FREE TAXES and FREE WATER.

Inducements the Borough Council should Offer Manufacturing Establishments.

Centre Hall is wanting small manufacturing establishments, and in order to encourage any one who may be contemplating locating here, the borough authorities should arrange to grant free taxes and free water.

Every good citizen will applaud such an action.

Centre Hall is an ideal place for small manufacturing establishments to locate. Most of the citizens are property owners, and therefore would be interested in the success of the enterprise giving them employment and would naturally seek to give ample return for wages.

The residents of Centre Hall are permanent, not transient; they have a personal interest here, and when employed give better satisfaction than employees who have no interest in the place in which they live other than to earn a livelihood.

The cost of living is far less in Centre Hall than in manufacturing towns, which would enable operators to secure labor at moderate wages and at the same time permit employees to save a larger share of their earnings than is usually the case.

If you want to start in the manufacture of some useful ware with moderate capital, come to Centre Hall.

Reformed Classis.

The Reformed Classis is in session at Adamsburg, Snyder county. Rev. Kershner is in attendance, with Jacob Wagner representing the laymen of his charge.

P. R. H. Plants Trees.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has shipped fifteen thousand young locust trees to Newton Hamilton, to be set out on the Ingram farm, in Wayne township, Millin county. These trees will be planted eight feet apart and cultivated twice a year until they are large enough for cross-ties. This is an experiment, and if successful will be followed by other and larger ventures in the same line.

LIST CORRECTIONS.

The Reporter subscription list was corrected for this issue. If proper credit has not been given, please give notice at once. Let every reader look at his label.

If there is no date on your label, for the date is back farther than July, 1900 you will be indebted for two years by July next. '00' means July 1, 1900. 'Jan. '01,' means January 1901, and so on.

The great majority of the Reporter subscribers have been paying promptly, and it is the wish of the writer that the few who have not done so will remit as soon as possible.

The Kulp-Hough Case is Settled.

The special week of Court which convened in Bellefonte, Monday, reached speedy termination. All the cases on the list were Kulp-Hough cases. These cases were settled in the following manner:—Monroe H. Kulp & Co., incorporated, vs. Nathan Hough, ejectment. The jury was instructed to bring a verdict for the plaintiff. In the case of Emeline Hough vs. Monroe H. Kulp & Co., action in ejectment, the jury was instructed to find a verdict for the plaintiff. The other cases were dropped.

These promised to be big cases and it was thought the whole week would be consumed in the trial. They were brought for the purpose of settling disputes as to titles of tracts of land in Miles township, near the Union county line.

In digging a water ditch across the pike, Dr. Lee had the unusual good luck to strike stone from eight to twelve inches in width, six to eight inches in thickness, and six, eight and ten feet in length. These stones lay in direct line with the ditch, and little trouble was encountered in lifting them.

The vacation season at educational institutions will commence in a short time. Graduating exercises, reunions, anniversaries and kindred events are scheduled in plenty and from now until the end of June the stage will be occupied by young people who are emerging from a world of study to one which is surrounded by all of the glamour that hope weaves about the future.

Andrew Carnegie, on reaching the English shore, the other day, said: "There is no question of patriotism in trade. It does not care a fig for a flag. It is dividends that count. Of course, every citizen worth a cent wishes his own country to be first in everything and a peaceful, industrial victory is the only genuine one. Victory through war generally costs more than it is worth. If Great Britain continues her costly wars for shadowy ascendancy in distant parts, and the United States develops her industrial army, there can only be one result, Great Britain will have the shadow and the United States the substance."

THE STAR STORE.

ESTABLISHED 1889.

G. O. BENNER

PROPRIETOR.

Chop off The "Side Issues."

The old adage was "Don't put all your eggs in one basket." Andrew Carnegie has bettered it thus: "Put all your eggs in one basket and watch that basket." Splendid advice for you and me, farmer, merchant, anybody. That J. Pierpont Morgan can govern a multitude of railroads, finance a billion dollar steel trust, and organize the consolidation of the world's shipping interests, does not prove that YOU or I can run anything on the side, except that the present business suffers. Concentration counts. Now this is just what we have been trying to do since 1889. The mercantile pursuit is one business and that is all we want to do. We are studying every detail in it. Piling it in such shape so as to give you all that your dollar can possibly buy. The old story, of which we have told you frequently, counts largely in this deal. Chop off the "side issues."
