Farm Sold for $6,000.

The Martha Orlady farm, at Earlystown, one mile west of the Old Fort, Saturday was sold by the agent, Capt. George M. Boal, to Mrs. James I. Lytle, of Lemont, for $6,000. The farm contains one hundred and fifty acres, and has good buildings on it, and at present is tenanted by Samuel Durst, the previous tenants being W. A Boal, deceased, and David Rhinesmith.

This farm was one of the five farms left to his children by George W. Boal, by the way is the mother of Superior Court Judge Orlady, who has held it ever since.

RICH, BUT IS MONEYLESS.

Claimant to $60,000,000 Worth of Bituminous Property Offers Attorney Fabulous Fee.

Claiming anthracite coal lands worth $60,000,000, at a conservative estimate, O. H. Wheeler, Attorney General of this Common wealth in 1849 and 1850, is too poor to buy himself a railroad ticket from Altoona to Harrisburg. Wheeler, was a prominent lawyer during the Civil War, and preceding it was twice elected District Attorney of Columbia county. He was a special messenger between Governor Curtin and President Lincoln early in the war.

In 1898 Mr. Wheeler bought for $57,-000 a half interest in 19,300 acres of coal land in Northumberland, Schuylkill and Columbia counties. These lands are now mined by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal Company. Nine suits which he brought nine years ago are to be tried in the United States Circuit Court at Pittsburg in November. Because of his old friendship for City Solicitor Thomas H. BEING ONE'S OWN COMPETITOR. There is a time-honored joke telling of the man who took the exertations of an auctioneer so seriously that, though the only bidder, he bid against himself and thus paid more than he need have done.

We do a lot of "bidding against ourselves," but our purpose is perhaps more selfish and our reason rather less simple than that of the butt of the above joke.

BECAUSE price pulls for us as nothing else will—BECAUSE it is almost the only weapon in our arsenal.—We habitually choo prices when we can instead of waiting until we must.

We claim no credit for so doing—except the credit of being shrewd enough to know on which side your bread is buttered.
