Democratic Ticket. For Justice of Supreme Court: HARMAN YERKES. For State Treasurer: ELISHA A. CORAY. Prothonotary—M. I. GARDNER. District Attorney—N. B. SPANGLER.

CORAY FOR STATE TREASURER. Fusion between the Democratic and Union parties on the state ticket was effected Friday at a meeting of the Democratic state committee, by the nomination of Representative Elisha A. Coray, Jr., of Pittston, for state treasurer.

Mr. Palm, who retires, is well known to the Democratic voters of the state as an honest, upright, intelligent legislator; an admirable, a self-respecting high-minded citizen. As much may be said of Mr. Coray. Mr. Palm, himself a legislative associate of Mr. Coray, has written of him:

"He is a gentleman whose integrity and capability can not be justly assailed, and one whom no voter need hesitate to support if he desires to aid a candidate who is fully competent and thoroughly honest. No man who supports him will ever have cause to regret it through any act of Mr. Coray. To ascertain how faithfully he has stood by the honest people of the state, it is but necessary to examine the proceedings of the legislature since 1896. His voice and vote have ever been for the right and against the wrong and his hands are unstained by the bribers' touch."

County Superintendent Gramley was a passenger west Monday morning, and in speaking of the candidacy of Mr. Strohm for county superintendent stated that he (Gramley) had sufficient votes promised him to secure his election in May on the first ballot. Pretty good, for having given the directors, prior to his last election, the assurance that if elected then he would ask nothing further at their hands.

WHERE FUSION WOULD BE SEEN. Those acquainted with the political mix up in the Union-Snyder judicial district must have a feeling of regret. How it is possible for a judge elected under such circumstances to honestly dispense justice is a question. Resorting to every known means in politics to reach the judge's bench cannot have a wholesome influence in meeting out justice. A political ingrate is a proper person to despise, and how can a judge who has been connected with every possible scheme to advance his chances of success avoid impartial judgment? The chances are he will not avoid it; unconsciously, if not otherwise, he will favor political friends at the cost of innocent parties.

Centre county next year will elect a President Judge, and would it not be counted good sense to come to some definite understanding, by fusing sentiment, and nominating but one candidate for that honorable and important office. Will the political leaders be able to fuse on such a point?

Wm. Gurnsey, of Williamsport, claims to have discovered a process whereby copper may be tempered. He made three chisels of the tempered metal, and sent them to Washington. Later he was summoned to the National Capitol by government officials.

FIGURES IN CENSUS. From the census report the following facts concerning Centre county are learned. The number of white persons in Centre county between the ages of five and twenty years are: Native males, 7,335. Native Females, 7,076. Foreign males, 145. Foreign Females, 142. Negro males, 68. Negro Females, 76. MALES 15 TO 44 YEARS. Native white, 7,442. Foreign white, 863. Negro, 63. MALES 25 YEARS AND OVER. Native white, 10,196. Foreign white, 1,196. Negro, 99.

Wanted, Sharp Knives. "I have often wondered where one could find the sharp knives of the world," said an observant citizen, "and really the problem is one of some seriousness, and one, upon reflection, is almost driven to the conclusion that there are no sharp knives in the world. 'Have you ever noticed how hard it is to find a really sharp knife? Stop the first man you meet and ask him to let you have his knife for a minute and listen to what he says about it. Nine times out of ten he will say, 'I have one, but it isn't very sharp.' You may pick out your men indifferently, and they will always tell you the same thing. If a man should ask me for my knife to sharpen a lead pencil or to use for some other purpose, the chances are I would say about the same thing, 'I have one, but it isn't very sharp.' 'And really the answer thus made is generally true. Men do not keep sharp knives.' It may be because they do not need sharp knives or it may be a matter of laziness, but in any event they do not carry them around with them, or if they do they always give their friend a dull one."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

A Fable. One day as the Elephant was passing through the forest he came upon a Hare who had fallen into a pool and was shivering with cold, and in his good heartedness he stopped and called out: "How, now, Mrs. Hare, but what is the trouble here?" "Alas, but I fell into the pond and am almost dying with a chill!" wailed the Hare. "Say you so. Ah, but we can easily remedy that. I will lie down beside you, and the heat of my body will soon make you warm and blithe again." And the Elephant tumbled down with a grunt and a groan and observed that he was always cheerfully willing to put himself out for the sake of others, especially for the weak and helpless. After a quarter of an hour, and not hearing from the Hare, he rose up to inquire if she felt better, and to his sorrow and consternation he discovered that he had crushed the life out of her as he laid down.

Catastrophe of the Onaida. One of the most extraordinary catastrophes that have befallen vessels of the United States destroyed the sloop of war Onaida in 1869. She was bound homeward, with a jolly ship's company, eager to see wives and sweethearts and native land once more, when not far out of port she was struck by the British steamer Bombay coming in. The stem of the Bombay cut off the stern of the Onaida. The ship was sinking rapidly, and guns of distress were immediately fired, but the Bombay steamed on her way and left the vessel to her doom. She went down, and all but one or two of her crew were drowned. The captain of the Bombay gave no other reason for his conduct than that he had Lady Eyre, the wife of a distinguished British satrap, on board and did not wish to disturb her nerves with scenes of shipwreck. When he was mobbed when he reached Yokohama, dismissed from the service, socially tabooed from that time on and died in disgrace a year or two later.

Unlucky Day Superstitions. In Grafton's manual of his chronicles, 1565, the unlucky days, according to the opinions of the astronomers, are named as follows: Jan. 1, 2, 4, 5, 10, 15, 17 and 20 are unlucky; Feb. 26, 27 and 28 unlucky; 8, 10 and 17 very unlucky; March 16, 17 and 20 very unlucky; April 7, 8, 10 and 20 unlucky; May 3 and 6 unlucky; 7, 15 and 20 very unlucky; June 10 and 22 unlucky; 4 and 8 very unlucky; Aug. 29 and 30 unlucky; 19 and 20 very unlucky; Sept. 3, 4, 21 and 23 unlucky; 6 and 7 very unlucky; Oct. 4, 16 and 24 unlucky; 6 very unlucky; Nov. 5, 6, 29 and 30 unlucky; 15 and 20 very unlucky; Dec. 15 and 22 unlucky; 6, 7 and 9 very unlucky.

Ornaments on Saddles. In the fifth century saddles were made so extravagantly magnificent that a prohibition was issued by Leo I, in which it was ordered that no one should ornament them with pearls or precious stones. In the sixth century the Emperor Mauricius required that the saddles should have large coverings of fur. The ignominious punishment of "bearing the saddle" had its origin in the middle ages.

Incontrovertible Evidence. "Now, children, I want you all to remember that James Watt discovered the wonderful steam engine by simply watching the kettle boil." "Please, ma'am, I don't just see how that could be." "Why not?" "Cause watched pots never boil."—Boston Courier.

She Valued Her Head. Henry VIII, after the death of Jane Seymour, had some difficulty in getting another wife. His first offer was to the duchess dowager of Milan, but her answer is said to have been: "I have only one head. If I had two, one should certainly be at his service."

Misunderstood. "I would like a straw with this lemonade," said the lady at the table to the server of the beverage. "Hey?" ejaculated the waiter, who was hard of hearing. "No; straw, I said."—Beverages.

AUTUMN ARBOR DAY. The State Forestry Reserve the Result of School Arbor Day Observance. Pennsylvania now owns a forest reserve of 324,000 acres. This is one result of the movement which began with the observance of Arbor Day in the schools. People everywhere begin to see the importance of planting trees and caring for them, and of legislation designed to secure a rational treatment of trees and forests. Moreover, the decisions of the Courts have helped to stop the ruthless mutilation and destruction of trees along telephone, telegraph and trolley lines. And the sentiments awakened in the hearts of the young through the observance of Arbor Day have reinforced and strengthened the teachings of experts in regard to the deterioration of agricultural lands through the denudation of our forest areas. Forestry is one of the coming professions. The senior classes of Schools of Forestry have lucrative places waiting for them in advance of the day of their graduation.

In connection with the observance of Arbor Day, it will be proper to draw attention to the prospects of educated young men who devote their lives to this new profession. Since trees can be planted in the fall as well as in the spring of the year, and since thousands of rural schools are closed at Spring Arbor Day, it has become customary to appoint an Arbor day in the autumn months. In accordance with this custom, Friday, October 25, has been designated as Autumn Arbor Day, and the teachers and pupils of public schools throughout the state are requested to observe the day by the planting of trees and other suitable exercises.

Lemont. Mrs. H. Bottorf, who has been very sick for several weeks is slowly convalescing. John Glen has moved from the south end to the house owned by Samuel Weaver, near the Presbyterian church.

Wm. Bell, of Bellefonte, worked here several days last week repairing the tower of the Presbyterian church, the walls of which had partly given way through the sinking of the foundation. Rev. Shultz commenced a series of meetings in the U. Ev. church last Sabbath evening.

Irvin Ross has built a bay window to his house and is also making other improvements. Dame Rumor says he contemplates taking a partner in the near future. Wm. Mayes, Lemont's superior marble cutter, is doing some fine work on the granite tablet which is to mark the burying place of Rev. James Martin, the first Presbyterian minister in Penna Valley, as also to mark the location of the first church.

Colored Boy Arrested. Harry Miller, a colored boy, who has been causing the Bellefonte police a great deal of trouble, was arrested and lodged in jail for attempting to wreck a passenger train on the Central R. R. just below the Bellefonte station. The deed was committed in August, and the train in question was one having on board the Reformed Sunday school which was returning from Hecla. This is the same youth that relieved Irvin's book store of $20, to which he plead guilty in Court. Sentence was suspended on account of his age, but it is learned that instead of being twelve years old he is at least sixteen or eighteen years old.

Every pair of our shoes are new; no old goods to offer—Yeager & Davis. Old Jewelry Remodeled. Many a family has laid away for occasional admiration old jewelry worn by those of a generation or more ago. The Delineator has an article of a practical character showing how much of this old-fashioned jewelry can be brought into modern use by a slight remodeling.
