IN HYMEN'S REALM.

Eight Young People Plight Their Troth and Venture on the Matrimonial Sea. The home of Joseph K. Moyer, of Centre Mills, yesterday, Wednesday, was the scene of a doubly happy event. It was occasioned by the marriage of two of Mr. Moyer's daughters.

Both brides are well and very favorably known, being young ladies of culture and refinement. Both are graduates of the Bloomsburg Normal school and have been successful school teachers for the last few years.

The ceremonies were performed on the lawn under an arch of roses by Rev. George E. Lambert, of Danville, Pa., brother-in-law of the brides, assisted by Rev. Frank Wetzel, of Rebersburg and Rev. Alfred Houtz, of Orangeville, Pa., in the presence of about sixty guests.

The brides departed on the afternoon train from Coburn, for a trip to the eastern cities.

Walter M. Kerlin, one of the young men Centre Hall is glad to say is her product, will be married this Thursday, evening to Miss Anna M. Kern, at 371 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia.

Rev. A. A. Kerlin, of Sharsburg, Md., uncle of the groom, will be the officiating minister. The bride is formerly from Millheim, but for the past six months has resided in Philadelphia. Mr. Kerlin successfully taught school in this county for five or six years, but since the beginning of the year has held an important position with the Mantua Transfer, Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Wednesday at 11:30 o'clock Alvin S. Myers, of Boalsburg, and Miss Jennie Stover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stover, of Earlytown, were united in marriage at the home of the bride.

Grandmother Booser, who is known and respected by every person in town is lying ill at her home and is in a precarious condition.

Last week the Reporter stated that there could beseen near Centre Hall a better field of wheat than was in Lancaster county along the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad.

New Professors at Bucknell. At the recent commencement of Bucknell University, the announcement of the following changes in the corps of instructors was made:

Mrs. A. L. Nearhood, wife of the proprietor of the Rebersburg hotel is improving very nicely since her return from the hospital.
