The Wrong Funeral.

HÉAVENLY LIFE.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Says the Busiess Place in the Universe is Heaven.

Glimpse of the King's Palace An Impressive Half Hour in Eternity.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—In the following discourse, prepared by Dr. Talmage before his illness, a vivid glimpse of the splen-dors and glories of heavenly life is pre-sented; text, Revelation viii, 1, "There was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour." The busiest place in the universe is heaven. It is the centre from which all good influences start; it is the goal at which all good results arrive. The Bible represents it as active with wheels and wings and orchestras and processions mounted or charioted. But my text de-scribes a space when the wheels ceased to roll and the trumpets to sound and the voices to chant. The riders on the white horses reined in their charges. The doxol-ogies were hushed and processions halted. The hand of arrest was upon all the splen-dor, "Stop heaven!" cried an omnipo-tent voice, and it stopped. For thirty minutes everything celestial stood still. "There was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour."

"There was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour." From all we can learn it is the only time heaven ever stopped. It does not stop as other cities for the night, for there is no night there. It does not stop for a plague, for the inhabitant never says, "I am sick." It does not stop for bankrupt-cies, for its inhabitants never fail. It does not stop for impassable streets, for there are no fallen snows or sweeping freshets. What, then, stopped it for think it was at the time of the destruction of Jerusalem. Mr. Lord thinks it was in the year 311, between the close of the Dio cletian persecution and the beginning of the wars by which Constantine gained the throne. But that was all a guess, though the wars by which Constantine gained the throne. But that was all a guess, though a learned and brilliant guess. I do not know when it was and I do not care when it was, but of the fact that such an inter-regnum of sound took place I am certain. "There was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour." And, first of all, we learn that God and all heaven then honored silence. The longest and widest domain that ever ex-isted is that over which stillness was queen. For an eternity there had not been a sound. World making was a later day occupation. For unimsginable ages it was a mute universe. God was the only being, and as there was no one to speak to there was no uterance. But that si-lence has all been broken up in to worlds, and it has become a noisy universe.

That is the chief river of heaven—so bright, so wide, so deep. But you ask, "Where are the asylums for the old?" I answer, "The inhabitants are all young." "Where are the hospitals for the lame?" "They are all agile." "Where are the infirmaries for the blind and deaf?" "They all see and hear." "Where are the almshouses for the poor?" "They are all multimillionaires." "Let me stay here in this place where they never sin, where they never suffer, where they never part." No, no! Our time is short, our thirty minutes are almost gone. Come on! We must get back to earth before this helf hour of hearenly eilence heashe wo "All right," said the second, who was ion? I would not have been startled at the announcement, but it indicates thirty minutes. Why, there will be so many friends to hunt up, so many of the greatly good and useful that we will want to see, so many of the inscrutable things of earth we will meed explained, so many exciting earthly experiences we will want to talk over, and all the other spirits and all the ages will want the same, that there will be no more opportunity for cessation. How busy we will be kept in having pointed out to us the heroes and heroines that the world never fully appreciated—the yellow fever and cholera doctors who died, not flying from their posts; the female nurses who faced pestilence in the haza rettos; the railroad engineers who stayed at their places in order to save the train, though they themselves perished. Hu-bert Goffin, the master miner, who, land-ing from the bucket at the bottom of the mine just as he heard the waters rush in and when one jerk of the rope would have lifted him into safety, put in the hucket a blind miner who wanted to go to his sick child, and jerked the rope for him to be pulled up, crying, "Tell them the water has burst in and we are probably lost, but we will seck refuge at the other end of the right gallery," and then giving the com-mand to the other miners till they digged themselves so near out that the people from the outside could come to their res-cue. The multitudes of men and women who got no crown on earth we will want to see when they get their crown in heav-en. I tell you heaven will have no more half hours to spare. Besides that, heaven is full of children. St. Jacobs Oil. SERGEANT JEREMIAH MAHER, of Ard cath, Royal Irish Constabulary, says: "My friend, Mr. Thomas Hand, has been a great sufferer from rheumatism in the back and joints for the last four years, during which time he has employed many different methods of treatment, but obtained no relief whatever, and for the last two years has been unable to walk without a stick, and sometimes two sticks, and was in great pain than half an hour. Hark! The clock in the tower of heaven begins to strike, and the half hour is end-ed. Descend! Come back! Come down till your work is done. Shoulder a little longer your burdens. Fight a little longer your battles. Weep a little longer your griefs. And then take heaven not in its dullest half hour, but in its mightiest pomp, and, instead of taking it for thirty minutes, take it world without end. But how will you spend the first half hour of your heavenly citizenship after you have gone in to stay? After your prostration before the throne in worship of Him who made it possible for you to get there at all I think the rest of your first half hour in heaven will be passed in receiving your reward if you have been faithful. I have a strangely beautiful book containing the pictures of the medals atruck by the English Government in honor of great battles. These medals are pinned over the heart of the returned he-roes of the army on great occasions, the royal family present and the royal bands playing—the Crimean medal, the medal of the mutiny, the Victoria cross, the Waterloo medal. In your first half hour in heaven in some way you will be honored for the earthly struggles in which you won the day. Stand up before all the royal house of heaven and receive the insignia while you are announced as victor over the drafts and freshets of the farm field, victor over the temptations of the Stock Exchange, victor over professional allurethan half an hour. Hark! The clock in the tower of heaven constantly. I induced him to procure a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil, which he applied with the most astonishing and marvellous effects. Before he had finished using the contents of the first bottle he could walk readily without the aid of a stick, and after a few applications from the second bottle he was free from pain, and has been ever since ; and although fifty years of age and a farmer, he can walk and work without experiencing any pain or difficulty whatever." to see when they get their trout in mar-en. I tell you heaven will have no more half hours to spare. Besides that, heaven is full of children. They are in the vast majority. No child on earth who amounts to anything can be kept quiet half an hour, and how are you going to keep five hundred million of them quiet half an hour?
