Wedding Bells.

Thursday afternoon April 17, at three o'clock, Miss Minnie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bitner of Manhattan, Ill., was united in marriage to Rev. M. W. Sundermann, at the home of the bride's parents...

Minnie is a graduate of the North Western Musical Conservatory of '99 and has since devoted her time to piano teaching. About fifty guests were present to witness the ceremony which was performed by Prof. J. S. Gametfelder, D. D. They received many costly and beautiful presents from their many friends.

The couple departed Friday last for Portland, where Rev. Sundermann will preach his farewell sermon, after which they will take up their new appointment, and be at home after April 22, at 110 Division St., Elkhardt, Indiana.

Mr. Bitner, father of the bride, is a native of Potter township; he went west many years ago, and has been quite successful as a farmer, since locating in Illinois.

Remodeling Church.

The Reformed church, at Boolsburg, is being remodelled. The pipe organ has been removed and will be rebuilt in the front part of the church. The contract for the work on the church building has been given to Wm. Steele of Bellefonte, and the rebuilding of the organ will be done by a Reading man.

Wheat Outlook.

Not more than twenty-five per cent. of the wheat fields located along the L. & T. present a really promising appearance; twenty-five per cent. are good and fifty per cent. poor. Between Lewisburg and Harrisburg the percentage is a trifle better—thirty-five per cent. very promising, thirty-five per cent. good and the balance poor.

Celebrated His Birthday.

Perry W. Breen was forty-four years old Tuesday of this week, and in order that this particular birthday might be well remembered his friends planned for him a surprise party at his home east of Centre Hall...

At a meeting of the creditors of John P. Condo, at Bellefonte, on last Friday, W. F. Smith was chosen trustee.

A PROMISE NOT BINDING.

A Wise Man Will Change His Mind, Says Mr. Gramley.

When confronted with the statement that Mr. Gramley was the third time elected to the office of county superintendent of public schools of Centre county because of a solemn promise made that he would ask nothing thereafter, Mr. Gramley caudally states that a wise man will change his mind.

That is true. The school directors of Centre county who promised Mr. Gramley their support for a fourth term at a time when there were no other candidates in the field, if they so wish have an equal right to change their mind and support another man as Mr. Gramley's successor.

Mr. Gramley claims the right to change his mind after he has profited from a solemn promise not to be a candidate again for county superintendent, but he persists in holding to their word every director who promised to support him at a time when there was no opposition.

That is true. Mr. Gramley should be fair. If a wise man will change his mind, and he will, Mr. Gramley has no right to hold others to a solicited promise when he refuses to live up to a voluntary promise.

The writer's attitude on the question of the selection of a superintendent of public schools of Centre county is sustained by a large majority of the school directors of Centre county, and citizens as well.

The writer has advocated a new man for that particular position, believing that a continuation in office of the present head of the school department of Centre county would be detrimental to the best interests of the public school system of this county.

The old are wise, but it is the new men at the heads of departments that bring with them better ideas, better systems, more activity, more inspiration. The observer sees this fact demonstrated every day; if it were not so the world would go backward; science and knowledge would decrease instead of increase.

The usefulness, in school affairs, of the man who is elected county superintendent on May 6th, in time will pass away, when another must take his place, and so on. Life tenure of office is un-American. It is un-American because it brings no good results.

No amount of persuasion, no amount of promises of patronage by friends of candidates, no amount of newspaper black-guarding, no amount of personal abuse, all of which have been brought to bear, will induce the writer to do other than stand firm for a new man for superintendent of public schools of Centre county.

The Sick.

Among the sick through the valley are Ed. Ruhl and Mrs. Mary Stover, Spring Mills; Mrs. Breen, Wm. Heckman, Mrs. A. P. Luse, Centre Hall; Blaine Palmer and Samuel Strong, Potters Mills.

Egg Hill on Fire.

Egg Hill was swept by a vicious mountain fire this week. The greater part of the peculiarly shaped little mountain had been well cleared of heavy timber, but many portions were set with young timber that was rapidly growing into value; much of this growth was destroyed. The fire crept down to the mountain edge in many places and destroyed hundreds of rods of fence.

The mountain Wednesday night presented a beautiful appearance from Centre Hall, the numerous lines of fire dividing the region into odd shapes.

The fire was caused by children in a playful manner igniting rubbish in or near a woods at the mountain's edge.

A. A. Pletcher, of Nittany, candidate for county superintendent of public schools, on his way home from a tour of lower Penns Valley in the interest of his candidacy, called at the Reporter office Wednesday. Mr. Pletcher was much encouraged in that quarter, when he found an inclination among the great majority of directors to favor a change at the head of the school department of the county.

Profit by This.

The ill effects of eating canned meats, etc., which have been opened and left in the cans for some time, is here illustrated. Canned vegetables and meats should be removed from the cans as soon as the contents are exposed to the air. James Walter, of New Berlin, was a very sick man Tuesday last week, from the effects of eating canned salmon the day previous. The can had been opened on Saturday and part of the contents left in it which became poisonous.
