The Democratic primaries will be held Saturday between the hours of 3 and 7 p. m. While there is no contest for honors in the county, Democrats should turn out at any rate. The candidates, M. I. Gardner for Prothonary, and N. B. Spangler, Esq., for District Attorney, should receive the endorsement of every Democrat on Saturday.

Rapid Stave Sawing.

Harvey Hoover, who operates a stave saw on the McNitt mill west of Centre Hall, Friday of last week made the remarkable record of sawing thirteen hundred staves in thirty-six minutes. This includes one stop, the saw belt having run off. The mill on an average saws ten thousand per day.

It will take eight months to saw out the tract the mill is located on. The McNitts have about closed a deal by which they will become owners of about four hundred acres more timberland immediately west of the present operations, necessitating the removal of the mill but a half mile west.

Reviewing Road.

Al. Dale, Esq., of Bellefonte, Samuel Slack, Potters Mills, and Capt. G. M. Boal, Centre Hall, Monday performed the office of their appointment by court to review a road leading from Fiedler to Pine Creek at a point near the residence of Nicodemus Luse. A few months ago T. M. Gramley and J. L. Condo, Spring Mills, and Horace Herring, Esq., Penn Hall, viewers, granted a road from the points mentioned above. A remonstrance was sent into court, and the first named jury was appointed reviewers of the same. It is anticipated the reviewers will report adversely.

THE PINEY COAL AND OIL COMPANY

Met at Centre Hall Saturday—Organization Effected 1895.

The Piney Coal and Oil Company in pursuance of a call of the President, H. Y. Stitzer, Esq., and Acting Secretary N. B. Spangler, of Bellefonte, met at the Centre Hall hotel Saturday of last week. There were eleven stockholders present, representing about two-thirds of the stock. The only business transacted was to authorize the directors to sell the real estate in the company's possession.

The stock holders or representatives who attended this meeting are appended:

The tract of land which this corporation owns in Clarion county, Pa., on Pine creek, eight or nine miles from Clarion, and is comprised of one hundred and six acres. At a previous meeting of the corporation N. B. Spangler, Esq., was instructed to visit the territory, which he did. It is stated that about one-third of the tract is timberland with white pine and hemlock, and that a gas well, which is furnishing fuel to-day, is located but fifty rods from the boundary lines and on the same rock formation.

From what can be ascertained from the original stock holders the Piney Oil and Coal Company was originally the Duncan Coal and Oil Company, who sold out to Larimer and Lew's Hess.

In 1865 Larimer and Hess interested a number of people in various parts of Penn's valley and formed the present Piney Coal and Oil Company. The original cost of the real estate was $15,000.00, which was divided into fifty shares of $300.00 each. The company never attempted to develop their property. In 1877 a charter was granted, signed by M. S. Quay, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The charter members of the corporation were:

Peter Hoffer, Centre Hall.
D. C. Keller, " " "
Andrew Gregg, " " "
George Durt, " " "
Lafayette Neff, " " "
Lewis Hess, " " "
Gibson Larimer, Bellefonte.
David Gilliland, Linden Hall.
Hon. C. T. Alexander, Bellefonte.
(The ninth name could not be ascertained.)

A number of light assessments were laid at various times, but for a number of years the tract of land was leased for the taxes.

The Commercial Absorbed.

The Commercial telephone company has been absorbed by the United Telegraph and telephone company of Pennsylvania.

The independent companies lacked the benefit of long distance service and that has been one drawback to the system. For that reason some of the leading capitalists in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and elsewhere organized the "United Telephone and Telegraph Company of Penn'a" to combine all these separate independent companies under one management. In this they have succeeded. Starting at Philadelphia they now have merged most all these independent companies in the central and eastern part of the state under its management, including York, Lancaster, Lebanon, Schuylkill, Valley, Reading, Harrisburg, Northumberland, Lewisburg, Williamsport, Lewistown, Clearfield, Altoona and others. Thus it will be seen that this new combination had completely surrounded the field of the Commercial company.

Dog Attacks Child.

The little four year old son of Robt. Sunderland, of Oliver township, Millin County was badly bitten by a dog a few days ago. The child's mother was helping to clean and renovate the U. B. church and the boy was near the church door, when a dog fight started up just where he was standing, the dogs rushing together and knocking him down, one of them sinking his teeth deeply into the boy's wrist which he violently shook, supposing he had hold of one of the other two dogs. It required the united efforts of Jacob Stine and the lad's mother to loosen the dog's hold on the child—in fact Mr. Stine was about to cut the dog's throat with his knife when he let go. The child's arm is badly torn and lacerated.

Runaway Horses.

Saturday afternoon Samuel Krebs was driving two horses to his home in the east end of Nittany Valley, says the Lock Haven Democrat. When about a mile and a half this side of Mill Hall, the horses frightened at a trolley car, and dashed up the road. The bit broke in one of the horse's mouth, which caused the driver to lose control of the animals. The horses turned into the road leading to Beech Creek, where they broke loose from the buggy. The animals then jumped over the abutment into the creek and swam down the stream about a quarter of a mile where they were caught. The occupants of the buggy were not injured and the animals were not hurt. The harness was somewhat torn.

Teachers' Examination.

Teachers' examination will be held in Centre Hall to-morrow, Friday.

Funeral of H. P. Sankey.

The funeral of H. P. Sankey which occurred Saturday was largely attended. The weather was very disagreeable but that did not deter thirty-five or more Odd Fellows, members of the Centre Hall lodge, from attending the services. After the services by Rev. Haven, of the Methodist Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member, the Odd Fellows read the burial rites according to the order, which were very beautifully and solemnly performed.

THE HOWARD CREAMERY COMPANY

Manufactures the Product of 4000 Cows into Celebrated Howard Butter

It is not generally known that the Howard Creamery Company is patronized so largely and generally by farmers in Centre county. Their creameries and skimming stations are located in almost every section of the county, and receive the products of over four thousand cows, which is manufactured into the Celebrated Howard Butter and shipped to their many customers. By paying uniform prices to all their customers in all sections of the county and making that price as high as the best markets for the finished product will allow, the Howard Creamery company has earned and is enjoying the confidence of the best informed and most business-like farmers in the county, which is the best guarantee of fair and honorable usage.

Since the Howard Creamery Company began business the price paid farmers for butter has advanced, and the total monthly payments to farmers has been many times doubled. This was not done entirely by increase in price, but by convincing the skeptical that by properly feeding and caring for cows and patronizing their plants, their returns would be larger than would be the case if they churned at home or adopted any other plan of turning the product of the cow into ready cash.

The average price paid by the Howard Creamery Company for the year 1900, was 20¢ cents per pound. At the National Butter Makers' Convention held at St. Paul, Minnesota, several months ago, the highest average price paid for 1900 reported to that body was 18¢ cents. The average price paid by merchants, etc., in the county is not over 14 cents. These comparisons are well worth studying.

"Rhine Speaks as a Granger."

Among the numerous expressions of congratulations the North American received for its aid in the passage of the Snyder bill to suppress oleo, was the following from Hon. Leonard Rhone, of this place. He said: "We've made the fight and we've won. By we I mean the Grangers, the farmers. The North American and the people generally who believe in common honesty. If the Governor signs the Snyder bill the end of the illegal 12,000,000-pound-a-year trade in oleo in this State should be speedily reached. It is a great victory."

Rev. W. H. Schuyler will preach for Rev. G. W. Leisher in the Lutheran church at Pleasant Gap next Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

The Centre county bank, Bellefonte, was reorganized. Thomas A. Shoemaker is president and John M. Shugert cashier.

The axe factory at Mann's, near Reedsville, shut down indefinitely. It is said by some that the works will be removed to Beaver Falls.

A score of members of the National Guard performed the usual ceremonies over the grave of Private John Thomas this (Thursday) a. m.

The Reporter acknowledges invitations to the commencement exercises of Pennsylvania State College and Central Pennsylvania College, New Berlin.

The Arney's heretofore kept a good stock of hogs, but with the addition of this sire expect to greatly improve their herd.

Hosterman Wednesday morning went to Williamsport to attend the sessions of the Susquehanna Dental Association which opened that morning in the Park hotel and will continue its session through Thursday and Friday. PRESBYTERIAN CREED REVISION.

The Origin of the Creed and How it Will be Revised.

The historical name of the creed of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. is the Westminster Confession of Faith. This Confession was formulated by an assembly called together by the Long Parliament to form a complete creed for the three United Kingdoms of England, Scotland and Ireland. The assembly consisted of a hundred and twenty-one English clergymen, five Scotch commissioners and thirty lay assessors. The assembly was opened July 1, 1643, in Westminster Abby, London, whence the name. The Confession was completed Dec. 4, 1646. It was adopted by the Presbyterians in the U. S. in 1729, excepting certain clauses relating to the Civil Magistrate. Some slight emendations were made in 1788 and one in 1857. About ten years ago an attempt was made to revise the Confession, but failed.

In the General Assembly that met in Philadelphia on the 16th inst., after three days of high debate, revision carried by a practically unanimous vote. Let no one, however, think that any great changes will be made and that this old conservative church is going to fly off at a tangent into the ranks of liberalism. No changes can become legal under two years at the least. The only present result of the Assembly's action is the appointment of a committee of twenty-one.

This committee is instructed to prepare during the year 'a brief statement of the Reformed Faith in untechnical terms' to be used to give information and a better understanding of the doctrinal beliefs of Presbyterians. It is also to prepare about eight amendments to the Confession itself, either by modification of the text or by declaratory statement, with a preference for the latter, and by additions, "it being understood that the revision shall in no way impair the integrity of the system of doctrines set forth in the Confession and taught in the Holy Scriptures." The result of the committee's labor is to be reported to the next General Assembly, which meets in New York in May, 1902. If this Assembly sees fit to transmit their recommendations to the Presbyteries, and if two-thirds of the 333 Presbyteries adopt any of the recommendations, the Assembly of 1903 can declare these recommendations a part of the constitution of the church. The recent debate and the action of the Assembly clearly show that it is not so much a change of belief, but a change in the wording of that belief, so as to prevent misapprehensions that is sought by this movement.

THE STAR STORE.
ESTABLISHED 1889.
G. O. BENNER PROPRIETOR.

The growth of our business is simply phenomenal, every week far ahead of the previous.

Did you ever stop to think how much of a factor The Star Store at the station has been in bringing down and keeping down the prices on many articles of merchandise? During these few years you have been the gainer, as well as we, from the fact that you have bought your goods at the right figures and because of your liberal patronage, we have moved many goods.

Did you ever notice how fearless we quote you prices? You understand that the store that gives you a price is not afraid of you getting a lower one. The store that gives you the actual price, not an article quoted from one price to another, but the low and only price.

It's the old story, no rents, no drainage, being close by depot, buying for cash and only from cash houses who employ no salesmen, and lastly but surely not least, selling for cash. This is it in its simplest form. Is it not plain? Furthermore we have and will continue to make prices that our competitors do not even attempt to follow.
