Lecture in Presbyterian Church.

On Tuesday evening, May 28th, Judge A. O. Furst, of Bellefonte, will give a description of the Passion Play, in the Presbyterian church at this place, an account of which is given on page four. All are invited.

Historical Notes.

The Historical notes by Mr. J. D. Murray appear this week again, and will regularly hereafter. The notes are very favorably commented on by the Reporter readers, who ask that he go into minute details when dealing with the early history of Centre Hall.

Sentence was Suspended.

Guy Z. Wise, the young postoffice clerk who was arrested last winter on the charge of robbing the mails at Altoona, was arraigned for trial in the United States court at Pittsburg last week. He admitted his guilt and pled for mercy. Judge Buffington suspended sentence.

Democratic Primaries.

Chairman John J. Bower of the Democratic County Committee, issued his call for the holding of the primaries Saturday, June 1, and the convention Tuesday following. Let every Democrat in Centre county turn out to the primaries, and thus show their interest in the welfare of the Democratic county organization.

Not Tuberculous.

Veterinary Surgeon W. H. Fry, of Pine Grove Mills, stakes his reputation in the profession on the statement that the cattle of Dr. Kent, on the Potter homestead, are not affected with tuberculosis. Such a story had been circulated, but the truth is that a cow belonging to Dr. Kent was afflicted with tuberculous tumors, two of which were removed by Surgeon Fry, and those remaining will be removed without a surgical operation.

Conference at Pine Grove Mills.

The Northern Conference of the Lutheran Synod of Central Pennsylvania met in Pine Grove Mills this week, adjourning Wednesday evening. The sessions were well attended and proved highly interesting. About twenty-five ministers and delegates were present. Rev. Charles D. Russell, of Phillipsburg, was elected president, and Rev. Herman, of Lock Haven secretary. Wednesday afternoon was devoted to the children.

A Fine Puppie.

Miss Laura Runkle, daughter of J. W. Runkle, proprietor of the Centre Hall hotel, received by express from New York a fine puppie. The dog originally came from Porto Rico, having been brought from that island to New York on the Schoolehip Saratoga, by Miss Runkle's cousin, George Runkle, who holds a commission in the commissary department of the Saratoga. The puppie is snow white, shaggy-haired, and is fed on Mellon's condensed milk which he relishes.

Wool Factory Burned. The Rich Brothers' woolen factory at Woolrich, Clinton county, was destroyed by fire Tuesday morning. The loss is estimated at $50,000; insurance $9,000.

Barn Sails Aloft.

A cyclone struck a large barn near Nantyglo, Pa., and carried it over a dwelling house. The house was not touched, but the chimney was knocked clear off. The barn was carried several hundred yards, and now lies in a wrecked heap.

Important Decision.

According to a decision of Judge Love in the case of the Taylor township school board versus the firm of Stanciliff & Co., a contract entered into on the day any elective body's tenure of office expires is illegal, as the term of office of the old body expired under the law the day previous.

The Reporter in 1921.

On another page will be found extracts from an issue of the Reporter that will appear June 1, 1921. Twenty years is a good ways ahead for correct prediction, but when the time comes, hunt up an issue of today's paper and compare notes, and you may be surprised at the correctness of the prognosticator.

Almost an Epidemic.

A peculiar affliction of many residents of the valley has almost become epidemic. The trouble starts with a sore throat and afterwards the neck of the patient becomes swollen and stiff, making the person afflicted walk with an air of dignity approaching a millionaire. Those who are suffering from this particular affliction today are Messrs. Aaron Thomas, and W. W. Boob, of this place.

Frost-Jack.

Frost, the jack in nature, could not let May go by without a visit, and accordingly was on board Tuesday morning. Jack looks about the same as he did when he was first introduced to the readers of the Reporter, except that he had his hair clipped quite recently and consequently his power for destruction was reduced, which accounts for him not doing any perceptible damage in this locality.

Attending Classes.

Rev. G. W. Kershner, of Centre Hall, and delegate Dr. G. W. Hosterman, will attend the Reformed Classis which meets at Selingsgrove Wednesday.

Rev. A. A. Black, of Boalsburg, will also be in attendance. The delegate elected from his charge is Jesse B. Piper, Pine Grove Mills; alternate, Philip Wert, Houseville.

Rev. Thomas L. Bickle, of Bellefonte, will be accompanied by delegate C. M. Bower, Esq.

The retiring president of the Classis is Rev. T. L. Barnhart, of West Milton, and W. A. Haas, Secretary, Selingsgrove.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Joseph Spangler, of Freeport, Ill., formerly of near this place, writes that on May 3, the crops looked very promising in Illinois and that farmers were about ready to plant corn.

P. Gross Yearick, of Philadelphia, is making his annual May visit to Centre County friends at present. This week he is the guest of his mother, and sister Mrs. W. B. Mingle, at this place.

Rev. Dr. W. H. Schuyler departed Wednesday for Philadelphia where he will attend the Presbyterian General Assembly in session the next ten days. He will also visit his daughter Eloise, who is an instructor in one of the schools at Landdowne.

Strange how these high officials can look after the affairs of a great government but are not able to handle their own. McKinley was a striking illustration of this, and now we have former Secretary of the Treasury Charles Foster going into bankruptcy with over $700,000 of debts and no assets.

Judge S. J. Hanna and wife, of Boston, are spending a week at the home of W. H. Bartholomew. Judge Hanna when a boy lived on the Mrs. Mollie Ross farm, at Farmers Mills, but left there for the west when nine years old and later located in Boston, where he now edits two periodicals, "Christian Scientist" and "Sentinel."

James H. Lohr, of 1716 Bailey Street, Philadelphia, accompanied by his son and daughter, arrived at the home of his father, William Lohr, in this place Friday of last week and returned home Monday. Mr. Lohr began railroading under foreman James Smetzler as a trackman and was later called to the main office of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Broad Street Station, where he has since held a position.

Miss Bessie C. Walker, daughter of A. S. Walker, of Pine Grove Mills, and Royal Otis Miller, of Stoyestown, Somerset county, were married at the home of Dr. Clara C. Walker, aunt of the bride, Baltimore, Wednesday of this week. At home after June 1st, at Stoyestown. Miss Walker taught the primary school at Pine Grove Mills, and has a number of personal friends in and about Centre Hall who wish her continued happiness in her new home. Rev. C. T. Aiken, of Pine Grove Mills, performed the marriage ceremony.

FARMER JOHN KENNEDY.

Former Jeweler and Agent has a Promising Outlook for Harvest.

John Q. A. Kennedy as a farmer has much to be thankful for just now, having proven himself equal to the situation as a farmer. The condition of the crops on his farm are more promising today than they have been in years. It is safe to say that not within a period of fifteen years has there been as many acres of wheat on the old Lingle homestead looking so perfect. In fact the forty acres of wheat are the envy of the neighbors. When this particular crop was put out, the seeding being finished October 17, Mr. Kennedy's farming was smiled at, but today Mr. Kennedy is smiling. The crop was put out in the usual way with the addition of a liberal application of phosphate purchased from W. D. Bradford.

Twenty acres of rye on the same farm are looking all right today. The rye was sown October 27, but did not come up last fall, but is up in earnest now. The rye was sown in corn stalks, the field being prepared with the harrow.

The Sock Social.

The sock social held in Grange Arcadia Saturday night was repeated Tuesday night at the same place on account of the heavy rains keeping many away from the hall who otherwise would have been present. The sock social has many unique features. The program on both occasions was highly interesting and exceptionally well executed. The recitations by the Misses Bartholomew and Mrs. De Woody were very well performed. Mrs. Thomas L. Moore, Mrs. S. S. Kreamer, Miss Helen Bartholomew, Will Sandoe and Prof. Crawford are each deserving of praise for the manner in which they entertained the audience with vocal music. Ted Bartholomew, the young musician, presided at the organ. The receipts for the first night were $25.00, and the second, $13.05.

Athletics. Pastor Says, are Immoral.

During a spirited debate which arose in the convention of the Susquehanna Synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church in Williamsport, over a motion to insert a clause in the constitution forbidding synod beneficiary students studying for the ministry engaging in athletic contests, the Rev. J. G. Griffith, pastor of the Lutheran church of the Redeemer of that city, declared that athletics are immoral. He gave as a reason that they are usually accompanied by gambling, and therefore are as bad as the saloon. The Rev. Mr. Rudisill, a former member of the Gettysburg College, championed athletics, and the clause was defeated.

Gathering of Church People.

There was a happy gathering at the Reformed parsonage at Boalsburg the other day when the meeting of the joint consistory took place at the home of pastor, Rev. A. A. Black. The deacons and elders of the charge were accompanied by their wives, and in all the party numbered forty-five, all of whom dined at the parsonage and spent the afternoon in a social way. The business of the body was dispatched in the morning.

"The Inheritors."

A new novel by Joseph Conrad, author of "Lord Jim," and Ford M. Hueffer, entitled "The Inheritors," will be published by McClure, Phillips & Co., May 15. The action takes place in England, where the characters move in literary and high political circles, and also in Paris, in the home of the faded aristocrats of the Faubourg St. Germain.

Snow in Clinton County.

There was a fierce snow squall lasting for an hour or more in Sugar Valley Sunday afternoon. Monday morning there was frost in many parts of the county.

Thomas Nail, the chorister, of Rankietown, assisted by Samuel Rupp, held their first singing at the residence of Frank Kerstetter. Mr. Nail is a champion singer, his contralto voice is charming.

MR. KRYDER HURT.

Horse Ran Away. Occupants of Buggy Thrown Out and Injured.

Messrs. C. N. Kryder and Wm. F. Flory Friday afternoon started across the valley on a fishing expedition that ended in laying the former up for repairs for a week or more, and somewhat shaking up the latter. As this fishing party was driving leisurely along the pike near Centre Hill, one side of the shafts came loose and dropped on the horses heels which frightened him. The buggy, of course, ran to the side and over an embankment, which threw the occupants to the ground with great force. Mr. Kryder sustained a severe sprain of the right knee joint, and other bruises, which has since disabled him except a little moving about in the house by the use of a crutch. Mr. Flory escaped more fortunately, and only received light injuries.

The horse became detached from the buggy after the latter upset over the embankment and started on a jolly run toward Centre Hall, where he was captured none the worse for the accident.

Fingers Cut Off.

George, a son of Ellis Horner, of near Pleasant Gap, had the misfortune to have his fingers caught in a stove saw Tuesday morning. The second and third fingers of the left hand were cut off entirely at the second joint and the first badly lacerated. Dr. W. E. Park dressed the wounds, which were very painful.

THE STAR STORE.

ESTABLISHED 1889. G. O. BENNER PROPRIETOR.

The growth of our business is simply phenomenal, every week far ahead of the previous.

Did you ever stop to think how much of a factor The Star Store at the station has been in bringing down and keeping down the price on many articles of merchandise? During these few years you have been the gainer, as well as we, from the fact that you have bought your goods at the right figures and because of your liberal patronage, we have moved many goods.

Did you ever notice how fearless we quote you prices? You understand that the store that gives you a price is not afraid of you getting a lower one. The store that gives you the actual price, not an article quoted from one price to another, but the low and only price.

It's the old story, no rents, no drayage, being close by depot, buying for cash and only from cash houses who employ no salesmen, and lastly but surely not least selling for cash. This is it in its simplest form. Is it not plain? Furthermore we have and will continue to make prices that our competitors do not even attempt to follow.
