Ancstral Marks.

After a long, dusty walk to a country town, and a morning spent in poring over ancient records, an enthusiastic genealogist returned with these memoranda concerning his ancestors:

"Caleb Forbes—His earmark is a cross on the left ear and a half-panny under the same ear and a split on the top of the right ear."
"John Starkweather—His earmark is a square cross on the left ear and a split on the hind side of the right ear, split downward."

"Oh! what does this mean?" cried his wife. "How terrible! John, I wish you'd let genealogy alone. What crimes do you suppose they had committed?"
"What's the matter, my dear?"
"Why, this is the record of the way the criminals were branded, isn't it?"
"What!" shouted the proud genealogist. "My ancestors branded. These are the marks of their cattle—among the first on record!"

"I am relieved," said his wife.

On the Races.

The paymaster of the Tower of Babel stood on the eighth floor liquidating the week's incumbrances. Inadvertently he let a few coins slip through his fingers and fall to the cellar.

"He's a sport, all right," said the carpenter three floors below, as he rubbed a bruised pate. "He's a sport. Just look at the money he's dropped on the races!"

Mrs. Aaron Lubold, aged 65, and Mrs. Edward Byerly, aged 40, were burned to death at Tower City. Mrs. Lubold's clothing caught fire from sparks blown from beneath a large iron kettle in the yard. Mrs. Byerly endeavored to extinguish the flames enveloping Mrs. Lubold and her clothing ignited. Both women screamed frantically, and Mr. Byerly, who was in the barn at the time, rushed to the scene. His efforts were in vain, the women dying shortly thereafter.

Going to his barn late at night, Alfred Stewart, of Fernwood, discovered two men making off with his reaping machine, which they had taken apart in sections and placed in a large wagon. He pursued the strangers, who, after a short but spirited chase, abandoned their team and escaped. The strange team was turned over to the local authorities and is the subject of much speculation as to ownership.

Altoona is again cateneted with a small-pox epidemic. Four new cases, all in the same locality, developed. A special meeting of the Board of Health was held and every effort possible is being made to prevent further spread of the disease.

The Powers Coal Company, operating mines a few miles west of Sharon, posted a notice to the effect that beginning November 1 their miners will give an advance in wages of ten cents a day. About one hundred men are affected. The advance was made voluntarily.

Having been in the ministry for more than fifty years, old age has induced Rev. Dr. Daniel F. Brendell, of Bethlehem, to retire from the pastorate of the Reformed church known as Farmersville, Arndts and Altoona.

The Reading Railway Company distributed two thousand coal to each of its employes in Lansdale, North Wales and Ambler.

The annual conference of the Pennsylvania Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution came to a close at Bellefonte. The conference visited State College as the guests of the Sons of the American Revolution of Bellefonte. At State College they were given an advance in wages of ten cents a day. About one hundred men are affected. The advance was made voluntarily.

Blairsville College for Women, which had to close on account of an outbreak of diphtheria, has resumed. About half of the boarding students have returned and word has been received from the remainder that they will be on hand as soon as the period of quarantine has expired. Recitations for the present are being held in various public halls in the town and when the college buildings have been thoroughly fumigated the students will again inhabit the dormitories and recitations will be heard in the regular recitation rooms. All the patients attacked with diphtheria are now entirely convalescent.

John Palmer, for several years an inmate of the Mercer county almshouse, was struck by a Pennsylvania express car and instantly killed. He was deaf and did not hear the approaching train.

Richard Valentine, aged 48, was instantly killed in South Canonsburg while employed in tearing down a blacksmith shop, the wall of the building falling upon him.

The third company formed for the purpose of building an electric road between Blairsville and Indiana filed articles of association in the prothonotary's office. Their plans are to build a line between Indiana and Blairsville Intersection, taking in the towns of Fowlie, Homer City, Gracetown, Coral, Blacklick, Blairsville and Cokeville. The capital is fixed at $115,000 and the directors are J. N. Langham, assistant United States District Attorney; Sheriff D. E. Thompson and W. F. Elkin, he latter a brother of Attorney General John P. Elkin, both of Indiana, and A. F. Cooper, of Homer city.

Lapiere Boyles, a boy aged 15, while sitting alone in his home at Greenville, heard someone outside the window. Tip-toeing out of the room, he secured a rifle and fired at a man who was standing at the window. There was a groan and then the figure disappeared. A trail of blood led from the window to the road, where it was lost.

COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

General Trade Conditions.

Bradstreet's says: Cooler weather has brought the coal supply question home to millions of people and has dwarfed all other matters in the public eye. There is, possibly, however, that the tendency to exaggeration may be carried to extremes, and that a matter bad enough at best may be made worse by injudicious talk. Special investigation by Bradstreet's correspondents at fifty cities and industrial centers east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers seem to indicate that, aside from the damage to general business caused in the coal regions themselves by the idleness of 140,000 industrial workers, the coal strike has as yet been the cause of a smaller displacement of industrial workers than is generally supposed. Iron smelting alone of all the great industries has been seriously curtailed, though brick manufacturing has suffered and small hand laundries have been crippled. Including furnace employees in eastern Pennsylvania, brick-makers in and near the Hudson Valley and a large number of coal handlers at tidewater docks, not to exceed 20,000 men, or only one-seventh of the number of actual strikers, have been rendered idle. Uneasiness as to future supplies of fuel is widely noted, and it is worth mention that the scarcity of coke at the West—this being entirely derived from the anthracite shortage, and due to car shortage complained of throughout the entire year—is displacing some industrial workers in the iron trade. Oil, both crude and illuminating, has advanced in price.

Increased supplies of farm products, notably cereals, cattle and hogs and raw cotton, have weakened the prices of natural food products, but manufactured food products, like butter, cheese, groceries, teas and some meats, have moved higher. Tobacco is higher on shorter yields.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week ending October 9, aggregate 5,645,779 bushels, against 6,870,578 last week, 4,719,898 in this week last year and 4,292,855 in 1900. Wheat exports since July 1 aggregate 73,100,492 bushels, against 89,567,844 last season and 51,505,522 in 1900. Corn exports aggregate 180,285 bushels, against 141,423 last week, 678,246 last year and 2,806,017 in 1900.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending Thursday, October 1, number 170, as against 164 last week, 83 in this week last year, 210 in 1900, 64 in 1899 and 233 in 1898.

SUFFERED SEVEN YEARS

With Catarrhal Derangements of the Pelvic Organs.

Miss Kate Brown.

Hundreds of Dollars Spent in Vain—Peruna Cured.

A neglected cold is frequently the cause of death.

It is more often, however, the cause of some chronic disease.

There is not an organ in the body but what is liable to become seriously deranged by a neglected cold. Diseases of the kidneys, bladder and digestive organs are all frequently the result of a neglected cold.

Hundreds of dollars are spent on doctors and medicines trying to cure these diseases, but until the true cause of them is discovered there will be no use in using medicine.

Dyspepsia medicine, diarrhoea medicine and constipation medicine is of no good whatever when catarrh is the cause. The catarrh must be treated. The cause being removed, the derangements will disappear.

Peruna cures catarrh of the digestive organs, the urinary organs or any of the internal organs.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O. and blessings to you for Peruna.—Miss Kate Brown.

NATIONAL SUPPLY CO., NIAGARA FALLS, ONTARIO.

It Was Inconvenient.

A countrywoman entered a general store in Towanda, this State, and exchanged a pair of roll butter for groceries and household articles, including a large box of matches. The following day she returned, and putting the matches on the counter, complained that they were no good—that she couldn't strike them.

"Queer!" commented the storekeeper. "We use 'em altogether, and have no trouble."

Then he took three or four from the box, scratched them one after another on his trousers, easily produced a light, and then assured her the matches were all right.

"Mebbe they be," she replied; "but I have too much to do to walk three miles here and back whenever I want a light for the sake of striking the matches on your trousers!"

Rheumacide The Great Blood Purifier

CURES RHEUMATISM, CATARRH, INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION AND KIDNEY TROUBLES.

In the fall-winter of 1900 I was afflicted with sciatic rheumatism, so much so that I had to use a cane to assist me in walking. Upon sitting down, there was no ease to my thigh, and the only position in which I could hold my leg was straight out in front of me, while in a reclining position. Realizing the nature of the disease, I began treatment at once, but received no relief until induced by Mr. J. T. Doster, of Greenville, of the great firm of Bruce & Doster, to take "Rheumacide." Mr. Doster, who had been a drug seller himself, from rheumatism, and had been compelled to use crutches for 6 months, was cured by RHEUMACIDE. I purchased a bottle from them, under the guarantee of Mr. Doster that if it did not cure me the money would be refunded. One bottle relieved me, and I have had no touch of rheumatism since that time.

W. A. Palmer, who lived here at the time (1901), was down with a severe attack of rheumatism, and for six weeks had to be turned in bed on a sheet. After the use of several bottles of RHEUMACIDE, he was pronounced well, by the attending physician, who is a great believer in the efficacy of your medicine. Yours truly,
