Engineer Killed.

W. G. Dyke, engineer on the Nittany Valley railroad, Friday evening was instantly killed. The engineer was hauling two engines and a number of cars of coke, when he ran into some empty coke cars. The fireman, Mr. McKinley, was thrown from the engine but was not injured to any extent. This is the first accident of the kind recorded for the road.

Not Suffering for Fuel.

Centre Hall is one of the places that is not suffering for want of fuel. The coal dealers have been able to supply the demand for fuel for business places, churches and schools, and such individuals who cared to burn coal in preference to wood. Heretofore coal homes of the rural districts, but the demand from that source is very light on account of the extravagant price.

THE INAUGURATION.

Governor Pennypacker Takes Oath as Governor of Pennsylvania,

Inauguration day has passed into history and will long remain a vivid local memory. The imposing ceremony Tuesday, which marked the installation of Governor Pennypacker, the parade which converted the streets of Harrisburg into the theatre of one of the most striking pageants witnessed at the State Capital for many years.

In the carriage that bore Governor-elect Pennypacker from the Executive Mansion to the scene of his inauguration were Governor Stone, Justice D. Newlin Fell, of the Supreme Court, and Hon. Benjamin K. Focht, chairman of the Joint Legislative Inaugural Committee; after this came the carriage bearing Lieutenant Governor Gobin; his successor, Hon. William O. Brown; Rev. E. H. Leisenring, pastor of Trini-ty Lutheran Church at Chambersburg, visited her son, Thomas G. Wilson, in and Hon. George Kunkel, of Harristhis place, several days, returning burg chairman of the House Inaugural Committee. Then came the conveyances in which were the Judges of the local Courts, the President Pro Tem of the Senate, the Speaker of the House and other dignitaries. The military part of the escort, headed by Major General Charles Miller and his staff, Adjutant General Stewart and other officers of the State soldiery in their trappings of gold lace and martial accoutrements heightened the effect of the spectacle. On the stand were Mrs. Pennypacker, the three Misses Pennypacker and Aubrey Pennypacker, the latter a student at the University of Pennsylvania. At the conclusion of the prayer by Rev. Leisenring the certificate of elec-Wm. Attend the Caucus.

It is the duty of every Democrat to attend the caucus of his party, select good men for the office and see that they are elected. The caucus nominee should receive the united support of his party. Political success in the county, state and nation depends much upon the actions of the local caucus and the unity of the party at the February election.
