Safe Withstood Burglars.

Burglars broke into the Burnham Post Office early Thursday morning of last week and took twenty dollars in money from a cash drawer. The safe contained a large sum of money and stamps, and an attempt was made to blow it open with dynamite, but the charge was badly placed and only blew off the outer casing. The room was badly wrecked. Several workmen were passing within a few yards of the building when the explosion occurred. They saw no signs of life before or after the explosion.

Fire Insurance Losses.

Insurance companies doing a fire and marine business in Pennsylvania are required to give the figures of the entire losses of each year, both in this and foreign countries. In his annual report just issued, Insurance Commissioner Durham gives the figures of losses during 1902, which are made public for the first time.

The losses of the Pennsylvania joint stock companies were $10,751,737.62. The fire claims paid by joint stock companies of other States amounted to $55,208,991.06. The losses of foreign companies doing business in Pennsylvania amounted to $28,772,523.67.

An Educational Miracle.

Miss Katie McGirr was graduated from a New York institution the other day. She was born blind and deaf, like Helen Keller, but, like her, has been taught all that most girls learn at school. She is said to speak more distinctly than Miss Keller, is an accomplished seamstress and an adept with the typewriter. She is nineteen years of age.

Three other blind-deaf mutes, only less accomplished than Miss McGirr were also among the graduates.

The success that has been achieved in educating this unfortunate class of children is one of the greatest miracles of modern science.

A Serious Accident.

Thursday morning of last week, says the Daily News, Miss Bessie, aged fourteen years, daughter of Isaac Sager, was struck by a caboose while walking along the track of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and dragged some distance, sustaining severe injuries to her right leg.

The accident happened just this side of the Bellefonte Furnace siding. Miss Sager and two other girls, Miss Cramer and Miss Kanwar, were on their way from their homes at Pleasant View to the Bellefonte shirt factory where they are employed.

The girls stepped off the track for the engine and not noticing the approaching caboose Miss Sager stepped back on the track when the caboose struck her and dragged her some distance. Fortunately it did not run over her, but her limb was badly bruised. Miss Sager was removed to the hospital, and later it was found necessary to amputate the injured member.

New Disease.

The Milroy correspondent to the Lewistown Gazette says: Some cattle are affected in our vicinity with a new disease. They commence with a high fever, sore feet, sore eyes and slobbering. They fall away fast and have little inclination to eat. After the fever breaks they scale off. The disease does not appear to be very contagious and is not very fatal.

THE LORENZ PATIENTS.

Quartet Operated Upon by Vienna Surgeon Examined at Jefferson Hospital.

Four little patients, victims of congenital dislocation of the hip, treated by Dr. Lorenz during his visit to Philadelphia last fall, appeared at the Jefferson Hospital last week, where, in the presence of their mothers and a number of physicians, including both champions and critics of the Lorenz method, the plaster of paris casts were sawed off.

They were Rosie Cohen, aged two years, Eugene Casna, aged two years, Marie Hingsworth, aged four years, of Philadelphia, and Alice Parker, aged nine years, of Phillipsburg.

The patients were then passed out in order to have Roentgen ray photographs taken, that could leave no room for mistaken observation of the relations between the head of the femur and the socket of the hip into which it must be brought.

They were then brought into the operating room and Dr. Wilson "rotated forward," as it is called, which means that he worked the limb half way from his position at a right angle to the body toward its natural position, and the plaster was again used to hold the limbs in their new positions. This required all the patients to be etherized.

Dr. Wilson said after the operation: "All these cases are in transit. It is not time to form any opinion about the final result. There will be another operation at the end of six months or a year from the first operation, when the casts are finally removed, the probable results will begin to appear. All we can say now is that the examinations of to-day showed favorable conditions, and we are simply following out Dr. Lorenz's system in the spirit and letter."

The Reason Why.

An unsigned communication asks why the Reporter doesn't "pitch into" Mr. Gramley.

The reason is this: Mr. Gramley is now not an aspirant for office; his official conduct so far as is known to the Reporter is correct. Mr. Gramley was opposed by the Reporter when he was a candidate for reelection to the superintendency, and at a time when those who are now making a big howl had their hands in the pockets of Mr. Gramley's friends.

The Reporter was offered a pole long enough to reach a persimmon, but it had no desire for the fruit. If it would have shaken the tree and eaten the fruit, the Reporter would have enough sense to keep quiet after the crop was consumed. Even a semi-political persimmon tree cannot bear continuously.
