

THE COMING OF EASTER.

It is just as natural for women to put on new shoes on Easter Day as it is for them to put on new hats. And the Easter display of footwear is just as appropriate as the Easter show of hats.

CHURCH APPOINTMENTS.

Presbyterian—Centre Hall, 10.30 a. m.; Spring Mills, 2.30 p. m. Reformed—Centre Hall, 7 p. m.; Union, 10 a. m.; Spring Mills, 2.30 p. m.

Examination for Permanent Certificates. The Committee appointed to examine candidates for permanent certificates will meet in the arbitration room Bellefonte, Friday, 19th inst.

Pan-American Stamps. The Pan-American series of postage stamps, in 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, and 10 cent denominations, will be ready for issue to postmasters about April 25, to be placed on sale to the public May the 1st and until October 31st, 1901.

Married Tuesday. The marriage of Miss Helen Beaver Malin, daughter of W. L. Malin, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Telephone Supply Company, and Frank McCoy Shugert, son of the late J. D. Shugert, took place Tuesday.

Next Week's Issue. Next week's issue of the Reporter will contain the usual amount of reading matter. The columns have been crowded with advertising during the last month, which is a good indication, but the Reporter readers will be served with reading matter as well as with advertisements.

Marriage Licenses. Elias F. Rickert and Minnie C. Horner, Colyer. John W. Kelley, Filmore, and Alice Roan, Bellefonte. F. McCoy Shugert and Helen Beaver Malin, Bellefonte.

Dr. Schaeffer appointed. Governor Stone last week appointed Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, of Le Centre, to be Superintendent of Public Instruction, to serve for the term of four years from April 1, 1901.

Fire at the Foundry. A brisk fire in the paint room of the Centre Hall foundry Wednesday morning came near reaching such a point as to be uncontrollable. A number of partially finished cornplaters are stored in that room, and to protect them they are covered with newspapers.

Success is a periodical especially adapted to the wants of young business men, and young men who are casting about for openings which they are able to fill. Every number has words of encouragement and suggestions that are invaluable.

HISTORICAL NOTES.

Centre Hall and Surrounding Country Will be Written up by an Historian. The Reporter, beginning with next week's issue, will contain historical notes from the pen of Mr. J. D. Murray, of Centre Hall, who has been a citizen of this place for fifty years, and is acquainted with the local history of this section as far back as one hundred years, having the same from his parents and grandparents.

Normal Music School. The Centre Hall Normal Music School will open its spring sessions April 29, and continue for six weeks. For further information write to C. E. Zeigler, Director, Penn Hall, Pa.

Fifty Charming Stage Beauties, 25 Cent. Edna Hopper, Blanch Bates, Zelma Rawlston, Verona Jarbeau, Mazie Follette, Madge Lessing, Three beautiful new ones Edna May, etc. All 10 cents. Broadway Co., 1123 Broadway, N. Y.

Town Hall for Pine Grove Mills. The L. O. O. F., No. 279, of Pine Grove Mills, contemplate building a fine hall on the diamond of that place. Specifications of the hall can be seen at the office of Register Archey, Bellefonte, from April 15th to 20th, and after the latter date up to May 1, at the office of J. B. Heberling, Pine Grove Mills.

Incendiary at Mackeyville. There is no longer any doubt that there is a fire fiend in the vicinity of Mackeyville. The house on William Kreamer's place in the gap and Heckman's saw mill were burned about a year ago, and a few days ago the barn on what was formerly the Rachael Hines property, was fired. All these buildings were within a mile of each other and all were set on fire.

Military Opening. Mrs. Lucy Henney returned today, Thursday, from Eastern cities, where she selected the finest assortment of spring and summer goods ever brought to this town. Her opening will be on Saturday, April 13th, when the ladies are invited to call and examine her goods.

Transfer of Real Estate. Alfred R. Lee to John C. Bible, March 26, 1901, for 108 perches, Potter township; consideration $1100. Amos Kauffman to Edwin K. Smith, April 1, 1901, for two acres, College township; consideration, $1000.

Select School. Prof. C. R. Neff will open an eight weeks' term of school at Tusseyville, beginning on May 6th, 1901. Prospective teachers and others will find this an excellent school. Terms moderate. Good boarding can be had near the school building. For additional information inquire of J. J. SPANGLER, Tusseyville, Pa.

Boalsburg. R. B. Farrison, L. S. Bricker and C. D. Moxe were to the county seat last Saturday. The water pipes that were frozen for the last few weeks are all open and there is an abundance of water; the supply will likely not get as low as it was last summer.

Public Sale Register. APR. 12, Saturday, at one o'clock, p. m., personal property of J. G. Deisinger and Mrs. Lucy Henney. MAY 4—At the late residence of David Shaffer, Dec 5, Adamsburg; household goods, carpenter tools, potatoes, corn, etc. Also a horse and lot in Madam's yard seven acres of timber land. Sold at one o'clock.

WEIGHING OF MAIL.

Centre Hall Postoffice Dispatched 4824 Lbs. and Received 4705 Lbs. in 42 Days. The postmasters were notified to weigh all mail matter dispatched and received, beginning February 20. The order was kept in force until April 9, making a total of forty-two days. During that time the Centre Hall office, of which Capt. Geo. M. Boal is postmaster, received 4705 pounds and dispatched 2620 pounds, making a total in pounds of 7325. The showing is very good.

Local Company Pushing Work. The Susquehanna and Juniata Telephone Company is pushing work rapidly in Millin county. A half dozen or more men are putting up poles and wires in Milroy, and others are putting in phones. More than a dozen phones have already been put in, and Milroy connected with the outside world. A large number of phones will be taken from the new company at Reedsburg, and an exchange located at that place.

Back to His First Love. C. H. Murray, formerly of this place, is the editorial writer of the Evening Mail, a new daily publication issued at Colorado Springs, Colorado. Mr. Murray's ambition was to become the editorial writer of an ideal newspaper, and that ambition is practically attained in his present position. He held a position as reporter on a leading New York paper some years ago, after which he came to Bellefonte, read law and was admitted to the bar. Later he practiced that profession in Philadelphia, and Colorado Springs, and the change of business is merely returning to his "first love."

Lawsuit Over Mad Dog Bite. Frank H. Smith has sued the borough of Selingsgrove for $200 damages, because his child was bitten by a mad dog in the streets of Selingsgrove and the case has been decided against him. He will appeal to the Superior Court. Smith alleges that the borough had ample notice of the presence of rabid dogs in the town, and was in duty bound to protect citizens against them.

The Largest County. A census bulletin on the area in square miles of the various counties showed that Lycoming is the largest county in Pennsylvania, the area in miles being 1,240. Tioga is second with 1,180 and Clearfield third with 1,141, while Bradford follows closely with 1,140. Philadelphia is the smallest county with 139 square miles, and Montour comes next with 142.

Representative Cressy's scheme of raising something like $2,000,000 a year for road improvement, by a tax of one mill on the personal property and capital stock of corporations and the receipts of banks and foreign insurance companies, was approved by the House. The Brosius road bill, with Cressy's revenue-raising amendment, was passed finally by the House.

Charles H. Hamby, No. 158, North Eighth Street, Philadelphia, has one of the prettiest and well stocked jewelry stores in that city, and is doing a thriving retail and wholesale business. Mrs. Hamby is the eldest daughter of John Y. Glasgow, of Colyer.

Read the advertisement of G. O. Benner, of the Star Store, who has engaged his present space for a year. He has had an advertisement in every issue of the Reporter since the paper is under the present management. Mr. Benner advertises because it makes him business and not for fun.

Messrs. John Spicher and Samuel Klinefelter were callers Tuesday. Mr. Klinefelter and family were so pleased with an issue of the Reporter that they concluded to become regular readers, and put himself on record for a year. He is at present living on Mr. Spicher's farm, near Centre Hall.

The Bohemian, a publication whose fifth number appeared this month, has many features that commend itself to the reading public. The April number is brim full of the choicest articles by such writers as Frank Alchester Ferguson, Margherite Arlinga Harmon, Ida Mansfield Wilson, and many other well known authors.

The inter-collegiate debate between teams from State College and Dickinson College will take place, April 23rd. The subject of the debate will be: "Resolved, That the representation of Mississippi in the House of Representatives be decreased in proportion to the decrease in franchise resulting from her suffrage legislation." The affirmative side in the contest will be supported by State College, the negative by Dickinson College.

Mrs. Elizabeth Searfoss, of York, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. Meyer, of this place, and will remain in the valley for a week or more with friends and relatives. Mrs. Searfoss years ago lived at Centre Hill, and is a daughter of Robert Lee, deceased. Ethel Shedd, also of York, a grandchild, accompanied her. This little girl is being trained in elocution and gave an exhibition of her skill in the Lutheran church Saturday night. William Searfoss, a son, is an artist and is located in Philadelphia; and Mrs. Wm. F. Campbell, a daughter, lives in Williamsport, and Robert is engaged in business at Conowingo, Md.

BRIEF LOCALS.

Miss Anna Mauck, of Salona, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Smith, at Millheim. Benjamin S. Crain, a veteran of the civil war, died at his home in Phillipsburg, at the age of seventy years.

Harry Buck, a student at the Central Pennsylvania College, at New Berlin, spent Easter at his home in Millheim. Walter Woods, son of Dr. Woods, of Pine Grove Mills, of the class of '03, returned to his studies at Lafayette College Monday.

Harry Condo and wife, of York, Pa., arrived in Millheim last Wednesday, and will spend some time at the home of J. P. Condo. Hon. L. Rhone Thursday of last week went to Harrisburg in the interest of legislation that will be of practical benefit to farmers.

John and Win. Love, two industrious young men of Tusseyville, left a week ago for Freeport, Illinois, where they succeeded in getting employment. Miss Beulah Fortney, of Boalsburg, for the past two weeks, has been visiting her uncle, Dr. McCormick, at Hubbersburg.

Will Fisher, of Sunbury, accompanied by his wife and bright little boy, spent part of last week at Boalsburg with the former's mother, Mrs. Amanda Fisher.

The barber shop is still in the hands of Jerre Miller. The statement in last week's issue that it was sold was made by Mr. Miller's son, but it appears the sale did not materialize.

David F. and Margaret C. Young, of Tusseyville, were callers Tuesday. They are administrators of the estate of David C. Young, deceased, and offer the real estate of said decedent at private sale.

Henry Stoner, of Tusseyville, was one of the callers at this office Tuesday. He thinks the prospects for a wheat crop are very fair, but that the snow of last week was detrimental to the wheat plants.

Don't kick about the advertisements in the newspaper. Live advertisements in a live newspaper indicate a live town. Besides, the advertisements may be worth more to the reader than the news matter.

N. B. Spangler, Esq., of Bellefonte, this week announces to the voters of Centre county, that he is a candidate for renomination to the office of district attorney, which position he is faithfully filling at present.

Judge Love refused to grant a hotel license in Eagleville. The petition for license was from A. Hanna, of Lock Haven. The question greatly agitated the people of Liberty township, as is usually the case, the sentiment was divided.

Chester, son of G. B. McCormick, of Pine Grove Mills, is laid up for repairs with a broken collar bone, caused by being thrown from a coll, which he was trying to break. Dr. Glenn adjusted the fracture, but Chester is spending sleepless nights.

THE STAR STORE.

ESTABLISHED 1889.

G. O. BENNER,

PROPRIETOR.

It is the common by-word going the rounds now that the little store on the flat iron corner at the station is the busiest store in town. No doubt your neighbor has told you, but when we can give you such good reasons why we are busy we know you will lot of reading the old story over and over again. Selling for cash, paying no rents or drayage, buying goods from cash houses who employ no salesmen and lastly, but not least, selling at close margins. This is the story true and simply told.

THE STAR.

A False Report. A report has been widely circulated that the undersigned is selling wall paper below cost. This statement is absurd and of course not correct, but having been actively engaged in the wall paper business for over thirty years, I flatter myself that I thoroughly understand the business and know exactly when and how to buy wall paper, which fact enables me to defy all competition, and to sell at prices lower than can be bought elsewhere. Please call, examine my stock and be convinced. GEO. W. DUNKLE, april-3t Spring Mills, Pa.
