

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

CENTRE HALL, PA., Thurs., Aug. 2.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

John Houser, of near Pleasant Gap, called to advance the subscription of Wm. M. Houser.

Mrs. J. A. Gramley, of Millinburg, recently visited her aunt, Mrs. Israel Wolf at Madisonburg.

Miss Mary Wilson, of Howard, returned home from a visit to her brother, T. G. Wilson, of this place.

Miss Alice Hazlett, of Williamsport, is spending her usual summer vacation with Miss Grace Smith in this place.

Mrs. B. D. Brisbin left on Saturday for the sea shore, and will stop at the states capital and Philadelphia before returning.

Daniel Geary, of Millheim, was the guest of his brother Samuel and family at Millinburg recently, going to Lewisburg later.

Charles Bitner, of Potters Mills, together with two young lads of the same place, watched the Reporter force pick type on Friday.

Miss Roper and Mrs. Barnhart, of Lewistown, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Crotzler; also Samuel Crotzler, of Siglerville.

M. B. Duck, of Spring Mills, was one of the pleasant callers at this office this week to say that he wanted to continue the Reporter.

J. Frank McCoy, merchant of Potters Mills, with his friend Wilbur Harris of Philadelphia who is visiting him was in town Monday.

Frank Emerick, of Penn Hall, was in town Monday. He is a son of Henry Emerick, of this place, and an active, energetic young man.

W. A. Sandoe, Miss Anna Lohr and Joseph Lutz assisted Mr. Blackford to serve his customers at his Bellefonte restaurant during the centennial.

P. Smith, of Centre Hill, who is one of the administrators of the large estate of Dr. Charles Smith, of Lamar, Clinton county, was a caller Saturday.

Rev. M. S. Derstine, of East Waterford, Juniata county, formerly of this place, filled appointments in the Methodist and Evangelical churches Sunday.

Mrs. R. H. Robinson was elected principal of Milton High schools. That is rather a new department but may work all right. She is a woman of admitted qualifications.

'Squire Rishel, of Farmers Mills, a veteran Democrat and all round man, left a few news items of general interest at the Reporter office. Always glad to have the readers drop in and give the news.

Andrew Corman, the cider press man, of Spring Mills, called to wish the Reporter success. Mr. Corman will make announcements later on what days his press will be run.

County Superintendent Prof. C. L. Gramley enjoyed the races on Thursday in company with his daughter. Instead of occupying reserved (?) seats on the adjoining hill, he patronized the grand stand.

Thomas L. Moore had business at this office Monday. He will begin his fifth year of public school work at Pine Stump this fall. He holds a professional certificate and bids fair to become one of the foremost teachers of the county.

The pleasure Mrs. Samuel Durst had on Thursday attending the centennial was rudely counterbalanced when leaving the cars on her arrival at Centre Hall station. In the darkness she made a misstep causing her to fall and sprain her wrist quite severely.

O. C. Walker, son of Thomas Walker, of Rebersburg, who has been connected with the Lackawana Lumber company at Cross Fork, Pa., for some time, has accepted a position with a branch office of the Standard Oil company at Oil City and has moved to that place.

John VanPelt returned to Hastings after spending some time at his old home in Centre Hall. John holds an important position with Duncan & Spangler, coal operators, at Hastings, and is popular with the young people as well as the business men of that place.

Mrs. Dr. Edward Miller, of Johnstown, spent some time with friends in Centre Hall and Penn's Valley. Mrs. Miller is a sister of Perry Luse, who was among the many people who enjoyed her company. Her husband, Dr. Miller, has an extensive practice in Johnstown and was unable to leave the city at this time.

J. W. Mitterling, of Tusseyville, the general stock dealer, called Monday. Mr. Mitterling ships some of the finest stock raised in Centre county. At present he is principally buying milch cows, for which he pays good prices. Last Friday a car of first-class stock of that kind was shipped by him.

Dr. George Krumbine is back after an absence of some weeks looking after the medical practice of Dr. J. R. G. Allison, of Northumberland, who is favorably known in this valley. Dr. Krumbine also took the state board examination and passed successfully. During his absence he took a run to Maryland, West Virginia, and Ohio.

Wilbur Kern, of Reading, and Jesse Guier and Mr. Waste, of Shippensburg, are the guests of Rev. W. W. Rhoads.

Raine, the senior editor of the Millheim Journal and all round printer, called on the Reporter Friday. He was accompanied by Randall Musser, who expects to attend State and take the Mechanical Engineering course.

Prof. W. W. Spiglemeyer, of Swengle, was in town Saturday. He is a young man of excellent habits and good standing in his home, having taught the same school for several years. He is a graduate of Susquehanna University and is a credit to that institution.

D. E. Bible, who holds a splendid position in one of the largest stores of Pottsville, together with his family, are spending some time in Penn's valley with friends and relatives. The family is traveling overland in a fine turnout, which indicates that Pottsville is financially wholesome. Mr. Bible is one of the Reporter readers who will depend on that paper to furnish him the Centre county news.

'Tack' Wilson, of Tyrone, best known by the older people in this valley on account of his former residence at Spring Mills, had fresh evidence on Thursday of the changes that time brings. While in Bellefonte attending the centennial, he sauntered to the railroad station on the arrival of the Penn's valley train to meet some of his old time friends, but to his surprise and regret he recognized but two out of the hundreds alighting from the cars.

L. Ray Morgan, of State College, accompanied by his wife and mother and little son Louis, spent Saturday and Sunday in Centre Hall. Mr. Morgan is chief clerk under Postmaster John Stuart, and besides gives some attention to the interests of the Great Eastern Casualty and Indemnity Company of New York. That company issues a policy of $500.00 in case of accidental death, and $7.50 per week for five weeks for non-fatal injuries. Either sex are insured at a cost of $1.00 per year.

SPRING MILLS.

Several of our young men and boys display a lamentable lack of sense and manners, by sitting on the railing of the foot log bridge over Penn's creek, and making the passage way so disgusting with their foul excretions that no lady can use the bridge without soiling her skirts and creating a nausea. This filthy nuisance should be stopped without any dilly dallying. Why not turn over a new leaf young men, and try to be gentlemen, or if you must loaf and play brawler, expectorate in the creek and not on the passage way.

Our people were highly pleased with the county centennial; we were well represented at the capital. Everything seems to have passed off admirably, of course the rain marred the program for the first day, but it made good the deficiencies the following day. The display of fire works was particularly fine. In the parade it was noticed that only the Spring Mills Castle K. of G. E. and the Woodsmen of State College were in line. Where were all the other castles, were they afraid of a little rain? Evidently when the Eagles of Spring Mills elect to do anything they do it, and hardly anything less than an earthquake could interfere with their program. The county has now passed the centennial mark, with marvelous changes, what will they be at the expiration of the next century? Ah, that is the question.

O. T. Corman the reliable merchant and wholesale produce dealer, has recently purchased the valuable property he now occupies, and owing to his large and rapidly increasing business, will make extensive improvements and introduce all the necessary conveniences. He intends enlarging the general store room by removing the partition and stairway, making the room over twice its present capacity, elevating the front building about two feet to correspond with the adjoining residence, and in brief remodel the whole interior. The location is a very desirable one, and being a corner property very desirable for business purposes. Mr. Corman intends making his establishment second to none in the valley. He pays cash or trade for all kinds of country produce and frequently does a shade better than the market rates. In order to fill his orders for berries, particularly huckleberries, he has several parties on the mountains gathering them, and notwithstanding will take all that is offered at the store. Complimentary remarks are made of the present editor of the Reporter. All are now satisfied that the political character of the journal will continue Democratic, and as in the past, its exposition of true Democracy will be most sound.

COBURN.

J. Wilbur Kooney of this place, departed for Patton, Tuesday morning and will be employed by the P. R. R. on a construction train, with head quarters at Patton.

Joe Burd, of near Lewisburg, spent a few days visiting at the home of James Burd at this place, beginning of this week.

N. Bigler Schaeffer and his estimable wife, of near Centre Hall, spent a few hours visiting friends at this place last Sunday.

Rev. Aikens of the Pine Grove Mills Lutheran charge, preached a very able sermon in the Lutheran church at this place Sunday afternoon. The Reverend gentleman is at present president of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church, and came to install Rev. Gearhart as pastor of the Aaronsburg charge. Installation services took place at the Penn's creek congregation Sunday forenoon.

Our cornet band went to Madisonburg last Saturday morning to be present at the Reformed picnic held in a grove near the town, and remained for a festival in the evening. They are now full uniformed in spank new suits and make an attractive appearance when they appear in public. They are considering a call from Woodward for Saturday evening's festival, and will likely go. Any society or Sunday school wishing the services of an up-to-date band, give the C. C. B. a call, and they will furnish you with choice music.

It is rumored that a syndicate, composed of Centre Hall capitalists will erect an evaporating plant at this place and have it ready for this season's crop of apples.—[See in another column.—Ed.]

Painters are giving the depot a coat of fresh paint which will add greatly to its attractiveness.

Huckleberries are now being sold at four cents per quart.

Potters Mills.

Mrs. Tamar Henney and family, of Latrobe, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Hartman.

Mr. Hart, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Ed. McClintick and friend, all of Altoona, are guests of our merchant, Frank McCoy.

Miss Gertrude Spangler, one of Centre Hall's accomplished young ladies, and her friend, Miss Rachael McMurray, spent last Thursday with Misses Leota and Kathryn Wilkinson.

Mr. William McKinney, of Altoona, is home with his family.

Quite a number of our people attended the centennial on Wednesday and all came home with their feathers laid.

Mrs. Emma Wagner, of Manhattan, Illinois, is visiting her many friends in Centre county.

If you are fond of cod fish and lots of other good things, call on Emur Smith, he can supply you.

Charley Bitner had one of the bones in his hand fractured last week. Dr. H. S. Alexander, of this place, reduced the fracture and he is now getting along very nicely.

Sallie McClenahan has returned home after a visit of four weeks in Milroy.

Mr. McClaskey, of Plainfield, Ill., brother of Henry McClaskey, deceased, is visiting friends at this place.

The M. E. Sunday school of Spruce town, will hold a picnic the 11th of August at Pine Hill. All are invited.

One of the most pleasing and enjoyable events of the season was a select picnic held at Pine Hill, Saturday, July 28, in honor of Miss Rachael M. Murray of Montoursville, who is the guest of Miss Gertrude Spangler of Centre Hall, and Miss Gertrude Richard of Latrobe, the guest of Miss Leota Wilkinson of Potters Mills. Besides the ladies already named there were present Misses Margaret Evans, Mabel Sankey, Esther Alexander and Kathryn Wilkinson.

Pitching quoits proved an interesting physical exercise. The young ladies succeeded in making some "ringers" and many "rollers." But they believe in development of both brain and brawn, so some time was spent in relating anecdotes and asking conundrums.

During the afternoon a number of views were taken by the photographer, Miss Evans. These will be finished in the artists usual excellent style and will soon be on exhibition at her home, where they may be seen by interested parties.

Penn Hall.

Our section was well represented at the centennial at Bellefonte last week.

Miss Sadie Miller, of Centre Mills, is visiting at the home of C. E. Zeigler at present.

Installation services were largely attended in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning. Rev. Aikens officiated and delivered a very able and appropriate sermon for the occasion. The church was elaborately decorated with potted plants and flowers. The ladies who performed this part of the work can feel proud of their efforts.

Mr. Ralph Stover and wife, of Rebersburg, were the guests of Spear Burrell over Sunday.

Mr. J. C. Condo our hustling coach maker is doing a rushing business in the line of selling buggies.

There is quite a lot of sickness prevailing in our section.

During the civil war, as well as in our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor of Wind Ridge, Greene Co., Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by J. H. Ross, Linden Hall; S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; J. F. Smith, Centre Hall.

New Hardware Store.

D. Irvin's Sons, of Bellefonte, beg to announce that they have opened a branch store at Centre Hall, where they will carry a full line of all kinds of Hardware, Stoves, Tinware, Agateware, Paints, Oils, Glass, etc. Prices as low as the lowest, and all goods new and the best in the market. A call is invited
