, mirth, and repartee ruled the evening. At a seasonable hour all retired to their respective places of abode, having been delightfully and agreeably entertained. The students and visitors were fully assured that they are all thrice welcomed to Spring Mills.

The ceremony here on Memorial Day was the most imposing and interesting of any similar celebration we have ever had in our village. Flags, streamers and the national colors were displayed everywhere. The program and entire arrangements for celebrating the day was in charge of the Sons of Veterans and admirably did they discharge the duty. The parade was quite lengthy and presented a fine appearance. Preceded by a drum corps of seven pieces, followed by the Sons of Veterans, our war worn veterans, K. of the G. E. and Sunday school children, all bearing in their hands bouquets of flowers. On arriving at the cemetery, the Sons of Veterans opened ranks and the parade passed through and entered the grounds. Directly in front of the cemetery the Presbyterian church is located, the portico of which was very elaborately decorated with flags, the national colors and thronged with the speakers and visitors, presenting a very pretty scene. Numerous recitations, and dialogues by children, excellent singing and music by a select choir followed in quick succession, after which Col. Reeder delivered a very able and appropriate address. Decoration was next in order. The delivery of a poem entitled "Cover them over with beautiful flowers," by Miss Kate Shires, was quite pathetic, and rendered in a very feeling manner. B. F. Kennelley also delivered a very beautiful tribute to the unknown dead, followed by decorating the graves. During the day our old veterans visited four cemeteries. The following are the names of the dead heroes buried in the respective localities: Spring Mills cemetery, John and J. F. Van Valsah, Thomas Richardson, John Hoke, Jno. Spiro, B. F. Coates and Thomas Duncan. Georges valley, James Breen, Martin Grove, Daniel Condo, William Collins and Stephen Kennelley—a tombstone is erected here to this old warrior, but his burial is unknown. Union cemetery, John David and Wm. Raymond, Tasker Koch, Geo. Shultz, and John Duinke. Green Grove, David Greninger and George Ream. At all of these cemeteries the ceremony was largely attended, and every one seemed highly interested in the proceedings.

BOALSBURG.

The Auditors Examined the Accounts of the School Board.

Mrs. Glenn, wife of Dr. Glenn, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Woods.

Miss Gertrude Wieland's school closed last week. Prof. Hower closes his school this week.

Mr. Hower, of Turbotville, brother of Principal Hower, spent Sunday at Boalsburg with his brother.

The new school board was sworn in and organized: Peter Ishler, president; Jacob Meyer, treasurer, and "Buz" Tressler, secretary.

Mr. Samuel Woods, who graduated from the Jefferson Medical College recently, will take the examination before the State Medical Board on the 26th inst.

The I. O. O. F. festival was a success. The order cleared about $150.00. Our town has never in recent years been so packed with people as on Decoration day.

The auditors examined the accounts of the school board on Monday, and found a small surplus—$46.66. The Board appointed Hon. W. A. Murray to fill the unexpired term of Mr. John From. The selection was a very good one and highly satisfactory to the taxpayers of the township.

Recent Union County Deaths.

Millmont, suddenly, Jonas T. Miller, aged 70 years.

Kansas, widow of Isaac Nieman, formerly of New Berlin, age 79 years.

TUSSEYVILLE.

A Letter of Interest as Given by Our Correspondent.

Quite a number of our people attended the Children's service at Spruce town on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Br mgard, of Aaronsburg, visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Wert, on Sunday.

Mr. James Wagner, of Coburn, was home on a visit to his parents the beginning of this week.

Mrs. Arthur Kerlin and son William, of Centre Hall, spent Sunday with relatives in our community.

Miss Ray Fleisher who has been in Baltimore the past two years, is spending the summer with her grandparents.

The Children's service in the United Evangelical church on Sunday evening was largely attended. The services were very good.
