

Coburn.

Mrs. Klien, of Spring Mills, spent a few days visiting with Mrs. Hackett, of this place.

J. E. Kooney departed for Harrisburg on Tuesday morning, and will be employed by the bridge carpenters on the middle division of the main line of the Penn. R. R.

Mr. DeLong of Sugar Valley, was visiting at the home of P. S. Meyer over Sunday.

Zwingli Bower has rented and moved into the house of Mrs. James Burd, on railroad street, vacated some time ago by T. G. Hosterman. He will start a bakery in the near future. Then the people of our town will be supplied with fresh bread, hot pies and other duties on short notice.

On Monday the newly elected township officers were sworn into office by Justice J. F. Garthoff.

Samuel Evert, J. J. D. Platt, Levi Stover, N. G. Hosterman and Lizzie Hosterman, are all on the sick list.

Laudford S. K. King drove to Bellefonte on Sunday and returned again on Monday. A lady passenger on the evening train west was delayed at this place on account of some of the bridges on the railroad between this place and Rising Springs being unsafe, so Mr. King took her to Bellefonte by private conveyance.

Wm. Kraps, of Johnstown, was in this section a few days visiting old friends and acquaintances. He is a member of 143 Reg. Penn. Vols. and came to the Reunion of this famous regiment, which was held in Bellefonte in February.

Daniel Hosterman, the efficient assessor, had official business in Bellefonte one day last week.

The flood on Friday did considerable damage to the roads in our township and also carried away several small bridges. Some of the inhabitants in the lower portions of the town moved out, fearing a repetition of the flood of 1889. Some of the oldest residents claim that Penns Creek was higher than it had ever been before.

C. A. Weaver's water motor in the grain house works to perfection, since he changed the gearing, this is quite an improvement over the old way of hoisting grain by horse power.

Boalsburg

Prof. J. C. Bryson spent last Wednesday at his home in Watson town; while there he attended the wedding of his sister.

Al. Witmer, of the Branch, called at the Hillside farm on Friday evening. Samuel Everheart, who rising in prominence as a farmer at the Branch, called at the home of Mrs. M. A. Woods on Friday evening.

Each Sweeney took a sled load of our citizens to the home of James Ross, at Linden Hall.

El. Glenn, who is at present working for Morris Kimpfort, met with an accident Thursday, while returning home from a sale. The horse he was riding fell, throwing the rider underneath him, injuring his lower limbs so that they could not bear the weight of his body for several days. At the present writing the young man is somewhat better.

Miss Katie Meyer, of Locust Grove, spent last Saturday with her friend, Miss Dora Meyer.

Clem Dale, one of the wide-awake farmers from Houserville, was in town Saturday looking for a farm hand.

The summer normal will begin on April 14th. Prof. J. C. Bryson is to be assisted by W. A. Murray, who is to teach short-hand and is one of the finest instructors in that branch that can be found in this part of the state.

Scott Bricker returned home Monday from Bellefonte, where he has been undergoing treatment for his throat. He was in a very serious condition for a few days and was obliged to take his food through a tube, but at present writing is improving.

Charles Fisher returned home Monday after a stay of several weeks in Philadelphia.

Lemont.

Last Monday was a gala day for the Freshmen of State College. That evening they banqueted at Sunbury, and for once, they all succeeded in getting away without having a battle with the Sophs. Some of them boarded the train at Bellefonte, and the others got on at different points along the route between there and Lemont. They were all armed with heavy clubs, and no doubt would have given the Sophs a hard fight had the latter attempted to stop the boys from going, as has been the custom in past years. Several Freshmen who did not go to the banquet, accompanied them as far as Spring Mills, in order to assist them should the Sophs attempt to interfere with their going.

The boys of the Dramatic Club gave their entertainment at Pine Grove Mills Tuesday evening last.

Edward Armstrong, whose illness has been mentioned several times, is still confined to bed, requiring watchers every night; he is a son of Squire Armstrong.

Andrew Gregg, who for the past year has been employed by the Bell Telephone Company as lineman, is at home again.

Rev. Shultz and Harry Dinges drove to Lemont last Sabbath morning, to find that none of the Rev's congregation had courage enough to brave the storm and come out to church.

Linden Hall.

Charles Ishler, of Tusseyville, was entertained at the Worrel residence a few days.

Samuel Goss and family, of Bellefonte, are spending several days at the home of Hale Ross.

Mr. Parker left the tenement house on the Potter farm last week and moved to Lemont.

James Kimpfort, who was housed up a great part of the winter, is again able to be about.

Despite the extremely inclement weather on Thursday evening, the social at the home of J. H. Ross passed off very pleasantly. About sixty guests were present, and all got out of town before the flood broke; it was well they did, as before morning the house was surrounded by water.

The flood struck this place hard and that before we had recovered from the shock of the one last summer. Almost all the houses were filled in the lower part of town and some of the houses surrounded by water. Considerable damage was done; perhaps the heaviest loser will be J. H. Ross. The school was closed for the day and the majority of the inhabitants remained indoors until the water subsided.

Rev. Shultz delivered a powerful sermon on Sunday, which was his last sermon before conference; his many friends wish for his return.

Samuel Bloyer visited his brother Frances Monday.

John Weaver, of Centre Hall, was in town Saturday.

Lung Fever.

This disease is known by the names of lung fever, inflammation of the lungs, and pneumonia. It is an inflammation of the substance of the lungs, or lights, as the butchers call them. It may affect either the right or left lung, or both. It sometimes occurs in the form of congestion of the lungs, inflammation proper never taking place, the lung remaining in a congested state or engorged with blood until the animal dies. In most cases, however, the symptoms of active inflammation will soon be developed. Inflammation of the lungs is one of the most common and fatal diseases the horse is subject to, and its treatment will put the horse doctor's skill to the severest test. He must understand his case clearly and know what to do and do it with a master's hand. This marks the beginning of the third stage in which the blood is overloaded with poisonous matter, which the lungs have lost their power to remove. The disease does not always present the same symptoms. In what are called sub-acute cases the symptoms are not so violent, but there will always be enough present to indicate the nature of the case. In the congestive type of pneumonia the lungs are gorged with blood; from the first to the last lung fever may be mistaken for pleurisy, but it must not be forgotten that pleurisy and lung fever often exist together and is then called pleur-pneumonia; indeed a case of either pleurisy or pneumonia can hardly terminate without becoming complicated with each other. Lung fever is very uncertain in its duration; it may terminate fatally in less than eighteen hours, or it may be protracted for many days and then prove fatal, but generally if the case is going to end in death it will be from the second to the fifth day, if it lives over the fifth day it is a favorable sign. Pneumonia frequently terminates in dropsy of the chest; when this takes place it is a close observer who is not deceived by the change of symptoms which occur; the legs and ears become warm, the appetite returns, the horse appears more lively and is thought to be getting well but the chest remains unhealthy and in a few days he is seized with rigors or shiverings; then he has taken a relapse or another attack of lung fever and very soon dies, despite all efforts for his relief.

Worthy Master: In behalf of the Memorial Committee appointed to draft suitable resolutions on the death of sister Kate Wagner, we respectfully submit the following:

Whereas, God in his wisdom has, for his own wise purpose, called from her labors upon earth sister Kate Wagner; therefore,
Resolved, That in her death our Order loses a firm friend; the community a most respected, Christian neighbor, and the family a tender, loving wife and mother.

Resolved, That we deeply mourn her loss to us here, but we have an abiding faith that in those higher realms of light and glory her mind finds expression and infinite enjoyment in that sphere of purity and bliss to which we are all hastening.
Resolved, That we extend our fraternal sympathy to the family of our beloved sister and commend them to the protecting care and guidance of our loving Heavenly Father.

Resolved, That a page in our minute book be set apart as a memorial page for our departed sister and these memorials inscribed thereon in ink:
It is so noted. That a copy of these memorials be sent to the bereaved family and be printed in the Centre Reporter.

"Leaves have their time to fall,
And flowers to wither at the north wind's breath;
And stars to set,—but all,
Thou hast all seasons for thine own, O Death."
Respectfully submitted,
MARGIE S. RHONE,
ALICE HURST,
KATE CONLEY.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away call by call.

Bladder troubles most always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sized bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both Home of Swamp-Root, sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called La Grippe," says F. L. Hewitt, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with Grippe." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by J. F. Smith, H. F. Rossmann, J. B. Fisher's Sons.

Keith's.

A veritable avalanche of comedy is indicated by the Keith announcement there being no less than eleven comedy acts in a bill consisting of fifteen specialties. Judging by the past show performances of these specialists the bill ought to be the best comedy presented in any house in Philadelphia this season. Certainly Keith's has never provided more laughable material in any two previous bills during the past year.

Danger of Colds and La Grippe.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by J. F. Smith, H. F. Rossmann, J. B. Fisher's Sons.

How to Cure the Grip.

Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed and a quick recovery is sure to follow. That remedy counteracts any tendency of the grip to result in pneumonia, which is really the only serious danger. Among the tens of thousands who have used it for the grip, not one case has ever been reported that did not recover. For sale by J. F. Smith, H. F. Rossmann, J. B. Fisher's Sons.
