Massage For the Scalp.

The hair falls out when the strength of its roots is insufficient to sustain its weight any longer, and a new hair will take its place unless the root is diseased. For this reason each person has a certain definite length of hair. When the hair begins to split or fall out, massage of the scalp is excellent.

Place the tips of the fingers firmly upon the scalp, and then vibrate or move the scalp while holding the pressure steadily. This will stimulate the blood vessels underneath and bring about better nourishment of the hair. A brush of unevenly tufted bristles is also excellent to use upon the scalp, not the hair.

Irregularity and Indigestion. A common cause of indigestion is irregularity respecting the time of meals. The human system seems to form habits and to be in a degree dependent upon the performance of its function in accordance with the habits formed. In respect to digestion this is especially observable. If a meal is taken at a regular hour, the stomach becomes accustomed to receiving food at that hour and is prepared for it.

If meals are taken irregularly, the stomach is taken by surprise, so to speak, and is never in that state of readiness in which it should be for the prompt and perfect performance of its work.

Ashes on Cigars.

"Few men professing to be judges of fine cigars know anything at all about smoking them," remarked a cigar dealer. "The ashes on the end of the cigar serve to retain the flavor and should be permitted to remain as long as possible. Then the constant thumping some smokers give their cigars in the attempt to keep them clear of ashes often causes the wrappers to break, and that also lessens the pleasure of a good smoke."

Dogs of Alaska.

The dogs of Alaska are called malamutes. They are a cross between a dog and a wolf and work in harness soon after their birth. They do not bark, but have a peculiar howl. CORMAN HEIRS.—Spring Mills, Saturday, Oct. 26, 1 p. m., house and lot in the village of Spring Mills.

Mr. Editor:—I desire to give notice to the public through the columns of your paper, that I expect to make public sale this fall of all my farm implements and stock. I have a pretty complete set of farm implements, some of them good as new. Will sell the following stock: One heavy work horse, 2 year old mare 3 1/2 years old will work anywhere, 2 year old driving mare safe and sound, three year old cow, one 1 1/2 year old calf, two of the above are Hamburgians, well mated and will make excellent drivers. These horses and cows are without a blemish, sound and all right, twelve milk cows, a lot of well bred short horn cattle, a flock of good sheep, about thirty head of hogs and pigs, several breeding sows, they are good ones.

This stock will be sold as I expect to quit farming and will have no use for it. Ever since the Centre Hall creamery was established I have turned my attention to keeping cows and raising hogs, I have found it to be a profitable business. While no doubt some farmers have done better I think I have succeeded fairly well; during the present year from ten cows I have secured to the creamery over twenty tons of milk, equivalent to 200 pounds of butter, as their books will show, which is considerable more than any one farmer who patronizes the creamery has done. From these same cows I sold sixty dollars worth of real cream; no grain was fed to these cows from the time they were turned to pasture until the pasture failed in the fall.

This sale will be a rare chance for those wanting to buy stock; this stock must be as I represent it. Due notice of the exact date of sale and full description of stock will be given in papers, etc. G. L. GOODHART, Centre Hill, Pa.

A HOME IN THE SOUTH.

Escape the rigors of another Northern Winter and enjoy the delights of the Southland.

Nowhere can be found a more delightful climate than in our own Southland. Its winters are mild and balmy and in most cases Summer does not bring with it such extremes of heat as are found elsewhere. In fact, the South is a land where extremes of climate are avoided, and consequently, is a healthful and altogether desirable location.

The tide of emigration has turned Southward, for it is now alone in climatic advantages that this favored land excels, but its resources, the fertility of its soil and its mineral wealth and abundant water power commend it to the thoughtful consideration of any one who seeks a home where Northern thrift and enterprise may carve out success.

The Seaboard Air Line Railway, in order to stimulate investigation and to assist in opening up the fine territory traversed by its lines, announces that it will sell to prospectors and settlers, tickets one way or round trip, at greatly reduced rates, in proportion to which may be obtained of any agent or representative of the Company.
