THE HUNTER'S TALE.

Reports from Camp and Field-Bear, Deer and Birds Captured by Huntsmen.

The Seven Mountains are alive with hunters. Every few miles there is a camp well supplied with ammunition and accoutrements for a week's stay. Game is continually being chased, and has no time to rest, or recover from excitement.

The train from the east Monday morning, on reaching the mountains, had no less than thirty dogs in the express car. Dogs and hunters left the train at almost every station until Le-

The Bradford party on Stone creek added another deer to their record, making four in all. Station Master Frank Bradford was the slayer. Tuesday four or five shots were fired at a fine deer by several of the party, but the deer sped on.

Isaac Shawver, landlord of the Old Fort hotel, is confined to bed, having taken ill while in the Seven Mountains hunting for deer. He left the hunting grounds Wednesday of last

While seated on a rock awaiting game Chas. Neff fell asleep, and had a most wonderful dream. He sat there but a few minutes, but his dream covered at least an half hour's time. Mr. Neff dreamed a large buck approached him while sitting on the rock, and playfully circled around. drawing nearer each minute, finally his buckship deliberately put his cold, wet nose on the dreamer's cheek and then lay down at his feet. That was the dream. The reality was this: A huge rattle snake lay coiled at Mr. Neff's feet when he awoke. The rep_ tile was killed, and twelve rattles in Mr. Neff's possession are evidences that the tale is not a fib.

A party from Green Brier, Penn Hall the Commercial line. and Spring Mills, camping in the Bear Meadows, sent home two deer Saturday. Last year the same party killed

Samuel Bailey, a member of the Riley party, of Boalsburg, Saturday killed a two hundred pound buck.

John Osman, of Shingletown, while out for birds Saturday, was surprised by a fawn approaching him, which he killed with bird shot.

A Pittsburg party camping on Stone creek, near where the Bradfords have their camp, surrounded a deer, and Dr. Lee. fired shots from all points of the circle at the terrified fleet-foot. One ball passed wide of its mark and struck a place of the one that was burned in fellow hunter in the arm, inflicting a the conflagration that swept over the serious wound, but in an instant after brick structure and will cost about bullet a fine shot presented itself. With the crippled, bleeding arm the rifle was raised, there was a sharp report,-a large deer toppled over dead.

Messrs. Richard Barnes, James Drylie and William Watson, all of near Pittsburg and employes at the steel works, stopped at the Eutah House, Potters Mills, for several days last week, and spent the time in the mountains hunting small game. The shot were No. 7, but they proved fatal, the bear dying almost instantly.

> Darlington Kulp, aged seventeen years, son of Ex-Congressman W. H. Kulp, of Shamokin, while hunting in the Seven Mountains Saturday, had the good fortune to kill a large black bear, on the line dividing Centre and Huntingdon counties. It took several shots to finish bruin, and before his bearship yielded bruin endeavored to attack the youthful hunter, who first ran and afterwards turned and opened fire in dead earnest. That was the first bear killed in that region for some time.

Young Kulp and his game created quite an excitement on reaching Shamokin, as is related by W. B. Mingle, Esq., who happened on the scene when the carcass was divided among those entitled to a share. A crowd of several hundred people witnessed the quartering of the once feroclous ani-

Plum Grove public school, was a recent caller at this office. Mr. Noll is a son of W. C. Noll, of Madisonburg, who when the Harpsters flourished as wagon-builders and horse-shoers, learned the blacksmithing trade in the building now occupied by the Reporter. Radical changes have taken place since then, instead of the ring of the hammer on the anvil the hum of delicate machinery is constantly heard.

It is not uncommon to have a patron come into the Reporter office and give an item of news, and apologize as though his visit might be considered as an intrusion. Nobody is more welcome than the man who brings in items of news, even if it concerns himself. The Reporter naturally considers every man who furnishes an item to make the columns more newsy and interesting, as a benefactor and hopes that none of its readers will feel the least hesitancy in visiting the office, with the request to publish such

While out hunting on Tuesday afternoon of last week Edwin Baudis, son of John Baudis, of Benore, met with a very serious accident. He had stopped to rest and placed the end of the gun on the ground and his hands over the muzzle, when the gun was accidentally discharged, the contents mangling both hands in a frightful manner. Some of the shot struck Baudis in the chin and tore away part of his nose. His left hand will have to be amputated and two of the fingers on the right hand were taken off. He was taken to the Altoona hospital on the evening train.
