Henry Moyer transacted business at Bellefonte Thursday.

The measles are visiting in this vicinity; Miss Blanche E. Reiber is housed up with them.

Howard Shadow and William Rube quit working in the axe factory at Yeagertown, and arrived home on Monday; both say they will stay by the stove this winter and that the loop is the best place yet.

Miss Jennie Sweetwood, teacher of Rock Grove school, Thursday evening visited Mrs. Nancy Weiss who has been sick but is improving.

Town clerk A. B. Lee and Howard Shadow had quite a spill on Sunday evening as they were out taking a sleigh ride and trying the snow near the location of J. H. Ishler. The road being drifted the sleigh upset and spilled its occupants out; after catching the horse and gathering up the blankets they both began picking up corn and their good and faithful horse ate snow. No one was injured; boys don't go for corn on Sunday.

There were no services held at Zion Sunday on account of the inclement weather.

A. B. Lee lost a valuable cow this week.

Rebersburg.

You can buy a first-class blanket at a low price from B. J. Zer, Centre Hall.

Spring Mills.

On Saturday last while Andrew Cornman was grooming his horse, the animal suddenly kicked him in the face, rendering him insensible. How long he was lying in that condition in the stable he hardly knows. Upon recovering he went to the house and discovered that he had received several ugly wounds from the kick and in falling, but fortunately none of a very serious character.

There will be quite a number of removals and changes in the village the coming spring.

The measles still prevail in this community, nearly every family now have or have had one or two patients; fortunately the disease is in a very mild character.

Since the sleighing set in quite a large number of travelers have taken advantage of it. Edwin Ruhl, the village landlord, reports an excellent business, while Wm. Ruhl the liveryman, regrets his inability to supply the demand for sleighs. His half dozen teams are out almost night and day.

A few days since having some business in the neighborhood of the Loop, and having an idle hour or two on hand, I called upon a highly esteemed friend, D. L. Kerr, the well known retired farmer of that locality, and of course met with a cordial reception. Mr. Kerr is a gentleman of very refined and polished manners, a brilliant conversationalist, highly entertaining and a possessor of hospitality.

During my brief visit he related many amusing anecdotes of his early days, and some quite lively incidents which occurred when much of that section was little better than a howling wilderness. Finally we drifted into politics; Mr. Kerr is a Jacksonian Democrat without any ifs or buts, and I soon discovered that he was a close observer and well informed upon all the leading political questions of the day, and in the classics too, he is by no means a novice. I can hardly recall a time when I passed a few hours so agreeably and intelligently as I did on this occasion; all the surroundings were so cheerful and homelike that my visit was simply a delightful entertainment. On taking my leave which I must confess I did very reluctantly, Mr. Kerr delivered quite a peremptory mandate—that I should never pass his residence, under any circumstances, but always stop, and have a friendly chat and exchange of views over a cup of fine old government coffee.

E. B. Owen and wife, of Lewistown, made a visit of a day or two last week, the guests of Charles Miller.

As the days lengthen, the cold strengthens, is an old proverb, and it has been verified with a vengeance the past week. For a day or two, the cold was simply on the Greenland order too severe for even a sleigh ride.

The ground hog so far has lived up to his predictions. Alice Neese returned home after a visit of several weeks with friends and relatives.

J. B. Mayes, tombstone dealer of Lemont, was in town a few days ago looking up the interests of his business and added five fine orders to his list. It affords Mr. Mayes great pleasure to know that he pleases his customers.

W. H. Smith, of the firm of Smith Bros., furniture dealers, spent two days at Pine Grove Mills, and disposed of their property at that place.

John D. Decker, of Decker Valley, was seen in town one day last week. The cold weather has increased the sale of coal.

H. G. Strohmeier, marble dealer, of Centre Hall, was in town Saturday looking up his business.

Meyer, the Millheim butcher, will not come to this town to open a meat market.

There are still a few houses for rent, and several double houses, for small families.

John Reish, the popular landlord of Millheim, was seen in town Sunday evening; the attraction must have been one of the fair damsels.

Rev. Fenstermacher, of the Evangelical church, started a series of meetings last Sunday evening, to be continued a couple weeks.

Lemont.

The meetings held in the Presbyterian church for the past two weeks closed with communion services last Sabbath, at which time a number were admitted to the church.

Edward Armstrong, whose illness has been previously referred to, is recovering but very slowly.

This week all the public schools of Stele College borough were closed on account of the measles.

The young people who belong to the Dramatic Club, are practicing for the entertainment they expect to give in Grange Arcadia on the evening of the 22nd.

Mr. Wheeler Got Rid of His Rheumatism.

"During the winter of 1895 I was so lame in my joints, in fact all over my body, that I could hardly hobble around, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. From the first application I began to get well, and was cured and have worked steadily all the year.—R. Wheeler, Northwood, N. Y. For sale by J. F. Smith, H. F. Rossman, J. B. Fisher's Sons.

"The reader may make up his mind to be pleasantly surprised by the elegance and vivacity of 'Around the Pan,' published by the Nutshell Publishing Company, 1039 Third Avenue, New York. The wonders begin with the front-piece picture of President McKinley, drawn in a single line beginning at a point on the cheek bone and going round and round in a constantly widening circle, with wave-lines and down-bearings of the pen in the proper places to secure detachment and shading. We are told that this portrait 'is considered the most unique work of its kind in the world,' and it shows an degree of ungueness we are willing to believe that this is most the thing of which there are no duplicates. Of course there is text in addition to the pictures, and we should be surprised indeed to hear from any purchaser the opinion that he had not got his money's worth ($2.00.)

For Sale or Rent.—Store and dwelling opposite hotel, Spring Mills. Address J. D. Long, Spring Mills, Pa.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a number of years and have no hesitancy in saying that it is the best remedy for coughs, colds and croup I have ever used in my family. I have not words to express my confidence in this Remedy.—Mrs. J. A. Moore, North Star, Mich. For sale by J. F. Smith, H. F. Rossman, J. B. Fisher's Sons.
