Car Upsets 'Bus.

An omnibus running between Lewistown and the Pennsylvania Railroad station at Lewistown Junction, was run down Tuesday night on the crossing over the Milroy branch by a coal car, which was being drilled in the yards. The buss, containing five passengers, was completely demolished. Mcs. Charles C. Kline, thirtyfive years old, was instantly killed. Mrs. Kline was thrown on the rail and her head crushed.

R., M. McCoy, Penusylvania Railroad ticket agent at Lewistown Junetion, who was riding in the buss, and James Long, the driver, were seriously injured. The other passengers escaped with slight injuries.

THE BOROUGH SCHOOLS.

Number of Scholars in Attendance-Cost of

Maintenance-Reduction in Expenses. The school question is being discussed to a considerable extent in Centre Hall. The bone of contention is not clearly indicated on the surface, but for argument sake the question raised is "whether the borough could or could not school its children in three schools insteat of four." The fact that Centre Hall is having good schools now is not disputed by any

The High School at present has a partially elective curriculum that includes the following branches: Arithmetic (Written,) Grammar, U. S. History, English History, General History, Physical Geography, Civil Government, Latin, Geometry, Literature, Rhetoric, Book-keeping, Algebra, Physics. These branches are all being pursued by various High School scholars. In the branches of Arithmetic, General History, Geometry and Algebra there are two classes, making nineteen classes in the High School.

The Grammar, Intermediate and Primary schools are each graded to three years, or classes A, B and C.

The tax rate for the years 1896-1897, was six mills. There was a shortage for the school year of 1896-1897 of $50, although at the beginning of the year Boyd Smith, S. Roy Smith, Floyd there was a cash balance handed over Decker and Wilber Kibe. of $144. This would make the shortage for the year (with a six mill rate) of $194.00. Tax rate for the year 1897-1898 was six mills; term of school eight months. The minutes of the board for that year do not show a statement.

The fourth grade, or High School, was inagurated by resolution of June

The tax rate for 1898-1899 was six mills for school and one mill for building purposes. Length of term seven months. The school year closed with a debt of $900.00. The actual shortage, Pomona Grange in the hall of the over and above the revenues derived Spring Mills grange Friday afternoon from taxation and appropriation was of this week. Meeting will open at $900 00 plus $228 00, cash on hand, and $97.18 derived from a Fourth of July jubilee, or $1225.18. The latter figure represents the shortage over the revenues derived. During the years 1898-1899 two items (heaters, $400.00 and Public School Park $602.50) cost $1002 .-50. This indicates that the seven mills failed to pay the expenses of the schools alone, and that in addition to that amount it required $223.00 from Burris, ry Meyer, late of Benner township, vault in the home of Mr. Tressler last July and took certain articles of agreement between himself and the other heirs of the estate whereby the fees or compensation of Mr. Tressler as executor were fixed. At the close of the Commonwealth's side of the case the Court stated that an article of agreement was not a subject of larceny and therefore there could be no verdict found against the defendant.

John Stiger who was charged with an assault and battery on the person of George Eisenhuth on last New Year's day was found guilty and was sentenced by the Court to pay the costs and go to jail for two months.

David Robb, who was one of the supervisors of Liberty township in 1900 brought suit against the township to recover an amount due which was refused by the board of Auditors. It appears from the evidence in the case that while Mr. Robb was supervisor he got into certain law suits with the taxpayers who refused to remove certain obstacles from the road, and when trial . was ordered it was found that the defendants therein charged were found not guilty and one third of the costs were put upon David Robb. He then presented his bill, (costs) to the Auditors and it was not allowed. Plaintiff claimed that the costs so paid were legitimate items to be credited to him in the settlement of his affairs with the township. After Mrs. J. L. Spangler left on Tuesday the charge of the Court the jury took for Philadelphia where they will be the case and after a short time returned with a verdict of $24.00 part of the claim sued for by the plaintiff.

Morgan Richards brought suit against the Pennsylvania R. R. Co., to recover the value of a horse alleged to have been struck and killed by defendant Company. The Court submitted the matter to the jury, but reserved a certain question of law which will be disposed of some time later. J. H. Waguer, accompanied by his The jury rendered a verdict in favor of
