CENTRE HALL, PA., THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 1901.

NO. 13.

CENTRE COUNTY S. S. CONVENTION

Will Meet in Millsburg Tuesday, April 23.
—Dr. Roads Will be Present.

The Annual Convention of the Centre County Sunday School Association will be held in the M. E. Church at Millsburg, Pa., Tuesday, April 23, 1901. Rev. Chas. Roads, D. D., General State Secretary will address a mass meeting in the church on Monday evening and have a part of the program of each of the three sessions of the convention proper. His addresses promise to be intensely interesting and very practical. Subjects will be announced with full program later. Mrs. M. G. Kennedy, President of the State Primary Council, editor of the Junior quarterly bearing her name and who has written on the Sunday school lessons for about thirty years, will represent the primary and junior work. These speakers with other talent to be added will hold a convention that will be well worth attending. Note the date, and plan to attend. Each school is entitled, indeed is asked to send their pastor, superintendent, superintendent of the primary department and two delegates. All are invited to come.

Contributions from individuals or from schools, one cent each per member or more are earnestly solicited by the County Association. In addition to the local expense there is the pledge of thirty dollars to the State Association. Schools may help themselves by being fully represented, and the association greatly by sending offerings. Gifts from individuals greatly appreciated.

The Reporter's Circulation.

The Reporter today has a larger circulation than it ever enjoyed since its establishment. The Reporter circulates exclusively among people who pay for the paper because they want the news that is in it. The Reporter is read by all of its subscribers, which makes it an ideal advertising medium. This fact is appreciated by business men, and an examination of the Reporter's pages will verify the statement.

Easter Service.

An appropriate Easter service will be held in the Lutheran church Sunday evening. Much of the program will be participated in by children.

YOUNG MAN DEAD.

Mr. Brown Died from the Effects of an Injury Received in a Stone Quarry.

George W. Brown, of Spring Mills, who was employed at the Nagney stone quarry, in Millin county for the past four months, last Monday, the 25th, while he was trying to pry loose some rock, his foot hold slipped and he fell into the quarry below. A large rock at which he was prying went tumbling after him, striking him on the abdomen and bursting his bladder which rendered his condition critical. He was removed to his boarding place where his sister Lizzie and brother Wallace cared for him. He remained in this condition until last Friday, at four o'clock when his death occurred.

His remains were taken to the home of his father, at Spring Mills Saturday, from which place the funeral was held Sunday afternoon, interment being made in the Presbyterian cemetery at that place. The services were conducted by Rev. Koontz; and were largely attended.

George was a son of Emanuel Brown, north of Spring Mills; his age was twenty-four years, nine months and twenty-two days.

Voluntary Observation Station.

Centre Hall has been made a voluntary observation station, and the appliances for such a station will reach the Reporter office within a few weeks. This outfit will be of the most improved style, and the observations taken will prove a great benefit to the community. It might be said too, that it will be useless for any one to write to the department and tell them "not to send" these fixtures, "because, etc., because." The appliances will be here and will be looked after by the Reporter.

Word from the "Boys."

Milton S. Benner, of Tusseyville, one of the half dozen young men who went west a few weeks ago, and located at Wilton Center, Ill., writes that all the boys have secured places and there is room for many more; they are receiving good wages and are living within two miles of each other and with good families. Farm work had not begun on April 1; the roads were very muddy, which means that mud is knee deep.

THREE DEATHS AT MADISONBURG.

Benjamin Roush, David Shaffer and Mrs. Reuben Grimm Laid to Rest.

BENJAMIN ROUSH.

Benjamin Roush died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jacob Deitrick, in Madisonburg, Tuesday of this week. The deceased was one of the most prominent citizens in his locality, and during his life time had accumulated considerable wealth, and unlike most fathers, gave almost his entire wealth to his children as the time came for them to start out on the pathway of life.

Mr. Roush spent his early years in the vicinity of Freeburg, Snyder county where he was born July 19, 1820, and received such educational advantages as the schools of that locality then afforded. Under his father's instructions he became familiar with the details of the shoemaker's trade, which he followed until he was twenty-five years of age, saving from his wages about $600. In March 13, 1849, he was married in Gregg township to Miss Margaret Hoy. He began farming on the Hoy homestead at that time and remained there until 1880, when he moved to Madisonburg.

May 30, 1889, his wife, a fine Christian character, a devoted member of the Reformed church, died. Five children survive: John H., is a farmer in Gregg township; Sarah J., wife of Adam H. Vonada, of Miles township; Mary A., wife of D. D. Royer, of same township; Jeremiah L., a minister of the Reformed church, and located at Pennsburg, Montgomery county, Pa. His sons and daughters have without exception taken honorable positions in life, and make a family of whom any parent would be proud.

Politically the deceased was a Democrat and held many minor offices in the district in which he lived.

DAVID SHAFER.

David Shaffer, one of the foremost citizens of Miles township, died Sunday at 12 o'clock at his home in Madisonburg. The funeral took place Wednesday. His death was caused by an attack of pneumonia. His age was seventy-five years.

The deceased engaged in farming until some few years ago, when he retired and moved to the last scene of his death.

He was the father of Grant Shaffer, who died a few months ago at Johnstown of typhoid fever; Mrs. Kleckner Roush, of Reading; and Mrs. William Rishel, Farmers Mills.

MRS. REUBEN GRIMM.

Elizabeth, wife of Reuben Grimm, died at her home in Madisonburg Wednesday morning. The deceased was in delicate health for some months, and for the past month or more was confined to bed, suffering from chronic heart trouble. She was a member of the Reformed church, and her pastor, Rev. Wetzel, will perform the funeral services.

The deceased's maiden name was Elizabeth Shaffer. Her marriage to Mr. Grimm took place February 22, 1855. The husband and two children survive: Lewis S., a jeweler, in Lebanon, Kansas, and Charles L., at home. She was a sister of Samuel B. Shaffer, of Old Fort; Jonathan Shaffer, of Lock Haven; and William Shaffer, of Zion. Her birth occurred July 3, 1835.

Sold Lots.

Prof. H. C. Rothrock, of Millheim, and James C. Reed, of Shingletown, met in Centre Hall Saturday and signed papers by which the latter becomes owner of thirty-six acres of land adjoining Boalsburg, formerly the property of the former. Mr. Reed is one of the Sparr heirs, and owns other land in the vicinity of Boalsburg.

Centre Hill.

The movings are about over for this year; there were quite a number in this section. J. C. Bible now occupies the Strohm property and is postmaster at this place; he will be assisted by his daughter, Miss Lizzie.

The sale of A. E. Meyer, deceased, was well attended and amounted to over two thousand dollars. Mrs. Meyer will move to Centre Hall Thursday.

Wit. Lee, of Centre Hall, and his cousin Clyde, of Hubbersburg, called in this vicinity Saturday evening. They were unfortunate enough to break a buggy wheel and had to return earlier than they had expected.

Bruce W. Ripka was seen driving his Hambletonian colt purchased at J. C. Bible's sale; he thinks she is all right.

BRIEF LOCALS.

Sunday was a delightful day; Monday ditto.

John Snavelly, of Spring Mills, is erecting a new stable.
