State Grange Meets.

The State Grange will meet in Clearfield, Tuesday, December 9. The sessions will continue for several days.

Congress Meets.

Congress will meet Monday, December 1, and continue in session until March 3, at which time the present congress becomes a thing of the past.

Apples Wanted.

Five car loads of apples are wanted within ten days; must be hand-picked and carefully handled.

C. P. LONG, Spring Mills, Pa.

Killed by Horse.

While H. E. Hersh, of Millburg, was hauling straw from the country on Monday, in coming down a steep hill he slipped and fell between the shafts.

The horse kicked him, breaking his jaw and fracturing his skull. Death followed in a few minutes.

Church Rededicated.

The Lutheran church at Brungarts, Miles township, was rededicated Sunday morning. The sermon was preached by Rev. Yutz, of Selinsgrove.

Andrew G. Curtin, Jr., a Bankrupt.

Andrew G. Curtin, Jr., a nephew of the civil war governor, was declared a voluntary bankrupt. The proceedings in the United States Court are merely a matter of form.

The Machine Exploded.

The threshing machine of the Messrs. Frank and Nicholas Coner exploded one day last week on account of the governor belt breaking, and the engineer losing control of the speed.

Keith's Bijou Theatre.

The Keith Stock Company, which has won enthusiastic approval from all who have witnessed its work during the past two weeks, promises to make its biggest hit the present week in a revival of Broadhurst's farce, "What Happened to Jones?"

Too Close an Observer.

The pastor of a church in Williamsburg was forced to resign his pastorate because he expressed his horror of the young woman who would wear the modern open work lace stockings.

AN HOUR AT COURT.

The Standing of the County Court—Lawyers of the Past and Present.

A number of young attorneys at the Bellefonte bar are gaining more or less prominence. They are showing good blood, and as time goes on, and these young men grow older, Centre county will be able to maintain the high standard of learned men in the law set by attorneys who figured largely in making the early history of the county.

It is noticeable that a number of the descendants of these famous, old-time lawyers are not depending on the ancestral record, but are building up for themselves and are adding new lustre to the family name.

To say that the fame of the Linns, McAlisters, McMannuses, Hales, Shurgarts, Durhams, Blairs, Blanchards, Curtins, Boals, Alexanders, Orvishes, Kellers, and a score of others, will not be equalled is, indeed, an error. Bellefonte today has attorneys of whom it may be said, without distracting glory from the illustrious peers of the Centre county bar, whose insight in law is equal, if not superior, to any who have ever bowed to the Centre county court.

Aside from those who are actively engaged before the court, there are ex-governors—two—among the living, as well as one among the dead; the superior court is graced with a Centre countian, whose soldier record alone is a crown.

The Centre county court has always been the most dignified within the state. Present President Judge, John G. Love, presides with that same dignity as did his predecessors, of which Hon. A. O. Furst is the only survivor. Dignity is an essential of a court. Judge Love, when on the bench, is not a man of multiplicity of words—he is not verbose. When he raises his hand, removes his eye-glasses, and shakes those silvery locks, a clear, impartial charge to the jury may be anticipated.

A feature of the Centre County Court once in vogue, has almost, if not entirely, become history. Reference is here made to abuse of the principals in a case as well as witnesses. And in this particular femininity was no shield. What was a custom at one time is a rare exception today, and is indulged in only when the attorney prefers to jeopardize the client's cause for a fancied pleasure.

Even those who have frequented the court for the past quarter century, notice a great stride toward making the interior of the court room present a neat, tidy appearance.

There is today a far greater respect shown for the court room than there was years ago. A bare and filthy floor invited spittle. Only the most uncouth would dare to spit on the court tapistry.

Communion Services.

Communion services will be held at Tusseyville Sunday morning; preparatory service Saturday afternoon previous.

G. W. KERSHNER, Pastor.

Special Sales.

John Smith & Bro. will give great reductions from now until after the holidays on side boards, chamber suits, couches, rockers, stoves and ranges. Don't miss these bargains. Our stock never has been so complete, all the latest patterns, no shop worn goods. We lead, others follow.

Killed a Wild Cat.

George W. Glace while out hunting Tuesday of last week in the mountains above his place, spied what he thought was a large owl sitting on a tall tree. He took steady aim, fired, and down came a large wild cat. The skin was exhibited to cronies in Centre Hall the day following. A bounty of two dollars is paid for wild cats.

Presented a Lot For a Church.

The corner stone for the new Methodist Episcopal church at Yeagertown, was laid last Sunday. Rev. George W. Stevens, of Lewistown, assisted by Rev. A. A. Lamberton, of Burnham, conducted the service. The lot on which the new edifice is being erected was presented by James H. Mann. His father presented the lot on which the Yeagertown Lutheran church stands.

LOCALS.

Elias Corman has moved from Coburn to Altoona.

Garman's store advertisement this week gives a letter from the original Santa Claus. Read it.

M. L. Rishel, Esq., and daughter, of Farmers Mills, stopped in town Monday for an hour on their way to State College.

D. W. Bradford, Isaac Shawver, John Heckman and Chas. Arney were on their annual rabbit hunting expedition in the barrens.

George Runkle and Charles A. Van Deussen, of the School Ship Saratoga, were guests at the Centre Hall hotel Monday of last week.

C. H. Lenker, of Halifax, Pa., had charge of the Centre Hall station during the absence of Station Agent W. F. Bradford.

The North American Tannery at Lewistown has been sold by C. Calvin Greene & Son to George H. Maxwell, of Titusville, Pa., for $55,000.

SMALLPOX IS INCREASING.

State Board of Health Finds 87 Towns Where Disease Exists.

The State board of health held its fifty-third regular meeting Thursday of last week in the Senate chamber at Harrisburg. The report of Dr. Benjamin Lee, of Philadelphia, secretary of the board, showed that there were 87 points in the State where smallpox exists, and that the increase in the number of cases since August 1 has been over 50 per cent. monthly. Most of the cases are in the Western and Southern counties of Pennsylvania.

Dr. J. H. McClelland, of Pittsburg, was reappointed chairman of the legislative committee of the board and directed to make every effort to secure an appropriation of $50,000 from the next Legislature to be used by the board as an emergency fund for epidemics.

Dr. Samuel T. Davis, of Lancaster, president of the board, announced the standing committee for the year. No change is made from the present board. Dr. Davis was elected delegate to the thirtieth annual meeting of the American Public Health Association to be held at New Orleans, December 8-12.

What Luck Means.

Luck is our own making. Luck means rising at six in the morning; living on one dollar a day if you make two; minding your own business, and not meddling with other people's; luck means the hardships and privations which you have not hesitated to endure; the long nights that you have devoted to work; luck means the appointments you have never failed to fulfill; luck means trusting in God and your own resources; a religion whose motto is "Help yourself and heaven will help you." Luck comes home to those who help themselves and know how to wait.

It is amazing how the words of a man travel through the press. The above paragraph has appeared in hundreds of newspapers. They are the words of Rev. Dr. Colfelt, of Philadelphia, in his baccalaureate sermon at Pennsylvania State College, last June, and although the paragraph has become separated from the eminent clergyman's name, they go on and on.

Planning for the holidays. If you need clothing, call on Montgomery & Co., Bellefonte.

Supper from six to ten at Grange Arcadia, tonight (Thursday.)

J. C. Dale's sale of live stock and farm implements will take place Saturday, December 6.

Septimus Winner, author of "The Mocking Bird," died at his home in Philadelphia Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bartholomew, of Spring Mills, spent several days at the home of W. H. Bartholomew.

Remember the Thanksgiving supper by Progress Grange. Chicken and waffles, oysters, ice cream, cake, etc.

Saturday and Sunday there was a considerable fall in the temperature. A stiff west wind made those days unpleasant.

Mrs. Lucy Moyer, of Potters Mills, recently accompanied her son Curtis Moyer, to Sandy Ridge, where she will remain for some time.

Mrs. J. T. Potter is spending Thanksgiving with her son Harry, in Allegheny. Before returning home, she will spend a week or more in Altoona.

S. Kline Woodring, Esq., is one of the young attorneys who is meriting clientage. His quarters are with Fortney & Walker.

Rain is badly wanted by those who are dependent upon cisterns for a water supply. October and November precipitations were much below the average.

Mrs. Evelyn Murray, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Murray, of this place, who has been here for about two months, Saturday returned to the home of her father, Mr. George Bard, in Reading.

Montgomery & Co., of Bellefonte, have a fine line of the latest cut clothing. You will find at their store a class of goods not found elsewhere. Their prices are within the reach of all.

The duty President Roosevelt is now performing is writing a message to congress that does not mean anything. It is a difficult task, but others have performed it, and Mr. Roosevelt will not be outdone.

Phillipsburg is enjoying the free delivery of its mails, but it is not enjoying the fact that the carriers are foreign to Phillipsburg. Really it does seem strange why the delivery of mails should not have fallen to some one who is a resident of the prosperous burg.

McNitt Bros. & Co. have the contract to furnish the poles necessary to extend the U. T. and T. lines across the Seven Mountains from Potters Mills. The line is built as far as Huyett's mill, but that portion of the route will also be rebuilt. All polls will be thirty feet and over in length.

Miss Grace Reznor Barber, the Elocutionist who gave an entertainment in the Presbyterian church Saturday evening, proved an especially interesting personage. Her articulation is distinct, her manner graceful, making her well fitted for her profession. In the roll of a little girl she apparently seems most "at home."

APPLE BUTTER MACHINE.

An Industry that Should be Attached to the Evaporator.

An apple butter machine has been in successful operation at Deer Run, near Doyelstown, the owner being James B. Overholt. By the use of his machine apple butter is made in about three hours, and the grade is far superior to that made by the old method.

Such a machine could perhaps be profitably operated in connection with the Centre Hall evaporating plant, the owners of which handle apples in large quantities. By installing such a machine the entire product of the orchard, without regard to quality could be utilized. The company mentioned is progressive, and no doubt will look into the merits of this apple butter machine, and next season the apple butter may be turned out by the hundreds of gallons.

LOCALS.

Harry Fye, of Farmers Mills, was a brief caller Tuesday.

The rains during the past week freshened the growing grain.

Mrs. Flora O. Bairfoot reeroofed the dwelling house on her farm west of town.

Mrs. W. W. Royer, of Centre Hill, called Tuesday, and advertises her property at Centre Hill for sale. See in another column.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jacobs, son Guy and daughter Margaret, and Mrs. Isaac Smith, of this place, were guests of Mrs. John Stuart, at State College, over Sunday.

George Armbruster, of Farmers Mills, was in town Tuesday to meet his daughter, Miss Catharine, who on that day came from Bellefonte. She will remain with her parents for a few days.

Wilbur H. Bland and Miss Nora Whippo were united in marriage Monday evening at the Presbyterian manse, by Rev. W. H. Schuyler. They will begin housekeeping at once west of town.

Governor Storie's investigating committee reported Superior Court Judge John I. Mitchell as incapacitated. He will accordingly be retired on half pay during the remainder of his life. He will receive annually $3,750.

By a special arrangement with the post office department, and the recommendation of Postmaster Boal, the Reporter will reach Linden Hall, Oak Hall Station and Boalsburg on the same day of publication—within about five hours from the time the paper goes to press. Heretofore the issues laid over until Friday morning.

The sisters of Mr. Rhone are residents of Grinnell, Iowa, instead of Granville, Iowa. The error is due to the writer misunderstanding the name of the town in a conversation with Jacob Rhone, of Allegheny. The peculiar fact in the case is, that a half dozen editors in the county had a similar misunderstanding (?).

A seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Hunter, of Prossertown, (near the Miller toll gate) died Thursday morning of last week of diphtheria. The little boy was only sick a few days. He was buried Friday morning interment at Pleasant Gap, says the Daily News. There are three more cases of this dreadful disease at that place, and the school near by has been closed.

The borough is having several crossings laid this week. Mason John R. Strong, of Potters Mills, is assisting Street Commissioner Sunday in doing the work. The crossing at the cemetery, laid a short time ago, should be torn up and relaid. Besides being a discredit to the borough on account of its mechanical construction, the crossing will be a trap for every one who has occasion to use it when covered with ice or snow.

The Gettig family, of near Linden Hall, had a family reunion last week, prior to making sale of the personal property of Mother Gettig. The family consists of H. C., McKeesport; J. A., Braddock; C. C. and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tharp, Pitcairn; Samuel, Bellefonte; George I., John L., Misses Lizzie and Velarie, at home. The sisters will make Braddock their home for the present, and the two last named brothers will go to Pitcairn.

John Glasgow, of Second and Vine street and sister Mrs. Hamby, No. 158 North 8th street, Philadelphia, were the guests of their father, John Glasgow, of Colyer. Mrs. Hamby is the wife of C. H. Hamby, who is a jeweler, and conducts one of the best establishments in his line in Philadelphia. A recent announcement sent out by Mr. Hamby was a most artistic piece of work, and dealt almost entirely with diamonds.

THE STAR STORE.

G. O. BENNER ESTABLISHED 1889. PROPRIETOR.

A Word to You.

It is hardly necessary for us to say that we are in better shape to sell you goods right than ever before. You are in tune with the situation. During the past thirteen years it has been laying the foundation, a getting ready, so as to sell you goods right and have something for the trouble. Others have come and gone. We are still on the "Flat Iron Corner" at the station, but not in the "Little Ben Coop," it having been crowded to the rear, but is back up full of goods usually kept in a ware room. It serves that purpose very well. In its place stands to-day, as remarked by a customer in our hearing, "the best lighted, the most convenient and best situated of any business stand in the valley." Come and see for yourself. Here are a few prices.
