The little sock we'll give to you Is not for you to wear.
But use it as we tell to you, And do not have the fear To multiply your size by two, And place therein with care, In pennies, (or any coin will do,) Just twice the size you wear.

So if you wear a number ten,
You owe us twenty, see!
Drop them in this in the sock; then
You will fill our hearts with giee.
It isn't much, 'tis all we ask,
You'll never miss the money,
And it will be as sweet to you
As the Sacred milk and honey.

Come vourself, and bring your friends,
As every one's invited;
The more the merriar, so come!
But do not get excited
And leave at home coins for your sock,
And feel like one benighted.

A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to come and receive a sock to put their coins into, and we feel sure you will not regret having given us the small amount it will require, freshments will be served.
