Short and Dangerous Ride.

Mrs. Jacob From took a short and dangerous ride at the evaporator last week. At the noon hour she was sitting on a hand car on an inclined railroad that connects the evaporator plant with the dry house, when some mischievous boys removed the blocking that served as a lock to the car and away it started with its human freight. At the landing, Mrs. From was pitched from the car over the track to the ground, but luckily she was not hurt.

Wilson, Verd Wilson, J. W. Bigler and James Wynkoop. The trio were arrested ten miles from Clearfield on the mountain near Penfield, brought to Clearfield and lodged in jail. A few counterfeit dollars were found at Wynkoop's place together with moulds and other necessary paraphernalia for their illegal work.

SUICIDE.

John Cummings, of Linden Hall, Commits a Rash Act.

No Other Cause Can be Assigned Than Despondency.

Funeral Wednesday Forenoon; Interment at Zion Cemetery.

John Cummings, of near Linden Hall, ended his life Sunday forenoon by hanging. The family for some time noticed that Mr. Cummings was becoming despondent, and for some weeks kept a close watch on him to prevent him from accomplishing just such a horrible deed as was committed at the time mentioned. Just prior to committing the rash act, nothing unusual was indicated by his movements, and he easily deceived his wife when he told her that he wished to go up stairs to lie down. Instead of going to his room, he went to the attic, procured a short rope, fastened it to the rafters at about the height of his shoulders, looped it about his neck and threw his weight into it, causing death by strangulation.

Although regarded with suspicion, the horror which overcame Mrs. Cummings can not be imagined when she found her husband had taken his life. Her first impulse was to seek aid, which she did by going to a neighbor's house, and on their return it was discovered that life had left the body a considerable length of time previous to the finding by Mrs. Cummings. An unsuccessful attempt was made by him to take his life a week prior, when he mixed poison and glass together and swallowed it.

Mr. Cummings was in very fair circumstances, having purchased the farm on which he lived and could have paid for it. His mind was unbalanced some years ago, but he had fully recovered. He was an industrious man, fair in his dealings, a neighbor who could be depended upon to give aid whenever needed, and always ready for a social chat.

He was a member of the Evangelical church. Interment took place Wednesday forenoon at Zion cemetery, near Tusseyville.

Deceased was about forty-eight years of age, and leaves a family of seven children, two of whom are married, and a widow, who have the sincere sympathy of all.

Josiah R. Adams, of Philadelphia, a lawyer and the Republican nominee for the Superior Court in 1899, from which he withdrew under pressure, shot himself in the head and died within half an hour. The reason assigned is failing health and worry.

Wars Come in Waves.

History shows that war comes in waves. From Waterloo, in 1815, to the Mexican war, in 1845, there were 30 years of peace. Between 1845 and 1870 one war quickly followed another. There was conflict all the time, and then came 27 years of comparative peace. Now, again wars are treading on each other's heels.

The Stump in Memory of Two Soldiers Who Lie in Indian Lane.

Through the efforts of ex-Treasurer D. C. Keller sufficient money was raised to secure a marker for the two soldiers who fell at the hands of Indians July 24, 1778, in "Indian lane." The road referred to is the one leading from the Spring Mills pike south to the Centre Hill road. The marker is Ohio marble, cut in stump form and is at present at H. G. Strohmeier's marble yard in this place. The inscription is as follows:

"In memory of Thomas Van Doran, and Jacob Shadacer,

Two soldiers killed July 24, 1778, in an encounter with five Indians."

A Reminder of the Big Flood.

The low stage of water in the pool of the Lock Haven dam has brought to light near boom island a box car that was brought there by the big flood of 1880. During the years since that deluge the car has lain at the bottom of the river unnoticed. An investigation of the car shows that it contained barrels of cement, but where it came from is a mystery.

Very Fair Crops.

Thresherman George H. Emerick last week was doing work in the Manor Hill school district, and reports that the wheat and oat crops in that section are turning out very fair. Hon. Leonard Rhone had a very good crop of both grains, and Messrs. C. W. Slaek, John Spicher and others in that locality, were pleased with the number of bushels yielded. J. J. Arney, above town, also had a good wheat crop and an excellent turn out of beardless barley.

Williamsport Short of Logs.

Nine hundred men in Williamsport are out of employment and eight big sawmills are standing idle because 80,000,000 feet of logs are stranded along the West Branch and its tributaries. The last freshet was about the middle of March, at which time less than half of the season's cut of logs floated into the Williamsport boom, leaving the remainder of the stock high and dry on the banks of the streams until today, at some points, the barkless sticks lie whitening in the sun fifteen feet above the edge of the diminished waterways.
