Thanksgiving Supper.

Progress Grange will give a Thanksgiving supper in Grange Arcadia, as has been their custom for years past.

Cider Press Notice.

A. P. Luse & Son give notice that their cider press will be operated November 4, 6 and 11, after which the season will close.

Protracted Services.

A series of meetings are in progress in the Tusseyville United Evangelical church, having begun Monday evening. The meeting will be held continuously during the present and next week.

Marriage Licenses.

Harry Boyers, Bellefonte. Annie Dorman, Nittany. John W. Keister, Aaronsburg. Lizzie F. Benner, Feldler. Edward D. Vandeling, Philipsburg. May M. Scrumman, Philipsburg.

Operation to Straighten a Child's Feet.

The hospital staff at the Lock Haven hospital performed an operation on thirteen-months-old Malcolm Slopey, of Mill Hill. The child had turned in feet, to straighten which the tendons were cut. The feet were then placed in a plaster of paris cast, and later were removed. The child is doing nicely.

Good Work.

Good work is being done in the public schools of Centre Hall. The teachers are making an effort to interest the scholars in their studies, and by proper encouragement on the part of parents will do much toward making progress by their children. Always encourage; never discourage school children.

Re-Dedication

The Reformed church at Boalsburg will be re-dedicated Sunday at 10 a. m. Sermon will be delivered by Rev. Lewis Robb, of Altoona.

Services Friday evening by Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt; Saturday evening, by Rev. J. I. Stonecypher; Sunday morning at same hour of dedication, in the Lutheran church, by Rev. G. W. Kershner; Sunday evening, historical sermon, by Rev. W. H. Groh.

Will go Hunting.

Below are given the names of a hunting party that will spend two weeks along Stone Creek, in the Seven Mountains, in search for deer. Last year this party killed six fine deer within seven days, and they hope to beat that record.

John Coble, Philip Bradford, Geo. Bradford, W. F. Bradford, Clyde Bradford, Albert Bradford, C. W. Slack, Chas. Neff, Dr. J. K. Hosterman, J. Frank Smith, John Bohn, Charley Bohn, Isaac Shawver, John Kuhn.

Meeting at Potters Mills.

The Democratic meeting at Potters Mills Saturday night was an enthusiastic one. It will be remembered that Potters Mills is the Republican stronghold on the South-side of Centre county, and a gathering at that place such as was held Saturday night is of significant importance. The speakers were Messrs. J. C. Meyer and W. Harrison Walker, both of whom made delightful addresses, covering every phase of the campaign. The Colyer Mills band, and a number of voters from that district were present.

REARICK FARM SOLD.

Other Farms Recently Sold in Central Penna Valley.

The George Rearick farm, located along the pike near Spring Mills, was sold by his widow, Mrs. M. A. Rearick, to Wm. Ripka, of near Beaver Dam. The farm contains forty-five acres, and has new improvements. The price paid was $3,000. Mr. Ripka will occupy the property next spring, at which time Mrs. Rearick will become a resident of Centre Hall, and will occupy her home where the Robison family now lives.

Other farms that have recently passed into the hands of new owners are: The M. B. Duck farm, near Spring Mills, purchased by A. N. Finkle.

The Joseph Gilliland farm, near Potters Mills, the purchaser of which was Perry Breon.

The John Heckman farm, on Penns Creek, below Penn Hall, purchased by the heirs.

The Martha Orlandy farm, near Centre Hall, of which James I. Lytle became the owner.

Other changes in farm ownership are being talked of. Rumor has it that the Joseph Brothers have offered Col. J. P. Coburn $15,000 for his splendid farm east of Centre Hall, and that Smith Bros., furniture dealers, are dickering for the farm of ex-County Treasurer D. C. Keller, east of Centre Hall, which has splendid improvements on it.

LIST CORRECTIONS.

Credits were made on the Reporter subscription list this week. Examine your label. Of means July 1902. When another month than July is designated the month is abbreviated.

It Snowed.

A brisk snow squall prevailed Wednesday morning, although the sun was shining at times.

Apples Wanted.

Five car loads of apples are wanted within ten days; must be hand-picked and carefully handled.

C. P. LONG, Spring Mills, Pa.

Potatoes Up in Price.

Potatoes are commanding a very fair price, forty-five cents having been offered for closely assorted stock. It may be wise to sell, and it may not.

Coming to Vote.

Among the young men who will be home to vote Tuesday are Messrs. Perry Alters, Blairsville; Witmer Lee, Allegheny; J. Frank Ross, Pittsburg; C. F. Deininger, Pittsburg; Wm. H. Keller, Pittsburg; Newton E. Emerick, Trenton, New Jersey; Abner W. Nearhood, Northampton, Mass.; Prof. A. Miles Arney, State College; Samuel Snyder, Pittsburg; James Sandoe, Pittsburg.

State Lutherans Will Meet.

The annual convention of the State Lutheran League is in session in Lewistown and will continue over Friday. Delegates representing a membership of 20,000 are in attendance. The State officers are: President, A. Raymond Bard, Reading; corresponding secretary, Horace Bickle, Pittsburg; statistical secretary, D. W. Shollenberg, Montgomery; treasurer, G. W. Zimmerman, Norristown, and recording secretary, Miss Mary Campbell, Shamokin.

LOCALS.

Vote before you eat your dinner next Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Orvis have taken up quarters at the Bush House.

John C. Rowe, the Democratic candidate for Recorder, is abundantly qualified to fill the position to which he aspires. No one has ever questioned his ability or integrity. Give him your vote.

The Manor Hill school is closed owing to the accident that befel the teacher, Prof. Krise. The same school was closed a week or more during the beginning of the term, on account of sickness in Mr. Krise's family.

The simple fact that Republican newspapers are making a fight against Capt. Taylor is evidence that they greatly fear their man Lowry will not stand a good show for election. They have trained their guns on a man who has no weak points.

George Emerick, whose death occurred in Stephenson county, Illinois, was born in Walker township, October 13, 1826. He was the son of John and Elizabeth Emerick and was one of a family of fourteen children, all preceded him to the grave with the exception of one, Mrs. Elizabeth Swartz.

C. P. Long, of Spring Mills, advertises a farm and three new dwelling houses, in Spring Mills, for sale. Mr. Long, as his advertisement states, offers these properties for sale until January 1. The homes are all in good condition, and desirable in every way. Call on him or correspond for further particulars.

A. P. Luse, the head of the firm of Luse & Son, of the Centre Hall planing mill, was a brief caller Tuesday. This firm does an extensive business at its mill, besides building dwelling houses in Centre Hall which are sold to those in want of homes. Politically the Luses are Democrats, having inherited that political proclivity from a long line of ancestors, and they hope, with all Democrats, for success at the poles next Tuesday.

LITTLE CHILD DEAD.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Foreman Brought Here for Interment.

Earnest, a twenty-one-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Foreman, died at the home of his parents, in Youngstown, Ohio, Saturday of last week, and was brought to this place Monday and interred Tuesday, Rev. W. H. Schuyler officiating, assisted by Rev. G. W. Kershner.

The little child met with a serious accident that caused its death. Several days previous to his death, his mother was preparing to do the family washing; the patent washer was filled with boiling water, and at a moment unobserved by the mother the little one managed to draw the plug from the machine, which caused the water to dash over the child, and scalded it in a horrible manner. Physicians and surgeons were called to relieve the little sufferer, but in short time blood poison set in, caused by the coloring in a pair of red shoes the child wore when the accident occurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Foreman and son Ira accompanied the remains to this place and will stay until the latter part of this week.

You can see a hard coal fire burning in the Reporter office, such as was in vogue before the strike.

The operators and miners are working to get out coal; the politicians are working to get out the vote.

Don't! Don't what? Don't make a fool of yourself Friday night. You'll be ashamed Saturday morning.

When in town come in to see the Reporter. The door is open from seven a. m., until the average man is in bed.

G. B. Brungard, of Loganton, has leased the Eagle hotel at Lock Haven, to which place he will move beginning of next year.

Earl Tuten and Samuel Deihl, of Bellefonte, were in town Tuesday. From all appearances they were hunting Republicans, but found few.

The reporter appreciates the kind words spoken by D. F. Luse, while on business in this office, relative to the improved condition of the Reporter's quarters.

A. P. Luse & Son's cider press does some mighty hard squeezing. The other Tuesday five thousand one hundred and fourteen gallons of cider were made.

F. E. Weiland, of Linden Hall, one of the three progressive merchants of that place, was in town Monday. Mr. Weiland is a pleasant gentleman to meet, and is always welcome in Centre Hall.

If a Political Judas comes to you and says, don't vote for this Democrat or that Democrat, tell him you voted for him once or more and that you propose to do as you please. Then add: go hang yourself.

Messrs. Frank Bradford and Isaac Shawver took a little trip to the Seven Mountains, and while there saw four fine deer. They made a "date" with them, but whether the deer will keep their promise remains to be seen.

J. J. Barner, says the Sugar Valley Journal, shot a white bear on Tuesday, while out in White Deer hunting pheasants. The grizzly denizen of the forest stepped across his pathway near the old Cooper dam. It weighed about 250 lbs.

E. M. Huyett is having a Commercial place in his farm house, west of Centre Hall, occupied by Perry Luse, in order that he may be able to personally direct farm operations and the building operations that will be begun ere long.

The prudent farmer will begin to feed grain at once. The heavy frosts have greatly reduced the feed value of the pastures, no matter how luxuriant the growth. Study the subject of dairying, the most profitable branch of your occupation.

$700.00 spent for clerk hire by a Republican board of commissioners does not look as though the board was very competent. The increase of taxes under the last Republican commissioners rule is additional proof. Heckman and Meyer spent $10.00 for clerk hire. Vote the Democratic ticket.

The writer was told the other day by a young man that J. W. Kepler was badly misrepresented two years ago, and that he (a Republican) voted against him, but since he went to the trouble to look into his life, found that he was a generous-hearted, kind-hearted man, and that he proposed to vote for him next Tuesday. Here are the young man's own words: "Why he often gave a grist of wheat to deserving poor, and didn't charge a cent for it. He will do more for me than any of the Republican candidates." Now giving wheat to the poor does not alone fit a man to become a legislator, but it shows what kind of a man Mr. Kepler is, and his feeling for the deserving poor. There are thousands of men who have bins of wheat who never gave a grist to the poor, or even have any concern for people who have a hard struggle to obtain food and clothing. A man disposed to care for the poor before elected to office is not likely to forget them after election. A man solicitous for the common people when it touches his own pocket will not hesitate to urge the state to do justice to the common people.

Election next Tuesday. An oft repeated expression on the part of Democrats: "This year I will vote straight."

John R. Strong, of Potters Mills, was a caller last week. John thinks the Reporter is all right, and that it gives the news.

Mrs. Joseph Krunfel, of Altoona, was attacked by a cow Monday morning, the point of one horn running into her eye, gouging out the eyeball.

Vote for John C. Rowe for Recorder. He is a young, active business man, and is the kind of gentleman you will be pleased to meet when having business at the Register's office.

Mrs. Isaac Smith, of this place, and Mrs. Witmer Smith, of Bellefonte, Friday went to Ardmore, near Philadelphia, to visit Mrs. Anna Wolf, who is suffering from a light paralytic stroke.

In supporting H. S. Braucht for coroner you will be doing a manly deed. Dr. Braucht is one of the best qualified physicians in the county, and besides is a perfect gentleman in every respect.

W. O. Rearick, of Milroy, was in town Tuesday, as was also Mrs. M. A. Rearick, of Spring Mills, both of whom had business with Justice W. B. Mingle relative to the sale of the Rearick farm.

The Reporter is indebted to Mrs. B. H. Arney for a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. The Reporter is rarely without a bouquet, but Mrs. Arney's was especially pretty and especially appreciated.

Morris Decker, who had been a student in the Lebanon business college for some time, has secured a clerkship in the office connected with the Lebanon steel works. He is a son of M. M. Decker, of near this place.

The election of A. G. Arcey for Register is assured, but every Democrat in the county should vote for him to help swell his majority. He has proved himself a competent official; not a word of complaint has been lodged against him by Democrat or Republican. The Republican press has not even assailed him.

W. R. Homan, of Lewistown, was a caller Monday. He was on his way to Lewistown after having spent Sunday at his home near Farmers Mills. He is assistant inspector at the axle plant at Burnham, working on the night turn. He was accompanied by his brother M. F. Homan, who is also engaged in that plant and makes big money.

Mrs. Anna Wolf, widow of Wm. Wolf, deceased, of this place, who lives with her son J. Witmer Wolf, at Ardmore, last week was stricken with paralysis. Her left arm and lower limb were rendered helpless, but her speech was not effected. She has, of course, been confined to bed. Her many acquaintances here hope she will soon recover from the affliction.

Republicans have made a desperate assault on Capt. H. S. Taylor. Nothing has been left undone to lessen his chances for election. Why? Simply to give the office of sheriff to a member of the Republican party. The most ridiculous story against Taylor is that he is rich. Now if a rich (?) man like Taylor is not fit to fill that office, Lowry, the Republican candidate, must step out of the race, for (compared to Captain Taylor) he is a millionaire. The truth of the matter is neither Lowry nor Taylor are rich, but when it comes to measuring worldly possessions Lowry has the lead by great odds.

Miss Hawes, who lectured in the Presbyterian church in this place Sunday evening, was accompanied by Miss S. R. Lowrie, of Warrior's Mark, Pa., president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbytery of Huntingdon. Miss Lowrie is of a family that has furnished an unusual number of prominent and influential missionaries and ministers to the Presbyterian church, and herself possesses the missionary zeal and earnestness of the family. A number of the citizens met both ladies socially during their stay in Centre Hall and found them to be most delightful and interesting companions. They left Monday afternoon to hold a meeting in the evening at State College. Miss Hawes is visiting most of the churches of the Presbytery under the auspices of the Woman's Society.

Samuel Dresher, who some thirty-two years ago was a resident of this place, was a caller Tuesday. He came up from Washington, D. C., where his brother, George Dresher, has the contract for the bridge work on the electric railroad being built from the National Capital to Baltimore, and at which place he received an injury from which he is, however, rapidly recovering. When living in this place, Mr. Dresher conducted a restaurant in the old Felmele house where the Lutheran church stands, but nothing looks familiar to him in that quarter. The only spot that recalled old associations was that surrounding the old log house on the Wilson farm, near the station. He was a soldier, and stood shoulder to shoulder with the many defenders of the nation. Mr. Dresher is making Alfred Durr's his headquarters, a brother, Jefferson Dresher, who lived west of town having died, and the family scattered. His present home is Omaha, Nebraska.
