

Millheim.

Mr. and Mrs. Saxon, of Lewistown, spent several days of last week with friends in town.
Miss Mary Noll, who has been spending the past year in Lancaster, and her brother Frank, of Altoona, arrived at the home of their parents on West Main street, on Saturday afternoon. The former will spend some time here but the latter returned to Altoona on Monday morning.
Miss Josie Condo and Miss Kennedy, of State College, are guests at the home of J. P. Condo, on Main street.
Already the shrill whistle of the steam thrasher is heard in the land. The Smith Bros. opened the campaign on Monday; the grain is fine and a good yield.

Farmers Mills.

Jackson Weaver and wife spent Sunday with relatives in this place.
John S. Auman, the boss miller of Centre Hall, spent Sunday with his son-in-law, Mr. Bradford.
Robert Strunk, who fell from a cherry tree at Isaac Smith's one day last week, is slowly improving.
The Union Sunday school decided to continue their preparations for the festival to be held Saturday, July 27. Come and patronize them; the girls are as sweet and fair as those of Penn Hall.
Mrs. Grimm and Miss Nestleroad, of Madisonburg, spent several days with the family of W. F. Rishel last week.

Woodward.

The wheat is almost all in the barns. Farmers were kept back with their work by the heavy rains. The wheat crop was a good one and it is claimed will yield better this year than it has for some time. The young grass in the wheat fields is looking very nice, but the grasshoppers are after it by the millions, and farmers are afraid they will do great damage to the oats and corn.
The Coburn cornet band was in town last Saturday evening and rendered some very fine music for the festival.

Mr. Reber and his sister, of Millheim, were callers at the home of Harry Yearick and his two sisters, Gertie and Lydia, Saturday and Sunday.
There is rumor of a wedding in the near future down along Pine Creek. How is it Frank?
John Eby and daughter, of Zion, were in town last Monday and called on their friends. While in town they made their home with his brother, N. N. Eby.
A horse belonging to Harter Brothers, and driven by Randall Harter, was overcome by the heat while standing in front of K. M. Wolf's store and dropped to the ground. Cold water restored the beast.
M. C. Gephart, of Millheim, is seen in town quite frequently; he has placed four organs in and near town in the past few weeks.
L. L. Weaver returned from the place where he had been engaged in running a creamery. He has come to stay, and thinks there is no place like Woodward.

Dr. J. F. Harter, of State College, was a visitor in town.
Cornelius Bower, of Feidler, was in town Tuesday.

Rebersburg.

As a place to rest the over-worked mind or the wearied body, Rebersburg has long since been a recognized town; clean streets, a pure atmosphere, a water system bringing to the door only the pure, inspiring water that would not be exchanged even for Jove's nectar; a charitable people with neatly furnished homes, though not extravagant; always bent on doing their best to the guest—who can blame people for returning when once they set foot on our soil?
"It is sweet to hear the watch dog's honest bark Bay deep-mouthed welcome as we draw near home; it is sweet to know there is an eye that marks our coming, and look brighter when we come."
Mrs. Uriah Spangler from Newton, Kansas, is paying a visit to her parents, living at Wolf's Store.
George Nearhood, accompanied by two young ladies from Bellefonte, paid his parents a visit Sunday.
Adam Greninger is reported sick at this time, having heart failure.
Huckleberries are reported plentiful north of Millheim and in consequence many of the people go that way for their berries.
Miss Eva Moyer departed for Danville to visit her sister, Mrs. George Lambert.

Reduced Rates to Chicago.
On account of the International Convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, to be held in Chicago July 25 to 28, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets from all stations on its lines to Chicago at the rate of a single fare for the round trip. These tickets will be sold and good going on July 22, 24, and 25, and will be good to return until July 30, inclusive. Tickets remaining on deposit after July 30 will be good returning, leaving Chicago until and including August 24, on payment of fee of 50 cents to Joint Agent.

Spring Mills.

The huckleberry crop is a large one. Come to the Penn Hall festival next Saturday evening if you want a good time.

Daniel Geary, of near Red Mill, was a caller in town. Mr. Geary is a jolly good fellow and one of the old-time Democrats.

Mrs. Katie Alexander and two sons, Elmer and Hugh, of Potters Mills, and Miss Rhoda Alexander, of Lewistown, were callers at Smith Brothers.

Joseph Goss, one of Pine Grove Mills' sports, was in town several days looking up his better-half.

George Mowery, liveryman, accompanied by his daughter, spent Sunday in Lewistown.

C. A. Crape, the new postmaster, received his new distributing mail boxes, which are a very neat design. Much credit is due the new postmaster for supplying this long-felt want.

Al. Walters, cashier of the Millheim Banking Company, spent a day in town on business.

Miss Belle Jones, of Altoona, is visiting her grandfather, David Barree.

Coburn.

K. H. Stover and wife, of Millheim, spent Sunday with the family of T. G. Hosterman at this place.

James E. Harter and wife visited at the home of John Hosterman, in Georges Valley.

Misses Ed. Royer and Mary A. Garthoff, with friends at Centre Hill Saturday and Sunday.

T. G. Hosterman departed for his lumber operations in West Virginia Monday. He no doubt can be classed among the lumber kings in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hosterman, of Bucyrus, Ohio, came east, to spend the summer with friends and relatives in this vicinity. Mr. Hosterman is a son of Daniel Hosterman, of Georgetown.

The Coburn band went to Woodward an Saturday evening to discourse some fine music for a church festival held at that place. The boys say they were royally entertained.

J. C. Morris and wife, of Rebersburg, were guests at the home of P. H. Stover Sunday.

George Stover and daughter Tamie, of Aaronsburg, visited at the home of A. J. Stover at this place on Sunday.

Immense quantities of huckleberries are being gathered in the mountains south of town; bushels have been sent by the merchants of this place to other points, and the end is not yet.

The Coburn Grain and Creamery Company are putting a new shingle roof on their grain house to displace the iron roof put on several years ago.

Most of the farmers have finished hauling in their grain, the crop being an excellent one.

The Lutheran congregation will hold a festival at this place Saturday evening, August 3.

The apple crop in this section will be almost a total failure.

Clyde Kooney is at present staying with his grand parents at Glen Iron.

Miss Anna Shaffer attended the festival held at Woodward Saturday evening by the P. O. S. of A. Camp.

C. H. Stover accompanied T. G. Hosterman to West Virginia, where they will select a suitable place to erect a saw mill and other needed structures used in carrying on the lumber trade.

Daniel Krader has built a new board walk in front of his home, which indeed was a necessity; others should do the same.

Mrs. Elmer Kooney was visiting friends and relatives at Glen Iron last week.

Henry Stitzer and wife visited at the home of J. W. Glasgow on Tuesday. Mr. Stitzer is one of Brush Valley's enterprising farmers.

The measles are prevalent in this community.

SUPERINTENDENT ETERS,
Suggests the Introduction of Type-Writing, Stenography, and Book-Keeping.
In speaking of the Bellefonte public schools, the Democratic Watchman compliments Superintendent Eters on his work, and adds that he suggests the introduction of a commercial course in the curriculum of the High school especially worthy of serious consideration at this time, when young men and women are being graduated, from year to year, without the faintest conception of business methods. The suggestion to instruct in stenography, type-writing and book-keeping is particularly timely and we are in entire accord with the superintendent in the belief that it should be done, even if drawing and allied subjects have to be sacrificed. What our public schools need more than anything else to day is to become practical, to give the student most of what he will need and not befuddle his brain with a conglomeration of studies, the most of which he forgets he ever had before he is out of school a year.
Superintendent Eters is untiring in his efforts to bring the schools in the county up to the highest standard of excellence. He has discarded many of the old foggy notions and adopted the most practical new methods with in the school room.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions.
