A Minister With a Good Trade.

That minister is Rev. A. A. Black, of the Reformed church, Boalburg, who has a most enviable trade in the matrimonial line. Scarcely a week goes by that he does not have one two or three weddings. Rev. Black must have established a reputation for tying a knot in which there is no slip and which, if not tampered with, will last during an entire life.

Moved Switchboard.

The telephone exchange of the Commercial line was moved from a rear to the corner room of the Bank Building, in this place, which gives the operators a very desirable location. The Commercial exchange operators are prompt in answering all calls—the service is fifty per cent. better than in many other places. The whole Commercial system is all that could be desired.

Water Scarce.

Many of the farmers across the valley are becoming alarmed over the scarcity of water. In a number of instances cisterns and wells are already dry, and many others are reduced to a point which causes its dependents for water supply to be seriously alarmed. The stock on the average farm consumes a large quantity of water, and when it must be hauled for several miles it is no small item in the regular routine of daily labor, and besides often incurs additional expense for hired help.

Mrs. Wm. Weiser, who had a paralytic stroke some time ago, is somewhat improved, and is able to be up and about the house.

After a severe illness of two weeks, being confined to his bed with an attack of pneumonia, F. O. Hosterman is now able to sit up a few hours during the day, but still unable to leave his room.

Grip has struck Millheim and quite a number of people are seriously effected; it has appeared in an unusually severe form this year, and persons afflicted with it require much care, and many are housed up for weeks.

DIED AT HOSPITAL.

Mrs. David Geary, of Near Centre Hill, Died in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Geary, wife of David Geary, of near Centre Hill, died at a Philadelphia hospital Friday night. Mrs. Geary had gone to the city to seek relief from a derangement of internal organs from which she suffered greatly for a number of years. The trouble at last grew to such an extent that she was unable to care for herself, and it was decided to seek what relief there might be in the science and surgical skill of the best trained hospital physicians. Accordingly about five weeks ago the lady was taken to Philadelphia, and in a short time an operation was performed, which was regarded as very successful. After the ordeal had been gone through, the woman recovered sufficiently to write to her husband and sons that she was improving in a general way and looked forward to the day when she could again reside over her own home. Alas, fate decided otherwise, and Friday of last week the husband received a telegram that his wife was dead.

The remains were brought to her home at Centre Hill Monday, and the funeral took place Wednesday morning, interment being made at Tusseyville. The deceased was a member of the Lutheran church, and her pastor, Rev. J. M. Rearick, conducted the services. Her age was 44 years, 11 months and 8 days.

Besides her husband she leaves two sons, Charles and Wallace, aged about twenty and eighteen years, respectively, to mourn their loss. The deceased was a daughter of Jacob Dashem, deceased. Her only and surviving brother is John Dashem, of Centre Hill.

MAJOR J. I. ROSS.

A Man Prominent in Business Dies at Lemont.

Sunday morning at two o'clock Major J. I. Ross died at his Lemont home of pneumonia. Major James Irvin Ross was one of the best known men in that section; he was one of the old pioneer settlers in Ferguson township, where his father, John Ross moved in the early part of the 19th century. He was a typical farmer and stock raiser; all his life was spent on the large farm just west of Pine Grove Mills, until eighteen years ago when he embarked in the grain, coal and mercantile business at Lemont, where he built up quite an extensive trade.

He won his spurs as Major in 1852, when he was Com. Major in the Pennsylvania Dragoons a crack Troop Company. He served as 1st Lieutenant in Co. H 46 P. V. M. in the war of the Rebellion for three months.

Major Ross was one of the jolliest and pleasantest of men. Politically he was a Republican, religiously, a Presbyterian. He is survived by his invalid wife, whose life is despaired of, one brother, John, and one sister, Mary Myton, of Petersburg. He was born at the old Ross home east of Pine Grove Mills, seventy-five years ago.

Jan. 1st, 1848, he married Mary Cavlin, of Latrobe, Pa. Seven children survive, Mrs. D. H. Weaver, Pine Grove Mills; Mrs. Daniel Louder, Oak Hill; J. Hale Ross, Linden Hall, Mrs. James Lytle and Mrs. Levi Krebs, Lemont, and Elmer and Eta, at home.

Burial took place on Wednesday morning from the residence, interment in the Branch cemetery, Rev. Hepler officiating. The funeral was very large as the Major was known far and near.

DIED OF DIPHTHERIA.

Harry Grove, of Morgantown, Died After a Brief Illness.

John Grove, of near Spring Mills, Saturday was dumfounded to receive a telegram from Morgantown, Pa., that his youngest son, Harry, was dead and buried. The young man had an attack of grip and sore throat, but the last letter received from Morgantown stated that he was able to be out of bed, and the Grove family were congratulating themselves upon the recovery of their son.

The telegram of last Saturday was a shock indeed, when it announced that Mr. Grove had died of diphtheria. Just why word was not sent sooner is a mystery to all. The deceased was employed at the State Reformatory for several years. He was an intelligent young man and highly thought of by all who knew him.

CONGRESSIONAL APPOINTMENT.

Centre County is in a Republican District by Over 5,000.

The Republicans have practically decided to divide the state of Pennsylvania into thirty-two districts. Centre, Clinton, Lycoming, Montour and Tioga counties form the eighteenth district, with a population of 212,371, and a Republican vote of 24,341 against 19,156 Democratic votes.

EIGHTEENTH DISTRICT.

Table with 4 columns: County, Population, R-P vote, Dem. vote. Rows include Centre, Clinton, Lycoming, Montour, Tioga, and Totals.

Philadelphia will be conceded seven members. And will be entitled to four new members. The two leading counties, therefore, would be entitled to eleven of the thirty-two members apportioned to Pennsylvania, leaving the other sixty-five counties of the State to be arranged into twenty-one districts, a not particularly difficult problem. The ratio for a member fixed in the recent act of Congress is 194,182. The smallest district shown in this division is that numbered the Twenty-fifth and containing a population of 178,874.

A STUPENDOUS COMBINATION.

The Big Steel Companies of the U. S. to Combine.

Andrew Carnegie is tired of amassing millions and wants to quit. His interests may be bought by a syndicate of representatives of the leading industrial combinations.

J. Pierpont Morgan is the visible head of the syndicate.

If the Carnegie interest is purchased under the plans laid out, the deal will result in an alliance of the big iron and steel combinations of the United States. It will be a working alliance. The controlling interest in the Carnegie Company will be the Steel Company, the American Tin Plate Company, the American Sheet Steel Company, the National Steel Hoop Company and the American Steel and Wire Company and affiliated interests.

JUDGMENT FOR $149.25.

The Borough Loses the Water Suit but can have Contract Annulled.

The suit brought by the Misses Bible against the borough of Centre Hall to enforce a contract for water rent was decided against the borough the plaintiffs getting judgment for $149.25, which is about half the amount sued for. There were no witnesses heard on the part of the borough.

As it stands today, the borough will be obliged to pay the judgment referred to above, and pay the yearly stipulated rental. This contract can, however, be annulled by the borough bringing proper proceedings. The case last week was brought by the Misses Bible, and under that suit the contract could not be set aside.

The Ross Family Afflicted.

The family of J. Hale Ross, of Linden Hall, is sorely afflicted. Thursday morning Mrs. Ross' eldest son died after a very brief illness. But a few minutes elapsed until Mr. Ross' father, Major Ross, of Lemont, was a corpse. Friday previous Mrs. Ross' brother, William Musser, of Pine Grove Mills, died and was buried Tuesday.

Mr. M. M. Koch, of Spruce Creek, and Miss Beattie Everhart, of Pine Grove Mills, gave their friends a surprise by being married at the home of Ed. Koch, near Rock Springs, on the evening of the 31st, by Rev. H. C. Love. None but the family were present; the young couple are well and favorably known at Spruce Creek, where the groom is an industrious young farmer. The bride is the accomplished daughter of John Everhart.

WANT GAME LAWS CHANGED.

Subordinate Granges Petition for Fuller Privileges on Their Own Premises.

The many subordinate granges throughout Pennsylvania will petition the governor and the State legislature to give the land owner fuller control over his own premises with reference to killing and trapping game. It is contended that the land owner should have first right. The game seasons being short, the agriculturalist oftentimes is busily engaged with his work, and consequently the "sportsman" captures all the game. At the same time this "sportsman" parades over the cultivated grounds of the agriculturalist at his own will, and frequently does considerable damage. The memorial asks that hunting on cultivated grounds be made permissible only when written consent is given by the owner. The complaints set forth in the petition are correct and will be favored by every land owner and true sportsman.

Colyer.

Grip has taken hold of a great many of the people in this locality.

A great many of our people attended the sale of W. H. Runkle, at Centre Hall, and reported everything going cheap.

Mrs. Henry Moyer spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Neff; it is the first she has been able to go that distance for over a year.

A great many of the boys who went west a year or two ago are back and spending the winter, and some have come to stay. This locality seems to be good enough for many of the boys. David Bohn is moving to Georges Valley on the Decker farm; David will not have the store quite as handy as he has here.

JUDGE LOVE AND PATTON TWP.

The Court Decides Against Patton Twp. in the School Appropriation Case.

A decision in the Patton township case brought before Judge Love in the Centre county courts to compel state treasurer Barnett to pay that township school appropriation on the basis of $11,000,000 instead of $10,000,000, was rendered last week. The court sustains Governor Stone in vetoing a part of an item of a bill, which reduced the appropriation $1,000,000 for two years, or $500,000 per year. The conclusion arrived at by the Centre county court is not at all surprising. No one expected anything else. He is "one of them," and of course decisions in such a matter would be favorable to the administration at Harrisburg.

The chief reason given by Judge Love in his decision is his construction of the sixteenth section of Article 4, of the Constitution, which reads:

"The Governor shall have power to disapprove of any item or items of any bill making appropriations of money, embracing distinct items, and the part or parts of the bill approved shall be the law, and the item or items disapproved shall be void, etc."

This is unqualifiedly construed as bestowing on the Governor the power of vetoing parts of bills. The contention of those who dispute it is that Stone had no right to veto part of an item.

Judge Love says: "We are, therefore, of the opinion that the Governor, under said section, has the power to approve a part or parts of an appropriation to any object or subject, and to the extent it is approved it shall be the law, and that any item or items or part disapproved are void, unless passed over by his veto in the manner provided by law."

Concluding Judge Love says: "Nor was the Governor in this instance without precedent for the exercise of the power in this manner. His distinguished predecessors in office, for twenty years past, exercised the power of veto upon appropriation bills in practically the same way. It was so exercised in a number of instances by Governors Patton, Beaver and Hastings.

"The fact of its having been thus exercised for so long a period by the said Chief Executives of the State is entitled to due and respectful consideration in determining a proper and wise interpretation of the said power conferred upon the Governor under said section 16 of article 4.

"For the foregoing reasons we are of the opinion that the said school district of Patton township, under the law, is not entitled to the money claimed, and therefore not entitled to the writ prayed for. The writ of peremptory mandamus prayed for is refused and the petition dismissed at the costs of the plaintiff."

W. E. Gray, attorney for the plaintiff, says he will carry the case to the Supreme Court. This is in accordance with Attorney General Elkins' announced program.

Treasurer Barnett last week sent a circular letter to the school boards of the state setting forth that:

"If one district was entitled to being paid its school appropriation on the eleven million basis, all were entitled to it.

"That no district had been paid on that basis. When proceedings were brought in court, the money it was claimed was simply advanced and charged against next year's appropriation."

There should be a united effort on the part of each county to compel State Treasurer Barnett to pay each district its full share of the school funds, and demonstrate to Governor Stone and his machine government that the people are not in sympathy with his assumed power to set aside the constitution at his will.
