Tale of a Dormouse.

This tenr compelling tale is from the London Globe: "A young lady bought a dormouse. After keeping it for some time she had accessed to send a tres. ent to a friend and utilized the dormouse for that purpose. A few months later the friend wrote to say that the pet did not seem very lively and was refusing its food. Would she come and inspect it? She came and inspected it and finally, feeling that this was a case for professional opinion, called in a Wall Paper, vet. The vet's verdict was brief and to the point. The dormouse had been dead just six months."

Like a tired child fallen asleep at play, she was lying so gently there. The sweet, kind spirit stilled at last, And the warm heart free from care. No bitter pain, no bitter tear, Can disturb thy deep repose, Thou sweet, brave girl, so dearly loved, How dearly, God only knows. We sat in the school together,

And mingled our voices in song: Together we drank of the water of life, Bowing low at the fountain of God. Methinks her spirit is hovering near, Our stricken hearts would soothe and cheer, And woo us to those seats above, Where all is joy, and peace and love.
