Every farmer, or land owner, who has proper pride, managed to perform the work made obligatory in the above law before 1902.

PEACEMAKER KILLED.

David Miller in Bellefonte Jail for Killing Robert Roach, His Son-in-Law.

David Miller was incarcerated in the Bellefonte jail Tuesday morning, to await trial for the murder of his son-in-law, Robert Roach.

According to the best information at hand, Miller, who is a veteran of the civil war, and lives at Retort, Monday went to his home in an intoxicated condition, and raised a family row.

Miller was not satisfied with his work, and securing his gun, threatened to kill Roach. In the meantime the son-in-law left the house, and ran up the road. Miller followed, and at a distance of about one hundred yards, fired two shots, both of which took effect, striking the right hip and lodging in the groin.

Medical aid was summoned, but no relief could be given. Death followed at his home at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Miller was taken before the Justice of the Peace, J. J. Collins, at Sandy Ridge, and committed to jail. Tuesday morning he was brought to Bellefonte and given into the hands of Sheriff Brungart.
