

What is a Farm Worth?
 My old friend William H. Plumb, of Bangor, N. Y., wants me to tell him what a farm is worth that gives an annual income of $500, and what is the value of a cow that gives $15 net in milk and butter a year. According to the system of farm bookkeeping, with which I have long been familiar, that $500 income means that there is that sum left after deducting the cost of seeds, planting, cultivating, harvesting, and marketing the crops, paying wages of all the help, feeding the hands and all the stock, clothing the family, paying the taxes, pew rent, tickets to the circus, buying a new horse or two, repairing the carriages, wagons, and implements, expenditure for chewing tobacco, smoking tobacco, pipes, a few gallons of whisky now and then, &c., world without end. Such a farm is too valuable to sell at any price. As for the cow—why, she is worth, according to the same system of bookkeeping, a good currying and three bran-mashes a day—N. Y. Press.

Experts Are Dangerous.
 There are scientific experts whose testimony is to be taken with respect. They deal in facts. For example, a chemist will find what proportion of poison is contained in a certain substance that may have been administered with mischievous intent. A physician will describe an injury and tell of results and causes where shot or stab wounds are involved. An architect will be able to explain how a bridge or building has fallen. But the too usual expert is none of these. He is a man who for a great price offers a personal opinion as to handwriting. A trial, especially one in which human life or liberty is involved, should be conducted solely on evidence. Opinion is not evidence.

 "Well?"
 "I thought you said if a boy would always mind his parents he wouldn't get into trouble."
 "Yes, my boy, I did say so, and I hope you will always bear it in mind. Give heed to what your parents tell you to do and what they tell you not to do and you will live to be a good man. Never disobey your parents and harm cannot reach you. The boy who always does as his father tells him to do need never fear that evil will overtake him, and—"
 "Say, pa, here's a poem about a boy that stood on a burnin' deck because his pa told him not to go. Just read it and then tell me some more about harm never comin' to boys that always do what their parents say they have to do."

A Bell-ringer.
 It was in a country village that the swain had proposed for the hand of the village beauty, and had been successful and carried off the palm. He had bought the engagement ring and was hurrying as fast as his two feet would carry him to the home of his adored one. A friend tried to stop him to make inquiry concerning his haste.
 "Hello, there, Bob! Is there a fire?"
 "Yes," replied Bob, with what breath he had left, "my heart's on fire and I'm going now to ring the village bell."

BENEFITS OF ADVERSITY
Dr. Talmage Says We Must All Go Through Some Kind of Thrashing Process for Our Own Good.
Triumph Always Comes After Misfortune—Great Need is Solace.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—From a process familiar to the farmer Dr. Talmage draws lessons of consolation and encouragement for people in sorrow and adversity. The sermon, preached at the First Church, New York, last night, was as follows: "For the fitches are not thrashed with a thrashing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin, but the fitches are beaten out with a staff and the cummin with a rod. Corn is bruised because he will not ever be thrashing it." Misfortunes of various kinds come upon various people, and in all times the great need of ninety-nine people out of a hundred is solace. Look, then, to this neglected allegory of my text.

There are three kinds of seed mentioned—fitches, cummin and corn. Of the last we all know. But it may be well to recall the fitches and the cummin are small seeds, like the caraway or the chick-pea. When these grains or herbs were to be thrashed they were thrown on the floor, and the workmen would come around with a staff or rod or flail and beat the seed out of the husk, and so the work would be accomplished. Different kinds of thrashing for different products. "The fitches were not thrashed with a thrashing instrument, neither was the cummin with a rod, but the fitches are beaten out with a staff and the cummin with a rod. Bread corn is bruised because he will not ever be thrashing it."

The great thought that the text presses upon our souls is this: We must go through some kind of thrashing process. The fact that you may be devoting your life to honorable and noble purposes will not win you any escape. Wilberforce, the Christian emancipator, was in a hard lesson, and called "Doctor Cartwell." Thomas Macaulay, the advocate of all that was good, long before he became the most conspicuous historian of his day, was caricatured in one of the quariety reviews as "Macaulay." Norman Macleod, the great friend of the Scotch poor, was industriously maligned in all quarters, although on the day when he was carried out to his burial a workman stood and looked at the funeral procession and said: "If he had done nothing for anybody more than he has done for me, he would shine as the stars forever and ever." All the small virtues of London had their fling at John Wesley, the father of Methodism. If such men could not escape the maligning of the world, neither can you expect to get rid of the sharp, keen stroke of the tribulation. All who will live godly in Christ Jesus must suffer persecution. Besides that, there are the sicknesses and the bankruptcies and the irritations and the disappointments which are ever putting a cup of aloes to your lips. Those wrinkles on your face are heretofore which, if they were not, would make out a story of trouble. The footprint of the rabbit is seen the next morning on the snow, and on the white hairs of the aged are the footprints showing where swift trouble alighted.

Even amid the joys and hilarities of life trouble will sometimes break in. As when the people were assembled in the Charleston theatre during the Revolutionary War, and while they were witnessing a farce and the audience was in great hilarity, the guns of an advancing army were heard and the audience broke up wild panic and ran for their lives, so oftentimes while you are seated amid the joys and festivities of this world you hear the rattle of some great disaster. All the fitches and the cummin and the corn must come down on the thrashing floor and be pounded.

As subject, in the first place, teaches us that it is no compliment to us if we escape great trial. The fitches and the cummin on one thrashing floor might look over to the corn on another thrashing floor and say: "Look at that poor, miserable, bruised corn! We have only been thrashed, but that has been almost destroyed." Well, the corn, if it had lips, would answer and say: "Do you know the reason you have not been as much pounded as I? It is because you are not so much worth as I am. If you were, you would be as severely run over." Yet there are men who suppose they are the Lord's favorites simply because their barns are full and their bank account is flush and they have no funeral in the house. It may be because they are fitches and cummin, while down at the end of the lane the poor widow may be the Lord's corn.

You are but little pounded because you are but little worth and she bruised ground because she is the best part of the harvest. The heft of the thrashing machine is according to the value of the grain. If you have not been much thrashed in life, perhaps there is not much to thrash! If you have not been much shaken of trouble, perhaps it is because there is going to be a very small yield. When there are plenty of blackberries, the gatherers go out with large baskets, but when the drought has almost killed the fruit, then a quart measure will do as well. It took the venomous snake on Paul's hand, and the pounding of him with stones until he was taken up for dead, and the jamming against him of prison gates, and the Ephesian vociferation, and the ankles skinned by the painful stocks, and the flogging of the Alexandrian corn ship, and the beheading stroke of the Roman sheriff to bring Paul to his proper development. It was not because Robert Moffat and Lady Rachel Russell and Frederick Oberlin were worse than other people that they had to suffer. It was because they were better, and God wanted to make them best. By the carelessness of the thrashing you may always conclude the value of the grain. Next, my text teaches us that God proportions our trials to what we can bear. The staff for the fitches, the rod for the cummin, the iron wheel for the corn. Sometimes people in great trouble say, "Oh, I can't bear it!" But you did bear it, and you had not sent it upon you if He had not known that you could bear it. You trembled and you swooned, but you got through. God will not take from your eyes one tear too deep nor from your temples one throb too sharp. The perplexities of your earthly business have not in them one tangle too intricate. You sometimes feel as if our world were full of blindfolded flying haphazard. Oh, no; they are thrashing instruments that God suits to your case. There is not a dollar of bad debts on your ledger or a disappointment about goods that you expected to go up, but that have gone down, or a swindle of your business partner or a trick on the part of those who are in the same kind of merchandise that you are, but God intended to overrule for your immortal help. "Oh, you say, 'there is no need talking that way to me. I don't like to be cheated and outraged.'" Neither does the corn like the corn thrasher, but after it has been thrashed and winnowed it has a great deal better opinion of winnowing mills and corn thrashers. "Well," you say, "if I could choose my trouble, I would be willing to be troubled." Ah, my brother, then it would not be trouble. You would choose something that would not hurt, and unless it hurt it does not get sanctified. Your trial perhaps may be childless. You are fond of children. You say, "Why does God send children to us and then to unlove and to hate and to be beaten and to be hanged about when I would have taken them in the arms of my affection?" You say, "Any other trial but this." Your trial perhaps may be in a disagreeable country, and you say, "I could endure anything if only I was good looking." And your trial perhaps is a violent temper, and you have to drive it like six unbroken horses, and it is such an exhausting thing to breathe. Your trouble is a husband, sharp, snappy and cross about the house and raising a small riot because a button is off. How could you know the button is off? You next few months it will be a simple matter for speculators to secure erratic fluctuations. Pressure for iron and steel has not diminished perceptibly, yet the impression is growing that after July 1 the situation will become approximately normal and it will be possible to secure deliveries with some degree of promptness. Grain markets have begun to feel the effects of weather reports, and for the next few months it will be a simple matter for speculators to secure erratic fluctuations. Although 400,000 bales more cotton have come into sight than a year ago, reports from the South are almost unanimous regarding the exhaustion of stocks. Failures for the week numbered 209 in the United States against 224 last year, and 31 in Canada against 35 last year.

General Trade Conditions.
 R. G. Dun & Co.'s "Weekly Review of Trade" says: "Evidences of further improvement are numerous. Labor controversies are less threatening, many settlements having been effected, while others are momentarily anticipated; wages have been advanced, not only through strikes, but in some cases voluntarily; traffic congestion has subsided until it is possible to deliver goods according to specifications. Pressure for iron and steel has not diminished perceptibly, yet the impression is growing that after July 1 the situation will become approximately normal and it will be possible to secure deliveries with some degree of promptness. Grain markets have begun to feel the effects of weather reports, and for the next few months it will be a simple matter for speculators to secure erratic fluctuations. To Cure Woman's Ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds. Mrs. Pauline Judson Writes:
 "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Soon after my marriage two years ago I found myself in constant pain. The doctor said my womb was turned, and this caused the pain with considerable inflammation. He prescribed for me for four months, when my husband became impatient because I grew worse instead of better, and in speaking to the druggist he advised him to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. How I wish I had taken that at first; it would have saved me weeks of suffering. It took three long months to restore me, but it is a happy relief, and we are both most grateful to you. Your Compound has brought joy to our home and health to me."—Mrs. PAULINE JUDSON, 47 Hoyt Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.—$5.00 per bottle if above testimonial is not genuine.

It would seem by this statement that women would save time and much sickness if they would get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and also write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free and always helps.

Dropsey New Discovery.
 Cures Dropsey, Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headaches. One day a friend asked me what the trouble was. When I told him he recommended Ripans Tablets. That evening I got a box, and after the second box I began to feel such relief that I kept on with them. I have Ripans Tablets always in the house now and carry a package of them in my pocket.

At druggists.
 The Five-Cent packet is enough for an ordinary occasion. The family bottle, 60 cents, contains a supply for a year.

WHERE DOCTORS FAIL
To Cure Woman's Ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds. Mrs. Pauline Judson Writes:
 "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Soon after my marriage two years ago I found myself in constant pain. The doctor said my womb was turned, and this caused the pain with considerable inflammation. He prescribed for me for four months, when my husband became impatient because I grew worse instead of better, and in speaking to the druggist he advised him to get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. How I wish I had taken that at first; it would have saved me weeks of suffering. It took three long months to restore me, but it is a happy relief, and we are both most grateful to you. Your Compound has brought joy to our home and health to me."—Mrs. PAULINE JUDSON, 47 Hoyt Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.—$5.00 per bottle if above testimonial is not genuine.

It would seem by this statement that women would save time and much sickness if they would get Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and also write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free and always helps.
