HORSE RAN AWAY.

A Pretry Wiss Skillfully Guides a Rounway Horse for Half a Mile.

An exciting runaway occurred Tuesday afternoon on the pike, near the Valentine farm, below Pleasant Gap. Miss Clara Gentzell, daughter of Benjamin Gentzell, of Pleasant Gap, was driving a spirited horse toward Bellefonte, when the animal suddenly took fright at two little girls playing in the middle of the road. The horse jumped to one side, striking against the fence, and breaking the shaft into two pieces, both of which hung to the harness. The animal was greatly excited and started to run over the leved road at a terrific speed. Miss Gentzell is a horsewoman, and as the beast madly rushed by the writer and his associates who were going in the opposite direction, she spoke kindly to her steed and kept him in the centre of the road with a steady.line. When the bridge was crossed an opportunity was presented, and the thoughtful, plucky maiden seized it-she guided her horse to the right, ran him up a steep grade to a fence, where he stopped and was taken hold of by a gentleman who happened to be there. Nothing was broken except the shaft. The horse was slightly injured. The affair was far more exciting than Forpaugh's cycle-whirl, loop the loop, or chariot racing, and the speed would have won a running race. No one ever was willing to give a young lady more room on the road than was the writer on this occasion.

Want Soil Surveyed.

Hon. J. W. Fredericks, of Lock Haven, is making a persistent effort to have the national government make an examination of the soil in Clinton county, with the view of establishing a tobacco experimental station, as is being done in other counties. Mr. Fredericks has offered five acres for the purpose. A request of this kind was refused some time ago, but Mr. Fredericks has again taken the matter up, and is working through Congressman Deemer and Senators Quay and Penrose. A letter from Congressman Deemer states that he has placed the tobacco growing industry of Clinton county in as favorable a light as possible to the secretary of agriculture and that that official is now considering the request.

One for the Ministers

The president of Grinnel College, Iowa, told the graduating class of the Chicago Theological Seminary in a bacalaureate sermon that for a minister to die rich was to be recreant to his trust. This is a new view of the ministerial life that is almost rare in these days. Some clergymen not only draw salaries several times the amount of their earnings, but make speculative investments also. And when they die the very large part of their treasure that is not laid up in heaven is usually found in safe deposit boxes. Really times have changed since Jesus taught by Galilee!
