

Spring Mills.

Mrs. Davis Evans, formerly of Potters Mills, but now of Allegheny, is visiting among friends and relatives at this place.

Miss Mabel Smith, of Potters Mills, spent several days with her cousin, Miss May Smith.

Charles Snyder, of Bellefonte, employed in the P. R. R. freight station, is home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snyder, for a short vacation.

William Auman has sold his home to Robert Coldran, who will take possession this spring.

H. F. Confer, head man of the Spring Mills Planing Mill Company, will move to Millheim on the 20th inst. Sorry to lose such a good mechanic and neighbor.

The Commissioners of Centre county were over last week to view the site of the iron bridge that was recently swept away. This is the second time this bridge has been removed by high water and they have concluded to set one of the abutments farther back, lengthen the bridge and make it some higher.

Rev. Fenstermacher, of the Evangelical church, will remain here another year; the Reverend gentleman is quite a fluent speaker, very pleasant and agreeable and has hosts of friends in this neighborhood.

Ten days or two weeks ago the egg market here was completely demoralized and they were bought and sold at almost any figure, the ruling price being thirty-one cents. Then they declined to 25, then to 22, a further decline followed and they ruled for a day or two at 20-18, now 16. The demoralization at present seems to be the other way; ten days ago they commanded any high price, now the merchants can hardly get them low enough.

L. B. Cameron, of Lock Haven, made a flying visit to this place last week. J. L. Hood, of Buffalo, N. Y., was also here for a few days visiting old friends.

The late flood was about the most destructive we have ever had in this locality; Penns and Sinking creeks were simply angry floods, and cyclonic like swept every thing away in the path of their combined waters. The creek road from the town towards the pike to below the iron bridge over Penns creek was completely covered, the water reaching to the steps of the numerous dwellings along that thoroughfare, flooding the cellars and playing havoc with the board walks. Geo. W. Dunkle's residence and wall paper establishment at Willow Grove Park, a short distance below the village, was entirely surrounded by a raging flood. The store building of Howard Rossman, the postoffice, W. H. Musser's bicycle office and the old farm house now occupied by Major Huss, were also completely surrounded. The employees of Allison's mill were on active duty from three o'clock in the morning until noon, on the pike bridge running east and west over Penns creek, to prevent the accumulation of ice and rubbish, as the ice came down the stream in large bodies, the men broke them up and sent the pieces through under the bridge, thus keeping the channel open. West of the bridge the waters swept across the pike in an angry mood, and were within an inch of entering the hotel building, severing all communication with the village proper. At the hotel were fifteen or twenty guests storm-staid and weather-bound. Two nights last week Mr. Ruhl had from twenty-five to thirty guests to entertain—every inch of the hotel being occupied. At the height of the flood, several gentlemen were desirous of visiting the stores, but as the pike was under a blockade and all the avenues closed, were unable to do so, but W. P. Alexander of the mill, made his appearance and soon solved the difficulty, and by playing ferryman carried several through the angry pool on his back and landed them safely on the bridge, causing considerable merriment, yet it was an act highly appreciated. A pile of boards belonging to Wm. Allison, valued at about one hundred dollars, were swept away like chips; several other piles were likewise on the move, but were saved by the exertions of his active employes. On the south side of Penns creek, the water reached to within an inch of entering both the Methodist and Reformed church buildings and extended west to and along the road leading to the railroad station to the new furniture establishment of Smith & Bro. and also completely surrounding the store and residence of O. T. Corman. On this road the iron bridge over Sinking creek was swept away and lodged a short distance below and twisted out of all semblance to a bridge. Through the exertions of Andrew Corman, who furnished the lumber, and with the assistance of others, a temporary foot bridge has been thrown across the creek for the accommodation of the public. The snow on Wednesday last measured eighteen inches in depth.

The sleighing is about over for this winter; the late heavy fall of snow is fast being converted into slush and muddy pools.

Commercial agents passing through here report business on the road not very lively.

Michael Shires who has been in Philadelphia for a week or more attending to private business, returned home on Saturday last.

Notwithstanding the very disagreeable weather last week, the Standard Concert Company did a very fair business in this place.

Penn Hall.

The following is a list of the movings that will take place in this section in the spring: Jacob Royer will move to Colyer, on J. S. Housman's farm; O. Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

La Grippe Quickly Cured.

"In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called La Grippe," says F. L. Hewitt, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with Grippe." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale by J. F. Smith, H. F. Rossman, J. B. Fisher's Sons.

Keith's Theatre.

If it can be made so, Keith's plays this week will be funnier than ever. There are no less than ten laughable acts in a fifteen specialty show, which promises at least three and one-half hours of laughter, with many moments when the assemblages will be convulsed by the antics of the comedians. At least seven of the acts are of the first-rate order.

Danger of Colds and La Grippe.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by J. F. Smith, H. F. Rossman, J. B. Fisher's Sons.

How to Cure the Grip.

Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed and a quick recovery is sure to follow. That remedy counteracts any tendency of the grip to result in pneumonia, which is really the only serious danger. Among the tens of thousands who have used it for the grip, not one case has ever been reported that did not recover. For sale by J. F. Smith, H. F. Rossman, J. B. Fisher's Sons.

In contrast to Mr. Vanderlip's optimism is an article by Brooks Adams, in Scribner's for March, entitled "War and Economic Competition." By a careful study of the trade routes of the ancient world Mr. Adams shows the great danger of a tremendous upheaval in existing conditions growing out of America's supremacy in recent years.
