

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

CENTRE HALL, Pa., Thurs., Aug. 23.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

F. A. Carson, the popular merchant of Potters Mills, called Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Johnson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. E. Arney, at Centre Hall.

Mrs. Mary Grenoble, of Spring Mills stopped with A. P. Luse last week for several days.

John H. Lee, of Colyer, one of E. M. Huyett's firemen and all round men, was a caller Monday.

Misses Jennie Kuntz, Lulu Cox and Bernice Shuey, all of Bellefonte, are stopping with Mrs. Simon Harper.

Wm. Goodhart and daughter, of Farmers Mills, had business in town Monday and called to see the Reporter.

J. B. Royer, of Centre Hill, who farms the Burkholder farm at that place, was in town on Monday and called to help the Reporter along.

Mrs. W. H. Phillips, of Aaronsburg, after spending several days with her mother, Mrs. George Moyer, at Freeburg, has returned to her home.

D. Wagner Geiss, who came home from Lebanon Business College last week on account of sickness, is able to be around again and is feeling himself.

Frederick Decker, one of the most prominent farmers about Lemont, was in town Tuesday and states that everything is moving along all right in that section.

Emanuel Smith and son, of Potters Mills, who has been in the mercantile business at that place for many years, found time to spend a half hour in the Reporter office.

Mrs. C. D. Runkle, of Pittsburg, Pa., and Mrs. Agnes Spangler and little granddaughter, Ruth Barber, of Joliet, Illinois, arrived Saturday on a visit to their sister, Mrs. George M. Boal.

Dr. Glosser, who took charge of Dr. Alexander's practice during the latter's absence last winter, was married to Miss Ruth M. Streeter. The doctor is located at Eckley, Pa.

Mrs. Henry Seltzer, of Manhattan, Illinois, has been the guest of her brother, Mr. John Mersinger, at Tusseyville the past month. Last week she spent several days with friends in Centre Hall.

D. L. Kerr, of Centre Hill, who spends much of his time driving through the county for pleasure, was one of the many callers Saturday. He says the Reporter is all right and wishes it success.

Phillip Durst, who is one of the crack farmers east of town, was up to town to see how things were moving along. Mr. Durst finds little time to spend away from his farm, which is well tilled and cared for.

Squire Rishel and his good wife, of Farmers Mills, have not been in the best of health for the past few days. Mrs. Catharine Houtz, mother of Mrs. Rishel, and who makes her home with her, was also ill last week.

Samuel Ripka, of Linden Hall, who a few years ago purchased one of the Leech farms, was in town on Saturday on business. Mr. Ripka is building an extensive wagon shed and corn crib and is a busy man these days.

John Rishel, of Farmers Mills, makes his weekly trip through this section of Penns valley gathering cream for the Spring Mills creamery. Mr. Rishel is much interested in the welfare of his employers and serves them faithfully.

A. H. Weaver, of Farmers Mills, and W. W. McCormick, of Potters Mills, were callers. Mr. Weaver laid in a supply of straw hats for his boys, who he says, are hard on hats since there are so many grasshoppers down that way.

James P. Grove, of near Farmers Mills, who is one of the prosperous farmers of that section, was in town on Tuesday. He reports his crops fully up to the average for this season, and was delighted with the rains of the beginning of the week.

Miss Helen Harper, of Bellefonte, spent a few days this week at the home of George Emerick. Miss Harper graduated from the Bellefonte High School in June and intends taking a course in one of our Normal schools to fit herself for teaching.

Michael Bower, of Alemont, Ill., is east on a visit to his brothers Emanuel and Frank Bower, of Aaronsburg, and last week with his sister, Mrs. Christina Reifsnnyder, of Millheim, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Boob, of this place. Mrs. Boob is a niece of Mr. Bower.

Howard Durst, from east of town, came to town on business Saturday. That is the only thing that ever brings Mr. Durst to Centre Hall—he never learned to loaf or idle his time away. Being a great reader, his spare time is used to peruse a multitude of periodicals and books.

John Devinney and wife and Mrs. Wm. Reed, of Reedsville, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swabb over Sunday. These parties are frequent visitors here and are so much interested in Centre county news that they concluded their best plan would be to subscribe for the Reporter, and they did so.

Ex-Sheriff Miles Walker was in town Thursday looking up life insurance.

John Weidensaul, of Millmont, according to the correspondent from Yeagertown to the Democrat and Sentinel, will move to Yeagertown where he has secured employment.

Clell Smetzler and family, of Potters Mills, left for Rice Lake, Wis., Saturday, where Mr. Smetzler will open a saloon. The family have the best wishes of their friends in their new western home.

A. P. Wieland, well known in Centre Hall, was appointed postmaster of a new post office created at Morocco, Clay county, W. Va. Mr. Wieland holds a responsible position with a large lumber firm at that place.

Ex-Judge A. O. Furst returned from a trip in foreign lands Friday. His Bellefonte friends tendered him a reception at which he gave a brief outline of his visit to Paris and other points of interest.

Ex-Governor Hastings and John P. Harris, of the First National Bank, Bellefonte, were in town Monday. The Governor has many warm personal and political friends on this side the mountain, whom he makes a habit of visiting occasionally. The ex-governor was feeling very well politically having fresh on his mind the Quay defeat in Millin county.

Hiram Grove, of Morganza, Washington county, is taking his annual vacation and spending it in Penns valley. Mr. Grove is first officer of a division in the Pennsylvania Reform School at Morgantown. He speaks highly of the institution, its management, and the success attained by many of the boys who were under his care.

Samuel Ertel, of Georges valley, was in town Friday to secure hardware to finish his new barn, which is an up-to-date structure. Mr. Ertel thinks the Reporter subscription price all right since the reduction to one dollar, and thought the rate must have been lowered because the editor knew from experience how many bushels of wheat it takes to make ten dollars cash, all of which is true.

Harvey Van Pelt, son of E. G. Van Pelt, of Ithaca, New York, having attended Cornell University two years, expects to take a two years' course at the medical department of that institution located in New York City. The young man has many friends here who will be sorry to learn that he had a very severe attack of blood poisoning resulting from a slight operation performed to remove a small growth on the ear, and later an attack of scarlet fever. He was housed up for five weeks, and had but three weeks in which to prepare for final examination. His average, however, was considerable above that of the majority of his class.

Alexander Shannon, Esq., who left this place twenty-seven years ago, stopped over a few days while on an eastern business trip. Mr. Shannon is located at Smith Centre, Kansas, and is treasurer and adjusting agent for the U. S. Life Insurance Company, of Davenport, Iowa. Most of his time is spent on the road, while his son John and the rest of his family are conducting large farm operations, depending chiefly on hogs as the money crop. Orrie, the youngest of the family is also engaged with the same life insurance company. Mr. Shannon was a resident of this town when the houses could be counted on the fingers of the hands. He finds very few of the old landmarks here at present, among these are Messrs. J. D. Murray and J. O. Deininger.

Cyrus Luse and wife and little grandson, of Tyrone, are visiting in the valley and came to this office to show their good feeling toward the Reporter. In 1862, Mr. Luse came to this place to learn the trade of blacksmithing with the Harpster Brothers, who were then doing business on a large scale in the shop now occupied by the postoffice and J. A. Reesman's tin shop, but that occupation is no longer followed by Mr. Luse. At present he is doing a number of things in Tyrone, among them he is acting janitor of the First M. E. church, putting down composition walks, sub-policing, and nursing the sick when his services are needed. Mr. Luse came here primarily to attend the Luse reunion.

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and sent and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. George F. Burdick, Liberty, R. I. For sale by J. H. Ross, Linden Hall; S. M. Swartz, Tusseyville; F. A. Carson, Potters Mills; J. F. Smith, Centre Hall.

FARMERS MILLS.

Misses Rosa and Katie Armbruster of Bellefonte, are spending a few weeks' vacation with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Garbrick, of Zion, spent Sunday with their son, Calvin Garbrick.

The Harvest Home services were largely attended on Sunday. Rev. Kershner, of the Reformed church, delivered a very able discourse. The church was handsomely decorated, and the members deserve much credit for the interest shown in the work.

David Neiman, the up-to-date clothier, of Millheim, was in our vicinity recently inviting his many friends to come and inspect his goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Royer, of Zion, Sundayed with relatives in this community.

Miss Loda Rishel visited her many friends at Coburn last week.

The statement given in some papers last week, announcing that the famous summer resort, Penns Cave, was sold, is a mistake, at least Mr. Long knows nothing of the sale.

Wm. World, living in M. P. Musser's tenement house, shipped his household effects to the western part of the state where he has secured employment in a lumber operation.

Mrs. John Rossman, of Penns Cave, has been very ill at her home for the past week; she has had two paralytic strokes.

Mrs. Catharine Houtz has been on the sick list, owing to the excessive heat and old age.

Haines has gone to Aaronsburg on her summer vacation. Arthur B. Fisher, of Zion, transacted business in town Thursday last.—Insurance agent Weaver, of Bellefonte, was in town Monday.—Louis E. Young, of Columbia, Pa., a recent graduate, has secured a lucrative position in Ames, Iowa.—James P. Aikens was in town Friday last. James has accepted a pleasant and profitable situation with the Montour and Columbia Telephone Co., at Bloomsburg, Pa.—Chemist Francis M. Greiver has located at Buffalo, N. Y.—Mrs. Lucy A. Pond has just returned from a pleasant vacation at Lake Winola, Pa.—Calvin Croyle purchased the Harrison bakery Tuesday.

Potters Mills.

Miss Roxanna Brisbin, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Pearl Condo, of Millheim, and Miss Lolo Strohm, of Centre Hill, were in our town horse back riding Friday evening. They ran a race and Centre Hill won the prize. Come again, girls.

The sale of Clell Smetzler, Friday was largely attended; everything sold well. The family left on Saturday for Rice Lake, Wisconsin, where they expect to make their future home, and where Mr. Smetzler has purchased a hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell, of Allegheny, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Evans; also Miss Maude Evans, of Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. James Reish spent Sunday with his mother in Millheim. Our merchant Frank McCoy, is spending his vacation at Atlantic City; we wish him success.

Miss Blanche Tressler, of Linden Hall, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Stover for two weeks.

Mrs. Alexander and son, of Millin county, spent a few days with her son, Dr. H. S. Alexander.
