His Father Was a Juror.

Secretary of the Treasury Shaw tells this story of a personal experience while trying a case in an Iowa court. A boy about fourteen years old had been put on the stand and the opposing counsel was examining him. After the usual preliminary questions as to the witness' age, residence and the like, he then pro-

"Have you any occupation?"

No "Don't you do any work of any kind?

"Just loaf around home?" "That's about all."

"What does your father do?"

'Nothin' much.'

"Doesn't he do anything to support the family?" 'He does odd jobs once in a while when he can get them." "As a matter of fact, isn't your father a pretty worthless fellow, a dead beat and a loafer?"

"I don't know, sir; you'd better ask him. He's sitting over there on the jury.

Arbitration.

She had read a good deal, and prided herself on being pretty well up on the affairs of the day. "All disputes," she said, " should be settled by arbitration." "Quite right," he replied. "Now, we had a little dispute this morning as to certain household-

'There is nothing to arbitrate in that,' she interposed hastily. "I am right, of course." Then after a moment she add-ed: "But it seems so foolish to have war and strikes when it's so easy to arbitrate.

The Heat of Australia.

Australia is the hottest country on record. I have ridden for miles astride the equator, but I have never found heat to compare with this. Out in the country in the dry times there appears to be little more than a sheet of brown paper between you and the lower regions, and the people facetiously say that they have to feed their hens on cracked ice to keep them from laying boiled eggs.

Dr. Taimage Tells of the Duties and Trials Which Belong to the Different Decades.

Advice to the Twentles-The Waiting Age -The Last Haven.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—From an unusual standpoint Dr. Talmage in this discourse looks at the duties and trials which be-long to the different decades of human life; text, Psalms xc, 10, "The days of our years are threescore years and ten." The seventieth milestone of life is here planted as at the end of the journey. A few go beyond it. Multitudes never reach it. The oldest person of modern times ex-pired at 169 years. A Greek of the name

it. The oldest person of modern times ex-pired at 169 years. A Greek of the name of Stravaride lived to 132 years. An Eng-lishman of the name of Thomas Parr lived 152 years. Before the time of Moses peo-ple lived 150 years, and if you go far enough back they lived 900 years. Well, that was necessary, because the story of the world must come down by tradition, and it needed long life safely to transmit the news of the past. If the generations had been short lived the story would so often have changed lines that it might have often have changed lips that it might have got all astray. But after Moses began to write it down and parchment told it from century to century it was not necessary that people live so long in order to au-thenticate the events the past. If in our time people lived only twenty-five years, that would not affect history, since it is put in print and is no longer depend-our time people lived only twenty-five years, that would not affect history, since it is put in print and is no longer depend-ent on tradition. Whatever your age, I will to-day directly address you, and I shall speak to those who are in the twen-ties, the thirties, the forties, the fifties, the sixties, and to those who are in the seventies and beyond. First, then, I accost those of you who are in the twenties. You are full of ex-pectation. You are ambitious—that is, if you amount to anything—for some kind of success, commercial or mechanical or professional or literary or agricultural or social or moral. If I find some one in the twenties without any sort of ambition, I feel like saying, "My friend, you have got on the wrong planet. This is not the world for you. You are going to be in the way. Have you made your choice of poorhouses? You will never be able to pay for your cradle. Who is going to set-tle for your board? There is a mistake about the fact that you were born at all." But, supposing you have ambition, let me say to all the twenties, expect every-thing through divine manipulation, and then you will get all you want and some-thing better. Are you looking for wealth? Well, remember that God controls the money markets, the harvests, the droughts, the caterpillars, the locusts, the sunshine, the storm, the land, the sea, and you will get wealth. Perhaps not that which is stored up in the banks, in safe deposits. in United States securities, in houses and lands, but your clothing and board and shelter, and that is about all you can ap-propriate anyhow. You cost the Lord a great deal. To feed and clothe and shelter you for a lifetime requires a big sum of money, and if you get nothing more than the absolute necessities you get an enor-mous amount of supply. Expect as much the absolute necessities you get an enor-mous amount of supply. Expect as much as you will of any kind of success, if you expect it from the Lord you are safe. Depend on any other resource, and you may bo badly chagrined, but depend on God and all will be well. It is a good thing in and all will be well. It is a good thing in the crisis of life to have a man of large means back you up. It is a great thing to have a moneyed institution stand be-hind you in your undertaking. But it is a mightier thing to have the God of heaven and earth your coadjutor, and you may have Him. I am so glad that I met you while you can be tractice. while you are in the twenties. You are laying out your plans, and all your life in this world and the next for 500 million years of your existence will be affected by those plans. It is about 8 o'clock in the ties! What a word suggestive of triumph or disaster! Your decade is the one that will prob-ably afford the greatest opportunity for victory because there is the greatest ne-cessity for struggle. Read the world's his-tory and know what are the thirties for good or bad. Alexander the Great closed his career at thirty-two; Frederick the Great made Europe tremble with his ar-mies at thirty-five; Cortes conquered Mex-ico at thirty; Grant fought Shiloh and Donelson when thirty-eight; Raphael died at thirty-sever; Luther was the hero of the reformation at thirty-five; Sir Philip Sidney got through by thirty-two. The greatest deeds for God and against Him were done within the thirties, and your greatest battles are now and between the time when you cease expressing your age greatest battles are now and between the fime when you cease expressing your age by putting first a figure 2 and the time when you will cease expressing it by put-ting first a figure 3. As it is the greatest time of the struggle. I adjure you, in God's name and by God's grace, make it the greatest achievement. My prayer is for all those in the tremendous crisis of the thirties. The fact is that by the way you decide the present decade of your his-tory you decide all the following decades. Next I accost the forties. Yours is the decade of discovery. I do not mean the discovery of the outside, but the discovery of yourself. No man knows himself until he is forty. He overestimates or underes-timates himself. By that time he has learned what he can do or what he cannot do. He thought he had commercial genius enough to become a millionaire, but now he is satisfied to make a comfortable living. he though to become a minimum are, but now he is satisfied to make a comfortable living. He thought he had rhetorical power that would bring him into the United States Senate; now he is content if he can suc-Senate; now he is content if he can suc-cessfully argue a common case before a petit jury. He thought he had medical skill that would make him a Mott or a Grosse or a Willard Parker or a Sims; now he finds his sphere is that of a fam-ily physician, prescribing for the ordinary ailments that afflict our race. He was sailing on in a fog and could not take a reck-oning, but now it clears up enough to allow him to find out his real latitude and long-itude. He has been climbing, but now he has got to the top of the hill, and he takes a long breath. He is half way through the journey at least, and he is in a posi-tion to look backward or forward. He has nore good sense than he ever had. He knows human nature, for he has been cheated often enough to see the bad side of it, and he has met so many gracious and kindly and splendid souls he also knows the good side of it. Now, calm yourself. Thank God for the past and de-liberately set your compass for another You have chased enough thistledown;

you have blown enough soap bubbles; you have seen the unsatisfying nature of all earthly things. Open a new chapter with God and the world. This decade of the forties ought to eclipse all its predecessors in worship, in usefulness and in happiness. In working, in useruiness and in happiness. The world was made to work. There re-maineth a rest for the people of God, but it is in a sphere beyond the reach of tele-scopes. The military charge that decided one of the greatest battles of the ages-the battle of Waterloo-was not made until 8 o'clock in the evening, but some of you propose to go into camp at 2 o'clock in afternoon.

the atternoon. My subject next accosts those in the sev-enties and beyond. My word to them is congratulation. You have got nearly if not quite through. You have safely crossed the sea of life and are about to enter the harbor. You have fought at Gettysburg, and the war is over-here and there a skir-mish with the remaining sin of your own mish with the remaining sin of your own heart and the sin of the world, but I guess you are about done. There may be some work for you yet on a small or large scale. Bismarck of Germany vigorous in the eighties. The Prime Minister of England strong at seventy-two. From thirty to forty is an especially hard time for young doctors, young law-yers, young merchants, young farmers, young mechanics, young ministers. The struggle of the thirties is for honest and helpful and remunerative recognition. But few old people know how to treat young people without patronizing them on the one hand or smubbing them on the other. Oh, the thirties!
