FROM ILLINOIS.

A Former Potter Township Man Tells of Conditions in Stephenson County.

The out door operations are hamperel at this time by the rain which has fallen in very considerable quantities since mid-night last. It is the first rain of any consequence for months. The past winter has been very deficient in snows and moisture. March was a fine month with us-more like April should be, while April weather, perature, and very little rain. Treseveral weeks with but little intermittance. For several days the sun was eclipsed by clouds of dust. Vegetation looks well considering the deficiency of rain. Winter grain looks well, while spring grain and grasses came up rather thin, much of it never sprouted for lack of moisture, being too near the surface. Farm and garden operations are well advanced; Early potatoes are up in places; corn land is almost in readiness for planting; seed corn is scarce and is worth $1.75 and $2 00 per bushel; seed potatoes sell for $1.50 and $1.75 per bushel.

Meats have gone soaring in the air. Is it a butcher's trust or a general searcity of cattle, hogs and poultry? The prices of most all commodities remain firm, at advanced points. No one seems to experience any inconvenience on account of high prices, howis busy who desires employment.

The crops were poor last season, the first time for fifteen years, yet those of us who were not afflicted by an over abundance of stock, could easily balplace to our credit in the banks.

The farmers who wintered much steek, bought and fed much high priced feed, are certainly not ready to crow over their profits. We do not expect to pass through another siege like that of last summer very soon again.

Foster, the great weather man, says we will have plenty of moisture from now on, and he, like all the weather Heinle, of Bhillefonte, will be a candidate for reins that governs the elements-the their departure.
