

On to Success in 1901.

WE'VE made our mark in the past dozen years and we've sold all the way from 10,000 to 30,000 pairs of shoes a year, and we expect to sell more in 1901 than in any previous year.

Our plans are perfected. We have formed connections with the best manufacturers in the country. From them we buy as cheap as any concern in the country, large or small.

We carry stocks that are unsurpassed anywhere. We name prices that are seldom matched and rarely beaten.

We freely right every wrong—no sale is completed until you are satisfied.

Letter Stationery.

Latest styles letter paper and envelopes are kept on hand at the Reporter office. If you want something really up to date, you will find it at this office.

Miss Lillie Barrett.

Miss Lillie Barrett, who for a number of years was one of the efficient operators in the Bell telephone exchange, Bellefonte, died at her home in Wilkesbarre, where she was engaged in similar work.

Will Observe February 22

The primary and secondary schools taught by Miss Anna Bartholomew and F. A. Foreman, respectively, will observe Washington's birthday with an appropriate program. If you want to see an interesting program well rendered, make it your business to be at the school house on the afternoon of Washington's birthday.

May Meet at Millburg.

The Centre County Sabbath School Association is invited to meet in the Methodist Episcopal church, Millburg. The association during 1900 held its annual meeting in Centre Hall, and many of those who attended will remember the highly interesting talks by Dr. Charles Rhoads and the local ministers.

Living With Broken Back

The Philadelphia Times on Tuesday gave a portrait of Homer Harry, of Rebersburg, as the only person who had his back broken and lived to tell the story. The accident occurred fifteen weeks ago, an account of which at the time appeared in the Reporter. The young man is gradually growing stronger, and although portions of the lower part of his body are partially paralyzed, it is thought he will live for years, so far as the broken back is concerned.

Fire at Potters Mills.

At an early breakfast hour Monday John Campbell, of Potters Mills, thought the wash fire which had just been kindled in a bathway stove in the wash house was giving out an unusually bright light, and one of the family was dispatched to look after it. Investigation showed that the wash house was on fire, and before the flames were extinguished the entire building together with the wood house, smoke house and the baking house were destroyed. The property is owned by Wm. Workinger.

Guards to attend Inauguration.

The organizations of the National Guard of Pennsylvania that will attend the inauguration of President McKinley are designated in general orders issued by Adjutant General Stewart. The troops will be under command of Major General Miller, and each brigade will be commanded by the regular commander. Instead of taking three regiments from each brigade, General Stewart has arranged that each infantry regiment shall be represented by all of their companies, except two.

See Grant Hoover, Bellefonte, before you insure.

TUESDAY'S WRECK.

The Eastbound Passenger Derailed Tuesday Morning.

The Eastbound passenger on Tuesday morning had hard luck. The train came in to the Centre Hall station with a doubleheader, but one engine was crippled. The passenger proceeded east, and on reaching a point about one mile below the station the engine struck a broken rail, which threw the engine, tender and front truck of the baggage car off the track.

The accident occurred in a cut, and the engine plunged into a snow drift and on one side was buried up to three-quarters its height in a well packed body of snow, which no doubt averted an awful wreck.

There were some thirty passengers on the train, twenty-four of whom were students of the dairy school connected with Pennsylvania State College, the term just having finished. The passengers were slightly shaken up, but on fluting that no one was injured, all took the misfortune in good humor. Each passenger suggested some method of getting the iron horse back on the track again, but conductor Reamer as soon as possible returned to the Centre Hall station and reported the wreck.

During the forenoon the wreck train from Sunbury put in an appearance, and set to work to put the engine and car in position. It was a difficult task. The wind had full sweep on the workmen and piled the snow on them as though they were intruders. Railroad men never give up, and shortly after seven o'clock in the evening both the passenger and work train came back to Centre Hall.

The first mishap occurred west of Centre Hall station, on the summit, a point famous for deep, solid drifts. Engineer Theodore Cherry, who has earned an enviable record for pushing snow off that summit, had made proper preparations for this particular run and came along with a double header in full steam. The snow had drifted so hard that the pilot on the front engine was broken, but Cherry pushed on and landed safely at the station. The trailing portion of the pilot did no harm until it struck the planks between the rails at the station, which were splintered up and pitched aside. Both pilots were detached, and the engines were again ready for business.

A little before nine o'clock an extra engine came from the east, and shortly after three engines attached to the passenger coaches started for Bellefonte. At about midnight the engines returned from Bellefonte, picked up the two cripples resting at this station and proceeded east.

Tired of waiting for help to come, the passengers began calculating for their personal comfort, and just at that time Liveryman D. A. Boozer came driving down the railroad track to relieve them. All the passengers were brought to the Centre Hall hotel where they took dinner and made things lively for the time being. At night the party divided, some of them going to the Old Fort Hotel.

Centre Hall was without mail for the entire day, except that brought by the stage from across the valley. The train east Thursday morning got through on time. The freight which followed an hour afterward, stuck in the drifts on the summit and had to be shoveled out.

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF CATTLE.

The Carsons, of Potters Mills, Lose Eight Head of Cattle.

Joseph Carson was the loser last week of six head of horn cattle, which died for him without apparent cause. The cattle were in good condition and up to a short time prior to death showed no symptoms of disease. The cause of the loss is supposed to have been from feeding shredded cornfodder, yet the feed is in prime condition and nothing detrimental to cattle can be discovered about it. It is more than probable that some foreign matter of a poisonous nature became mixed with the feed.

A load of the fodder was hauled to F. A. Carson's stable at Potters Mills, and in a short time two of the cattle fed from the bulk died.

Veterinary surgeon Riter is making examination to discover the cause of the trouble.

Tuberculosis Costs.

State Secretary of Agriculture John Hamilton has given out some interesting figures concerning tuberculosis among cattle in Pennsylvania. During the past year the number of cattle tested for the disease was 9,274, of which 1,227 were killed. The amount paid to owners of the infected animals was $28,339 50, on an average of $28 10 a head. When the present law went into effect four years ago, 25 per cent. of the herds examined were found to be more or less infected, while now not 10 per cent. of the herds examined have the disease.

Closing Out.

My entire stock of merchandise will be sold for cash or produce from now until March 15th, at very low prices. No better selection of goods ever found in a store of its kind, and bargains will be given as never before. Come at once. Building for rent. Two tons of bran will be sold at $17.00; two tons of middlings at $20.00.

G. H. Love, Spring Mills.

COURT ORDERS.

Bald Eagle Township Directors to Furnish Schooling.

On the south side of Bald Eagle creek and west of the borough of Mill Hall reside several Bald Eagle township families whose children, numbering about fourteen, have been attending schools in Mill Hall. The children have been sent to these schools owing to the great distance from their homes of Brown's school house and the house at Sanderson's lane. The directors of the township have been paying the Mill Hall directors for this schooling. Before the holiday vacation the Bald Eagle township directors, for some reason, notified the children that they would not pay for their schooling, and that they must attend the regular township school at the locations already named. As many of the children are small, the parents were not satisfied with the decision of the directors and presented a petition to the court asking that the directors be compelled to furnish their children suitable schooling in Mill Hall.

In answer to the petition the court has granted a rule on the school directors of Bald Eagle township to show cause why they shall not provide for the attendance of the children of the petitioners at the schools within the borough of Mill Hall. It is also ordered that the school directors of Bald Eagle township shall, during the pendency of this rule, make the temporary arrangements for the schooling of said children in the schools of Mill Hall.

Dr. Campbell Dead.

Rev. David H. Campbell, D. D., pastor of the Newton Hamilton, Mapleton and Mt. Union Presbyterian congregations died at his home at Mt. Union last week.

Fire at Milesburg.

The dwelling house of Charles Adams at Milesburg was badly damaged and much of his furniture destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. The loss is about $700.

Election Tuesday.

Go to the polls, Democrats, next Tuesday and do your whole duty. A citizen who fails to attend the spring elections is not exercising a right which should be performed by every one. Turn out, Democrats.

May Have to Resign.

C. K. Sober, the wealthy lumberman and crack shot, of Lewisburg, and a member of the State Game Commission has been working zealously with legislators to secure the passage of a law permitting the killing of game within the state. His action has aroused the indignation of his fellow commissioners, who are trying to prevent the very thing Sober seeks to accomplish, and it is probable that he will be asked by Governor Stone to resign from the board of commissioners.

Sale Bills.

The sale bills printed at the Reporter office are attracting considerable attention by printers as well as by the farmers who during March will buy the goods advertised on them. New ideas, original with the Reporter's mechanics, are introduced in the printing of poster work, and many of the sale bills now posted have been engaged to be sent to printing offices of less original tastes to enable them to ape the Reporter's ideas. The Reporter is nothing if not original. Order your posters printed here and get the best work.

Methodist Conference.

The Central Pennsylvania Methodist Episcopal Conference will meet in annual session in Chambersburg on Wednesday, March 27th, and continue in session for one week.

The Central Pennsylvania Conference is one of the largest in the connection, having 62,878 full members and 5,803 probationers. There are 248 pastoral charges, but many of these are circuits, with from two to five preaching places. In addition to those in active service there are a goodly number of veteran preachers who have retired from active service, but who always come to conference. Besides these there will be the young candidates for admission to the ministry and also the secretaries of the missionary and other benevolent societies.

League at Moore's.

The Epworth League held its monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Moore, west of Centre Hall, Monday night. A number of members of the League hitched to big sleds and landed the party at the Moore home. After the business of the League had been disposed of, refreshments were served and all enjoyed the social feature of the evening. Those present were:

J. J. and Mrs. Arney, Perry Alters, W. H. M. H. A. C., and C. D. Bartholomew, George and Sara Brown, Charles and Mrs. Barris, Ralph Bozzer, Wilbur Brand, Guy Clements, Rose J. De Woodie, Verna Dant, Manda Faltz, Samuel and Mrs. Gray, Charles Homan, W. H. and Mrs. Kresser, Clara and Mary Kennedy, John Knorr, Myrtle Koster, Mrs. A. S. Erasmus and baby, Joseph, Mrs. Ethel and Anna Lutz, Wm. Lutz, Betty McCormick, John, Mrs. Ellis, Elsie, and Thomas L. Moore, R. P. Mrs. and Baby Odendirk, Clay Reesman, Gertrude Spangler, Mrs. Jerry, John W., and Mary Stump, W. A., Mrs. W. A. Jr., and Helen Siddle, Aida Sankey, Jennie and Asher Stahl, Charles Weiser.

BRIEF LOCALS.

Gottlieb Ambruster, of Farmers' Mills, has secured a pension of $10 a month.

Emanuel Shook, stock and poultry raiser and farmer, of Spring Mills, was in town Saturday.

Commissioner Heckman Thursday morning passed through Centre Hall on his way to deliver election supplies on the south side of the county.

John Bare, from across the valley, was in town the other day and related the experiences farmers in his section had to get their cattle to watering places.

Among the families afflicted with grip is that of B. H. Arney. His whole family and hired help were suffering from the disease at the same time beginning of this week.

Jeff Hubler, who for the past year did blacksmithing opposite the school house, will move to Penn Hall in the spring where he has secured work in the coach shops of James Condo.

Merchant W. H. Meyer is no better than the ordinary run of mankind, and during the beginning of the week was laid up with the grip. The business in the store was looked after by his wife and Miss Meyer.

At the Lutheran parsonage, Centre Hall, Pa., Feb. 13, by Rev. J. M. Reaick, Mr. Robert L. Smith and Miss Florence C. Meyer were united in marriage. Both bride and groom are of Centre Hall and have the best wishes of the Reporter.

Wm. Harpster, of Freeport, Ill., was in Philadelphia last week. Mr. Harpster is a native of Centre Hall, and is one of the young men who went west more than twenty years ago, engaged in business and prospered. He is a son of Samuel Harpster, deceased.

Supervisors J. C. Kuhn, of the North and Adam Krumrine, of the South precinct of Potter, are busily engaged in keeping the roads open for travel. No effort is made to open the main road, but fences are laid open, and miles of sled tracks lead across fields.

Rev. J. M. Reaick Sunday night finished a two weeks' series of meetings in the Lutheran church in this place. Tuesday evening Rev. Dr. Schuyler, assisted by Rev. Finney, of Orbisonia, opened services in the Presbyterian church to continue two weeks.

Nine regiments of infantry will be detailed by Adjutant General Stewart to represent the Pennsylvania National Guard at the inauguration of President McKinley. The brigade commanders will designate the regiments and Major General Miller will be in command.

Landlord Runkle evidently has determined to do business within the law, and is issuing orders to minors that their lodging in the hotel is positively forbidden. Boys and professional watchers for a free drink are two elements not at all desirable in a well regulated hotel, and Mr. Runkle purposed to dispense with both.

Messrs. William and John Harpster, of Freeport, Illinois, Thursday morning arrived in Centre Hall. The former is an extensive confectioner and the latter a merchant tailor. Both grew up to manhood in Centre Hall, and are sons of Samuel Harpster, deceased. They were to Philadelphia and New York on business.

Those who shared the hospitality of the John Stuart home, at State College last Thursday evening had a delightful time, and got back just in time, in the words of Josiah Allen's wife, "to get up early, to get an early breakfast, to get an early dinner, to get an early supper, to get an early start."

The Lock Haven Street Railway has passed into the hands of a new company composed of Judge C. A. Mayer and Jacob Scott of Lock Haven; W. B. Given, of Columbia, and Senator J. Henry Cochran, of Williamsport. It is said the road will be extended to Williamsport in the near future.

For some time parties have been drilling for oil or gas or anything that could be found across in the Muncy hills, a little east of the town of Muncy, in Lycoming county. As the drill drilled away day by day the interest and excitement became greater, but all has collapsed. The hole has been drilled to a depth of 1,639 feet, but so far there has not been anything found out of which a cent of money could be made.

Dr. J. R. G. Allison, of Leroy, Bradford county, paid his father-in-law, Landlord James W. Runkle, a visit Tuesday. Dr. Allison was on his way to Spring Mills on that day having received a dispatch that his mother was seriously ill, but before reaching her bedside she was dead. The doctor likes his Bradford location and has built up a good practice. Mrs. Allison, who is not in the best of health, did not accompany him on this sad mission.

Mrs. Homer Barr, of Boalsburg, stopped with her sister Mrs. Jerre Miller, in this place Monday night and Tuesday morning took the train with the intention of proceeding to Harrisburg, where another sister, Mrs. Dr. Widger, lives. She was caught in a wreck on that morning, and was the only lady among the thirty-five passengers on the train. She returned to Centre Hall and will go to the State Capital later.

CAMPS FOR CONSUMPTIVES.

Tents Will be Erected—Outdoor Life to be Encouraged Among the Patients.

The Dauphin County Medical Society has invited Forestry Commissioner Rothrock to talk before it on his proposed scheme for the care of consumptives, and he has accepted.

Dr. Rothrock says the scheme contemplates the establishment of camps on the various forest reservations of this state which may be suitably located for the purpose where persons suffering from consumption and who have not the means to go to California and other places for their health can spend several months in the summer.

It is probable that the first camp will be opened on the reservation in Clinton county, which has an elevation of 2000 feet above the level of the sea and is free from consumption because of the purity of the air. This reservation has an area of 45,000 acres and is adjoined by two other large reservations.

It is intended to erect big "A" tents with permanent foundations and anchorages, so that they will not be blown down by the heaviest storms. These tents will have heavy wooden floors and will be placed fifteen feet apart. A wooden platform raised from the ground and covered will extend along the front of these tents, so that the invalids can take exercises on rainy days. The intention is to allow the people who care to avail themselves of this opportunity to live out-of-door lives.

Dr. Rothrock said that the state will not be asked to contribute one penny to the enterprise, but that he already has enough money subscribed to cover the expenses. The patients will be furnished with shelter free of charge, but they will have to make their own cooking arrangements. They will be required to rigidly adhere to the fish and game laws and all laws for the preservation of the forests, including precautions in the use of fire.

There is a forest reservation in Dauphin county, this side of the Lykens Valley, which has an elevation of about 1400 feet, where a camp will be established if the plan succeeds. The ultimate result of the idea is the establishment of consumptive camps on every healthy forest reservation of the state, which would be districted for the purpose.

A Costly Accident.

Paul Brown, the seven year old son of Engineer Edward Brown, of Bellefonte, met with quite a serious accident while coasting on Allegheny street, Friday night. He started down the hill from the reservoir on a small sled and when in front of Joseph's store ran into a telephone pole striking his head. His skull was fractured and the bone was forced in upon his brain. It was feared that his injuries would prove fatal. Doctors, Klump, Harris and Hayes attended the unfortunate boy and on Saturday they trepanned the skull removing part of the bone from the brain. Hopes are now entertained for his ultimate recovery.

Hand Power.

This issue of the Reporter is printed by hand power, owing to the failure of power of the old water company, which is caused by shortage of water at the company's springs. The sixteen patrons of the company are still supplied for drinking purposes. One of the company's springs which seldom shows the effect of a drought, is making a very feeble effort today.

Today, Thursday, finds the Reporter office without a drop of water.

Normal to Begin April 29.

A six weeks' musical normal course will be opened in the Foundry building, Centre Hall, by Prof. C. E. Zeigler, of Penn Hall, beginning April 29. Prof. Zeigler has issued circulars to that effect, and has many encouragements for securing a large class.

Photographer Smith.

Photographer Smith will be at his Centre Hall gallery Friday of this week. Call to see him.

Public Sale.

Leonard Rhone, of Centre Hall, will sell at his residence, Rhoneymede, three miles west of Old Fort, ninety head of live stock, embracing Morgan and French Coach horses and colts, Holstein cattle, Shropshire sheep, Berkshire swine, also farm implements. While these animals have not been registered sires for three and four generations. A rare opportunity to buy well bred stock. Sale begins at 10 a. m., March 29th, 1901.

Mardi Gras Celebrations.—New Orleans, La., Mobile, Ala., and Pensacola, Fla., February 14 to 19.

For these occasions, tickets will be sold February 12th to 18th inclusive, from Washington, D. C., and all points on the Seaboard Air Line Railway, at rate of one fare for the round trip, tickets good returning until March 7th 1901, inclusive. With its new passenger service inaugurated January 27th, the Seaboard Air Line Railway is now operating the finest and fastest trains in the South, and a trip to the Mardi Gras on one of these magnificent trains via any of their many attractive routes will certainly prove the quickest and most enjoyable. See that your tickets read via Seaboard Air Line Railway.
