

THE CENTRE REPORTER.

CENTRE HALL, PENN'A. March 14, 1901.

PERSONAL MENTION. Coming and going.—Visitors in and out of town.

Mrs. Andrew Gregg, of Lemont, is visiting her parents near this place.

Enoch Sweeney, of Boalsburg, formerly a resident of this place, was in town Monday.

England rejected the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. Secretary Hay is wondering "where are we at?"

Daniel Koeb, of Fairbrook, arrived in Millheim Monday evening, to take up his position as clerk in J. P. Condo's store.

W. A. Boal will remove from Tyronne to Centre Hall this spring, and will occupy the house in which F. A. Foreman now lives.

Miss Margaret Evans, of Potters Mills, was the guest of Mrs. W. W. Boob and Miss Gertrude Spangler several days this week.

Wm. E. Grove, of Lemont, was among the half dozen gentlemen from up the valley who had business in Centre Hall Monday.

Will Williams after spending a few weeks at his home at Lemont, has gone back to Altoona, where he is employed in a large planing mill.

James A. Wert, one of the substantial citizens from the South side of Potter township, was a caller at the Reporter office, as was also Jacob Detwiler, of the same place.

Mrs. Charles Decker, of near Lemont, will make her home with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Whiteman, in this place, until her husband locates permanently in the far west.

Will Keller is recovering from an attack of appendicitis, and will be able to close out his school term. He is teacher of the second grade school at Pine Grove Mills.

Samuel Klinefelter, who is at present farming for Hon. L. Rhone, and Milton Kline, of Pleasant Gap, tenant on the Hamilton farm, will move to the Spicher farm, on the Boalsburg road.

J. E. Reed, of Pine Grove Mills, and his uncle, J. S. Reed, of the same place, had business in Centre Hall Tuesday. The former young man spent a short time at this office and reported everything O. K. at Pine Grove Mills.

Jacob Sharer will move from his farm east of Centre Hall to the Bernard Wagner farm, near Centre Hill, owned by Merchant W. H. Meyer and the estate of A. E. Meyer. George Hettlinger will move on the Sharer farm.

W. B. Rankin, insurance agent of Bellefonte, was in town on business Monday. Mr. Rankin will have something of interest to say through the Reporter in a short time to those holding insurance in companies he represents.

John Spicher, of near Centre Hall, will become a resident of the borough in the spring, and will occupy the McCulley house on Main street. Porter Odenkirk will move into the west portion of the double house near the school building.

Malcolm D. Fleming, who has been in town, his former home, for the past four weeks, Wednesday left for Baltimore, Md. He is undecided whether he will remain east or return to Ufana, Ohio, where he had been located for the past four years.

Tuesday afternoon the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gault of Bellefonte, was the scene of a very happy and joyous event. It was the giving in marriage of their two daughters Misses Ella and Stella E. Gault to Harry E. Stover and Alfred F. Showers, respectively.

Wm. R. Homan, son of Samuel Homan, of farmers Mills, spent a short time pleasantly in the Reporter office Tuesday. Mr. Homan is home from the Central Pennsylvania college, New Berlin, for a short time. He will finish his fourth year at that institution in June, at which time he will graduate.

Jeff. M. Heckman and John Smith, of Spring Mills, were in town Tuesday. Mr. Heckman is engaged in farming, and if you want to see a stable of good horses kept like the noble animals are deserving of being cared for, you can find them under his barn roof. The farmer who takes pride in his horse stock is not likely to neglect anything else connected with the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Tressler, of near Penns Cave, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sellers in this place. Like many others during the past six months, Mr. Tressler concluded that living would be considerably more agreeable if the news of the day was obtained by reading the Reporter, and for that purpose he called at this office.

Thursday evening of last week about twenty young ladies and gentlemen spent a very pleasant evening at the residence of Mrs. Samuel Snyder. The occasion being a farewell party given by Mrs. Snyder in honor of Miss Ida C. Rhoads. Mrs. Snyder is an amiable hostess and right royally did she entertain those present. After the pleasures of the evening refreshments were served and every one went home feeling that the evening had been well spent.

Lemont.

The warm weather of the last few days has melted all the snow and this combined with Sunday night's rain raised the water in the creek until it overflowed its banks.

Linn Bottorf has secured a position in the freight department of the C. R. R. of Pa. He entered upon his new duties Monday morning. Prof. Krise will finish his term of school.

Wm. E. Miller, of the firm of Miller and Lucas, coach makers and general blacksmiths, is a hustling young man and is building up a large trade. If you want a first class buggy, sleigh, or a good job of general blacksmithing give Miller a call.

Boalsburg

The High School Athletic Association postponed their entertainment until the coming Saturday evening.

John E. Murray, of Lemont, visited his brother W. A. Murray Saturday.

Mrs. John Jacobs was called to Altoona to care for her mother, Mrs. Hannah Burchfield, who is sick at the home of her son George.

John Hook made a trip to the county seat Tuesday.

A son of George Jordan, of Shingletown, died last Tuesday and was buried on the same day at Shilo.

Mrs. Thomas Hunter and her two daughters left Friday morning for New Castle, for a visit of several weeks.

D. B. Thomas, of Shingletown, sold a fine horse for one hundred and fifty dollars to Thomas Decker, of State College.

A young daughter arrived at the home of Foster Jordan last Saturday.

Rev. Love, of Spruce Creek, exchanged pulpits with Rev. Hepler last Sunday.

The auditors met in the town hall on Monday with the out going officials to audit their accounts.

Examination will be held Saturday, March 23, by the principal of the schools, for the purpose of examining those seeking admission to the Grammar School and also to the High School. Examinations for diplomas will be held at the same time by a committee appointed by County Superintendent.

Potters Mills.

Mrs. Susan Burkholder, of Milroy, is visiting her many friends at this place.

John Slack will move on his farm next Tuesday.

Thomas Palmer, son of James Palmer, has a fine lot of chicks about three months old; they will certainly be the first on the market.

Miss Laura Faust has returned home to stay.

Alex McCoy lost a fine horse last week with lock jaw.

A. C. Alexander is very happy, and says the two little boys may stay.

Millheim.

Messrs. Hancock, Angle and West, of Danville, were in town Monday attending to some business relative to the hosiery mill.

Mrs. J. C. Smith returned to her home on Penn street on Monday, after having spent several weeks with her parents, near Salona.

The rain Saturday and Sunday, together with the melting snow and ice, almost flooded part of the town. The lower part of Main street was under water and it came very near running into one or two of the houses whose foundations are not very high. On Penn street it was not so bad, and although nearly all of the cellars on the west side of the street were flooded, no serious damage was done.

Prof. H. N. Meyer and wife, of Penn Hall, took up their residence in a part of Mrs. Sarah Campbell's house, on Main street Monday.

After having visited his parents in this place for the last few weeks, Clayton Maize left for his home in Illinois last Thursday; he was accompanied by Robert Funk, a son of Calvin Funk on North street, who will work for him next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morris and their little son Harold, of Clearfield, are spending some time in town as guests at the homes of Dr. F. E. Gutelius and C. H. Morris.

Miss Lizzie Gutelius, of Millinburg, spent Sunday at the home of Dr. F. E. Gutelius, on Main street.

Prof. H. I. Brungart, of Rebersburg, transacted business in town Tuesday.

Rebersburg.

The young people of town, a crowd of twenty, had a party at the hotel last Friday night, and spent a delightful evening. At eleven o'clock they were called to the dining room, where they partook of oysters, ice cream and cake. It is needless to say every one had a delightful time, which was largely due to the royal entertainment of Miss Annie Nearhood.

Mrs. Susan Strohecker, one of the oldest ladies of town, has been ill for over a week.

Quite a number of the houses in town had water in their cellars Monday, caused by the heavy rains on Sunday night.

Spring Mills.

Sleighting is a thing of the past. H. M. Cain is able to be about again. Mrs. O. T. Coman and children are visiting Mrs. Coman's mother, at Madisonburg.

Mrs. Willis Rishell, of Montgomery, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Ruhl.

Maurice Runkle, of Bellefonte, was here visiting her many friends.

Emanuel Smith and son Gurney, of Potters Mills, Sundayed with his mother and brother. Mr. Smith is one of the leading merchants of that town.

The late rains have made the roads almost impassable on account of the deep snow drifts; the water in Penns creek is back high.

D. H. Ruhl's sale was well attended; everything brought good prices.

There will be more renters than houses this spring.

Mother Neese has been housed up with grip for several weeks.

Miss Bertha Wolf, of Centre Hall, visited at the home of J. Wells Evans Saturday and Sunday.

Ray Allison, of Howard, has accepted a clerkship in C. P. Long's store.

The rain Sunday night raised the creek so high that some of the houses were in danger; should the ice make a break it might cause damage along the creek.

Smith, the Photographer.

W. W. Smith, the Photographer, wishes you to sit for photos Friday of this week at his gallery at Centre Hall.

Business Stand for Sale.

W. W. Boob, of Centre Hall, offers for sale his private residence, business place, and established retail carriage and wagon hardware trade. This is a first-class stand for any one wanting to carry a general line of hardware in addition to the above. The established trade in bicycles, plumbing supplies, etc., will be included in the deal. The location is the best to be had in the town. Satisfactory reason will be given for selling. This will be a good opportunity for a hustler who will act quick.
