

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

CENTRE HALL, PA., THURS., Sept. 6.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Coming and Going.—Visitors in and out of town.

Mrs. Frank Kline, of Lewistown, is the guest of J. A. Keller's family since Mrs. Keller's death.

J. R. Brungart, of Rebersburg, was a pleasant caller Tuesday while in town on fire insurance business.

Capt. W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, returned this week from a trip to Illinois and Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crawford at family, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday in Centre Hall among friends.

Rev. W. F. Carson, of Philadelphia, was given a call by the Presbyterian congregation at Milesburg.

Morton Smith was appointed stamp-er in the Bellefonte post office. George A. Bayard resigned the position.

J. W. Mitterling shipped a fine lot of cows to the eastern market Monday. They were choice animals and heavy weights.

Ed. Riter ran the dray wagon for W. McClenahan several days, owing to a lameback which is giving the latter some trouble.

Thomas M. Mahon, of Franklin county, was nominated at Lewistown as the Republican candidate for Congress in the eighteenth district.

Newton Emerick, son of Henry Emerick, of this place, has secured a good position at Dixmont, near Pittsburg, in one of the state insane hospitals.

Prof. H. D. Martin, the principal of the Mill Hall schools last winter, was married to Miss Florence Lucetta Irwin, Wednesday of last week, at Jacksonsville.

Andrew Gregg had the misfortune to sprain his back in lifting a coil of wire while engaged with the Bell telephone company. He is just about able to walk the streets.

John A. Miller, of Axemann, was a caller last week. Mr. Miller was on his way to visit his sister, Mrs. John Slack, at Potters Mills. He makes the trip frequently.

M. P. Musser and George Gingerich, of near Centre Hall, were callers Saturday. Each of these gentlemen know how to properly conduct a farm and appreciate the Reporter.

Hon. L. Rhone, chairman of the Grange Encampment committee, moved into the headquarters of the grounds today, where he can be found at any time to transact business.

J. T. Potter was in town last week hunting George Gingerich, the stock manager of the Grange Encampment, to secure stalls for the exhibition of some of his young cattle.

J. A. Reesman is attending United States District Court at Williamsport this week in the capacity of a juror. During his absence Clay Reesman took charge of the stove emporium.

D. M. Campbell, of Linden Hall, called on the Reporter on business recently. Mr. Campbell is secretary of the county Pomona Grange and fills that position in an admirable way.

C. W. Slack, who lives on the farm of Postmaster Bosl, made a business trip to the Reporter office Tuesday. Mr. Slack will quit the farm in the spring and engage in other business.

Boalsburg was represented in Centre Hall largely on Tuesday, and among others were Mrs. Amanda Fisher, Mrs. Ellen Barr, Mrs. Alexander Kuhn, L. W. Kimport and Frank McFarlane.

Miss Eloise Schuyler, who spent her vacation with her parents at the Presbyterian manse, returned to her work as teacher in the Landsdowne High school, near Philadelphia, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Rearick and M. J. Decker attended the Williamsgrove picnic. Mr. Decker is one of the foremost farmers in this community and was greatly pleased with the exhibition.

Mrs. W. B. Shirk and daughter, Rebecca, of Atlantic City, are the guests of B. D. Brisbin. The family lived in this place and vicinity for many years and are favorably known by the readers of the Reporter.

Senior editor Raine, of the Millheim Journal, found time for a half hour chat in the Reporter office Tuesday. The uniting of the Republican party in lower Penns Valley, he says, is all on paper. And so it is here.

W. H. Love, of Lewisburg, last week came to see his aged mother, Mrs. Jane Love, who is ill. Mr. Love is proprietor of "Love's Rheumatic Cure and Blood Cleanser," and has worked up a good trade for the remedy. Once introduced the article sells on its merits.

Reuben Page, of Linden Hall, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. David Harshbarger, in this place. Mr. Page was in service for Uncle Sam for a period of almost three years as a volunteer. Four of his brothers were also in the scrap with the southerners.

Howard M. Emerick, and G. E. Emerick, of this place, Wednesday started for Pittsburg with the expectation of getting a position in the street car service. These young men are thoroughly reliable and can be depended upon to give the best services by any one who employs them.

In the absence of Landlord W. H. Runkle, Jr., at Vicksburg, Harry Condo, of Millheim, is conducting the hotel. Mrs. Condo is also here.

Robert P. Breen, one of the active young farmers of near Millheim, came up to town on a "bike" last week on business, and found time to spend a few minutes in the Reporter office. Mr. Breen has on exhibition at his house, a remarkable corn stalk that measures 12 feet, 3 inches, and bears two splendid ears of corn.

REBERSBURG.

Mr. and Mrs. Brish, of Easton, are visiting at the home of Ellen Burd.

Messrs. O. C. Frank and Victor Walker departed Wednesday morning for Susquehanna University. Sorry to see the boys leave, yet to know that they will improve their time at this institution is a satisfaction.

Miss Maude Harman, of Muncy, and Miss Mame Gast, of Millinburg, are visitors at the home of John Wolf.

The Lutherans celebrated their Harvest Home services last Sunday. Rev. Herman preached an excellent sermon to a large and appreciative audience.

The negro campmeeting held near town is not a credit to this valley. The colored people want an outing of course but why should it be here, under such pretenses? How christian people can attend such a conducted affair is a question.

STATE COLLEGE.

Daniel Meyers was in town Monday. Dan will be head of McCalmont & Roup this year. Royer Bowman, of Philadelphia, is visiting his mother, Mrs. Emanuel Musser.—Miss Margaret Stuart arrived home Saturday from a very pleasant trip to Turbotville.—Daniel Stuart arrived home Tuesday from a short business trip to Clearfield.—Mrs. Harrison had sale on Saturday, and moved on Tuesday to Pleasant Gap; Mr. Croyle occupied the bakery on Tuesday.—Miss Via Macman is visiting at Wallace Musser's.—Miss Julia C. Harter went to Renova Tuesday.—Emanuel Musser lost a cow, and his farmer, Wm. Carson lost two, caused by poor fence around a corn field. Mr. Grieb also lost a valuable cow.

Deaths in Nearby Counties.

Editor W. H. Smith, of the Benton Argus, one of the oldest newspaper men in the central part of the state, and editor of the Milton Argus at the time of the great fire at that place, died of apoplexy while at work at his desk.

Clinton—Samuel Hartman, in Salona, aged ninety-three years.

John A. Campbell, of Belleville, aged sixty-six years. He was married to Sarah Wilson, of Belleville, a cousin of J. T. Potter. There were three deaths in the Wilson family within a brief time. About a month ago, Father Wilson died at the advanced age of ninety years.

In Lewistown, Wm. Kuisely, aged fifty-two years.

In Belleville, Mrs. Magdalene Sankey, aged near sixty-six.

In Lewistown, Wm. Haukins, aged forty-eight years.

With the train going forty miles an hour, Conductor Schroecker leaned over the cowcatcher on a Reading locomotive near Williamsport, and pulled a two-year-old Italian girl from the track. The feat was witnessed by one hundred persons.

Niagara Falls Excursions.

September 6 and 20, October 4 and 18 are the remaining dates for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's popular ten-day excursions to Niagara Falls from Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington. Special train will leave Washington 8:00 a. m., Baltimore 9:05 a. m.
