A TIMELY UTTERANCE.

The speech of ex-President Cleveland at the Tilden Club reception in New York last week was altogether admirable. There was not a dictatorial word in it. It was an appeal—something in the nature of a farewell address—beckoning his party back into the straight paths trodden by the founders. Of late years, it cannot be denied, the party has ventured upon new policies and followed in the lead of an unseasoned and impracticable statesmanship. It has lost its way, and has also lost the confidence of the country. It must retrace its steps. Before it can go onward it must go back.

It will be a crowning act of his useful life if Mr. Cleveland's parting adjuration to the Democracy shall prove the keynote of future harmony. At no time since the Republic was in its swaddling clothes has the nation stood in greater need of a recurrence to Democratic standards.

NATIONAL IRRIGATION CAMPAIGN.

There is no relaxation in the strenuous campaign in Congress for national irrigation, and the pending bill to this end is to engage the attention of the House to the exclusion of matters of more immediate public concern. A dazzling vista of speculative profits greets the eyes of enthusiastic promoters of the scheme. It doesn't make any difference to them whether irrigation of arid and semi-arid lands would pay as a business proposition. There is no doubt that it would pay as a speculative device of latter day finance, and that is all that is necessary. The preliminary steps to legislative sanction have been carefully and shrewdly taken, as befits the magnitude of the stake—a $100,000,000 appropriation at the outset, with unnumbered millions to follow.

There is much valuable land in the semi-arid region to be reclaimed by irrigation, but it by no means follows that the public treasury should be drawn upon for the cost of the improvement. Private capital in large amount has already been invested in this method of Western land reclamation, and the field of profitable investment is by no means exhausted. But the process of reclamation by individuals is too slow and tedious, too far removed from possible speculative inspiration, to win favor with progressive, up-to-date statesmen and promoters. It is easier, quicker and safer to saddle the cost upon the Government, taking care in the meantime to absorb profits for private advantage. What is proposed is in reality a sort of State Socialism, in which individual energy and initiative are to be replaced by officially directed methods of Treasury spoliation.

THE TWO BROWNS.

Neither the Brown of Lawrence county, for Lieutenant Governor, nor the Brown of Erie county, for Secretary of Internal Affairs, is a source of popular strength to the Republican State ticket. They are both likely to put the Republican managers on the defensive in the campaign. Brown, of Erie, now Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs, already owes to the voters in Pennsylvania an explanation of his connection with the transaction on which the Supreme Court passed judgment unanimously nine years ago, when an attempt was made to take away several hundred acres of former public land from a citizen in Potter county on the ground of defective title. This action was carried on in the name of deputy Brown, who caused a patent to be issued to himself, and the Supreme Court condemned it as not only irregular and against public policy, but denounced it as a dangerous proceeding in the exercise of power not authorized. There was no charge against the deputy, but the peculiar manner in which the case was pushed, together with the condemnation of the Court upon it, demands that the candidate shall explain his relation to it in order that the people may judge his fitness to stand for Secretary of Internal Affairs.

The Vermont Republicans split on the temperance question at their State convention last week. The anti-Prohibitionists walked out of the convention and nominated their leader Percival W. Clements for governor. The stalwart Republicans counteracted the anti-Prohibition movement by adopting a plank in the platform asking the Legislature to provide for a popular vote on the question of high license and local option law and promising that such a law shall be passed if there is a majority in its favor. This is a radical step for Vermont to take.

Spring Mills.

J. B. Fisher's Sons, at Penn Hall, have just introduced the acetylene light into their spacious store room, and the illumination is about perfect. The generator has a capacity for fifteen burners, but only eight are used, as this number is amply sufficient to light up the store room and office very beautifully. Mr. Fisher jocularly remarked that heretofore they had been doing business in the dark, or rather, with little or no illumination, but now they can have perpetual daylight. Customers too, have discovered that they can select their goods, especially dry goods, trimmings, etc., just as readily at night as during the day, and consequently visit the store in the cool of the evening, instead of under the rays of the broiling sun. The Fisher Bros. are doing a very extensive business.

One day last week three of the village beauties riding on bicycles, accidentally met on the road at the mill corner, and stopped and balanced themselves for a little chat. While thus engaged one of the bicycles took a notion to surprise them by playing circus and suddenly turned over, upsetting the other two, and throwing the fair riders "all on a heap." No damage being sustained, and the scrambling being observed by only one or two persons, the young ladies hastily adjusted matters and mounting their two wheeled steeds rode off as happy and lively as huge sun flowers.

At present wool seems to be in demand; lately it was almost a drug in the market, but within the last few weeks has been quite active. Merchant O. T. Corman says that notwithstanding he has bought somewhat heavily of late, he is still short in his orders and will pay either cash or trade for any amount of unwashed wool that is offered. Last week Mr. Corman received his stock of Fourth of July goods; such an array of pyrotechnics as his displays is rarely found in a country store. Evidently his establishment is headquarters for fireworks. C. P. Long, merchant and lumber operator, is having hauled to the yard of his planing mill about 90,000 feet of lumber per week and ships a car load of finished work daily. The planing mill has been operated to its utmost capacity for several weeks.

Owing to failing health, that old reliable wall paper merchant, George W. Dunkle, of this village, will retire from business and dispose of his large stock of wall paper at less than cost.

Potters Mills.

The school is practicing for Children's service at Egg Hill Sunday evening, 29th, to which all are invited; it promises to be good. Michael Smith and his accomplished daughter Mabel, are spending several days at Spring Mills. Frank McCoy and Miss Anna Bibleheimer made a trip to Bellefonte one day last week.

There was a light frost Sunday night and cold enough for snow. Quite a number of the young people attended the festival at Colyer Saturday evening and report it a success.

The six-months-old child of Mrs. Hattie Smith died of consumption and was buried Monday.

President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, on Monday issued an address to the public. It is partly a reply to the letters of the operators declining to accede to the demands of the Union, which were published about ten days ago. Briefly summarized, the address says that every possible means was resorted to in the effort to prevent the strike, claims that the cost of living has increased to the point where the miner was compelled to ask for higher wages, denies the allegations of the operators that the product of the capacity of the mine workers has fallen off, but, on the other hand has increased; quotes official figures to substantiate the contention that the employers can pay higher wages without increasing the cost of coal to the consumer, asserts that the coal carrying railroads which control about 85 per cent. of the mines absorb the profits of their coal companies by charging exorbitant freight rates; claims that a ton at the mines means anywhere from 2,740 to 3,160 pounds instead of 2,240, and says that more men are killed and injured in the anthracite mines of Pennsylvania annually than were killed or wounded during the Spanish-American war.

The address also says that in the event the union is crushed, which, it adds, is not likely, a new organization would rise from its ruins. It concludes with another appeal for arbitration of all the questions in dispute.

The Vermont Republicans split on the temperance question at their State convention last week. The anti-Prohibitionists walked out of the convention and nominated their leader Percival W. Clements for governor. The stalwart Republicans counteracted the anti-Prohibition movement by adopting a plank in the platform asking the Legislature to provide for a popular vote on the question of high license and local option law and promising that such a law shall be passed if there is a majority in its favor. This is a radical step for Vermont to take.

Black Hawk.

Black Hawk lies along the foot of Nittany Mountain on the south side; it is noted for its handsome women and homely men. But enough of history. J. B. Sprow had an old fashioned barn raising on the 18 inst. In the morning the neighbors began to gather from far and near and at eight o'clock about twenty-five men were on the ground when Dave Young, the boss carpenter, put them to work. Dave is all right and the frame went together like a piece of machinery; at noon the frame was all up except the purlines and rafters when the call for dinner came. Ye gods! what a dinner; two tables fairly bending under the good things that please the innerman. Mrs. Sprow is noted for her fine cooking but on this occasion she outdid herself, all agreeing it was the best meal they had sat down to for many a day. Jake is justly proud of his barn; Andy Horner did the mason work at it did it well.

Rhudy Gingerich has the best garden in Black Hawk.

Mrs. Kate Horner contemplates selling her splendid little farm situated in Black Hawk.

John Glace expects to go to Watson town to work with his brother-in-law on a truck farm.

Woodward.

Dr. and Mrs. Ard visited their daughter in Lebanon last week.

Mrs. F. L. Magee, of Mazonia, visited her husband Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. E. H. Musser and Mrs. Jamp Weaver visited Oscar Meyer, at Colburn, last Saturday.

Miss Mabelle Wolfe was to Millheim last Tuesday.

Thomas Hutchison and son Francis, of Snodury, and Miss Laura Hutchison, of Lewisburg, visited friends last week.

Farmers Mills.

Mrs. Gardner Grove is very ill at this writing.

Mrs. James Horner and W. C. Horner and family, of Colyer, were the guests of Harvey Horner, of this place.

M. F. Homan was home on Sunday, having made the trip from Lewistown on his wheel.

Arthur Homan's hand is healing.

Ferry Harter and wife, of Sugar valley, spent Sunday with the latter's parents.

David Igen, of Millinburg, made a trip through this section last week, attending to business.

Squire Rishel, one of the best fishermen in this community, caught a great many fish last week.

There will be a big time in Farmers Mills on the 4th of July, in the evening. A tub race at 6:30, a wheelbarrow race at 7:00 and a festival. Every body come and bring your friends.

Oak Hall.

Here we are again after a week's absence.

Our farmers have begun to make their hay, which is only a fair crop. The wheat, which will be short is beginning to ripen.

Mrs. Clayton Bitters spent a few days last week visiting at Tyrone.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin K. Smith are the proud parents of a big boy that arrived at their home on the 17th inst.

Miss Pearl Ritter, of Centre Hall, and Mrs. Mary Poorman, of York, called in town a few minutes last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dale, of Pine Grove Mills, and Mr. and Mrs. Clem Dale, of Houserville, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dale.

Mrs. Kaup, a lady aged seventy-nine years, is at present suffering from indigestion. We all hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee, of Bellefonte, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tate, of Shiloh, Mrs. Carrie Dale, of Dales Summit and Miss Anna Dale, of this place, were all noticed at the home of E. K. Smith on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Tate and sons, Rankin and Andrew, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Love, of Tusseyville.

Harry Wagner was unfortunate in losing one of his horses last Saturday.

Mrs. Jacob Klinger is at the home of John Klinger, of Centre Furnace.

Our young people attended Children's Day exercises at Linden Hall last Sunday evening and all reported a very nice time.

The Lutheran Sunday school will hold a social on Friday evening at the home of Enoch Sweeney in Boalsburg, and all are invited to attend. Ice cream and cake will be served.

Mr. Cleaver, of Lock Haven, was noticed in town last week looking after the interests of Ginn & Company, Boston, Mass., publishers of school books.

Many excellent pictures may be found in the July Everybody's. Dugmore contributes some of his best negatives to depicting "The Delights of Salmon Fishing." Penrhyn Stawls develops a new vein in his illustrations for Miss Duer's story, and there are some extraordinarily interesting reproductions in Leonie's parchments. These include portraits of the Presidents from Washington to Roosevelt. J. B. Graf, Orson Lowell, E. Murray McKay and John Cecil Clay are also represented.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention finding this generous offer in this paper.

Furniture at Reduced Prices. Smith Bros., from now until August 1st, will sell at greatly reduced prices all kinds of furniture. The goods are first-class in every particular, and the prices are so low that it will pay to buy during this period.
