Fleming-Weaver.

Malcolm Densmore Fleming, of Baltimore, Md., and Miss Bertha Frances Weaver, of Urbana, Ohio, were married Wednesday of last week. The ceremony took place at the bride's home in Ohio, she being a daughter of Mrs. Emma Boal Weaver.

He's Running Two Engines.

Anthony W. Garver, of Pleasant Gap, writes from Hopechurch, Pa., that he is working for Harbison and Walker, brick manufacturers, at Hay's Station, six miles above Pittsburgh. He says the plant is running steadily, night and day, and that he has been with the company since May 24.

He is running two engines, the one is a two hundred and fifty and the other a thirty horsepower. The small one is used to run the dynamo for lighting the building. He runs at night—Sunday night included—and for his services he receives $45.00 every fifteen days. Good for Anthony Garver.

A DISASTROUS BLAZE.

Large Barn on the Farm of the Late Gen. Hastings Destroyed.

As a result of celebrating the Fourth the large barn and outbuildings on the farm owned by the late General Hastings located one and one-half miles south of Axe Mann and along the Bellefonte and Lewistown turnpike caught fire and was totally destroyed, says the Daily News.

The farm is occupied by Elmer Swartz and during the afternoon his little son Harry was celebrating the Fourth in the usual manner by firing fire crackers. The fire undoubtedly originated from these fire crackers. It started about 1.15 o'clock and spread with great rapidity. All the buildings were consumed except the house and two outbuildings. B. E. Swartz, the farmer, lost 6 horses, 1 colt, 3 calves and all his wagons, nearly all his harness, grain, feed, etc. In attempting to rescue the horses, Mr. Swartz was severely burned about the face, hands and arms.

The total loss will be about $5,000, partially covered by insurance. Mr. Swartz is insured in the Patrons Insurance Company through the agency of William H. Miller, of Axe Mann.

The barn and outbuildings had just been overhauled and refitted in magnificent style by the late Gen. Hastings and was one of the finest farm properties in Centre county. The loss is quite a severe one both to the Hastings estate and Mr. Swartz.

ORDAINED AND INSTALLED.

Rev. Gress Solemnly Assumes the Office of Ministry Before a Large Audience.

The services incident to the ordination of Rev. Daniel Gress to the ministry and the installation of him as pastor of the Centre Hall charge were held in the Reformed church of this place on Thursday evening.

The church was filled with an audience which was very attentive to the impressive form of service used. Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt, of Bellefonte, preached the ordination sermon and Rev. A. A. Black, of Boalsburg, by the authority of West Susquehanna Classis vested in him, installed Rev. Gress as pastor of this charge.

Rev. D. J. Wolf, of Walkersville, Md., and Rev. W. H. Schuyler, of the Presbyterian church assisted in the services. After the services an informal reception was held and the members of this congregation along with the members of the other congregations of the charge who were present, welcomed Rev. Gress and greatly encouraged him upon entering his new field of labor.

This is Rev. Gress' first charge, he having recently graduated from the seminary of the Reformed church, located at Lancaster, Pa. He is also a graduate of the class of 1900 of Franklin and Marshall college. Rev. Gress comes from Pleasant Unity, where he lived all his life and is held in high esteem by the people who know him.

A Terrific Storm.

One of the worst storms ever experienced by the people of Millheim struck the town Friday afternoon, says the Journal. The cyclone first struck Dr. Musser's woods, about one mile west of town, tearing the trees up by the roots as it went, unroofed buildings on the Gephart farm, occupied by J. D. Keen, and continued to expend its force along the mountain doing considerable damage to buildings and fences. A number of shade and ornamental trees were uprooted on Penn street and one of the large willow trees along the mill race was broken off and hung on another tree in such a manner that it threatened to fall on and crush the dwelling house of D. W. Zeigler. After the storm a number of men, with ropes, pulled the tree down.

Fire at Steel Works.

M. W. Pecht, of Yeagertown, writes the Reporter that fire broke out in the hammer shop of the Standard Steel Works recently burning about two hundred feet of the building. The Lewistown, Yeagertown and Burnham hose companies were out and extinguished the fire. The loss is between $20,000 and $25,000. The company will rebuild at once.

On the morning of July 4th a strange man was found at the Lewistown Junction dead. He was shot through the heart and his head and skull were crushed. Who the man was and who did the deed is not known.

Attended Golden Wedding.

The Altoona Tribune says: J. D. Luse and wife, from the city, have just returned from Millheim where they attended the golden wedding of his father and mother, Dennis and Mary Ann Luse. Those present at the wedding were Mrs. J. G. W. Hearld, from Connecticut; Mrs. William Beard, from Sparrow's Point; Mrs. Michael Maise, from Baltimore; John W. Luse, from Bellefonte.

COL. BAYARD INSTANTLY KILLED.

An Entire Freight Train Passes Over a Prominent Bellefonte Citizen.

Col. George A. Bayard was instantly killed by being struck by a freight train near Bellefonte station Tuesday morning of last week. The body was horribly mangled. Col. Bayard was walking on the railroad track when the accident happened. He was a trifle hard of hearing and did not hear or notice an approaching freight, cab-in foremost. The mutilated body was picked up by the trainmen and taken to the freight station, and later taken charge of by undertaker Harris.

George A. Bayard was born in Saltsburg, Indiana county, and was 76 years of age. He was the son of Dr. A. W. Bayard and with his parents came to Bellefonte about 1833 when he was about six years old. His father died in 1860 and was a surgeon in the war of 1812.

When the war of the rebellion broke out George A. Bayard first served in the three months service as a private in Co. H. Bellefonte Fencibles of 2nd Penna. volunteers. At the expiration of this enlistment he organized Co. H. of the 148th Pennsylvania Volunteers and was its first captain. For bravery in battle he arose to the rank of major and at the close of the war was brevetted Lieut. Colonel. James A. Beaver being the colonel of this regiment.

Deceased was married to Martha Johnson who survives him with the following children: Mrs. George Bowen, Canton, Ohio; Walter W., and John, of Los Angeles, Cal.; James, Ursula, Caroline, Sadie, Roger, of Bellefonte, and George, of Arcadia.

The funeral was in charge of Gregg Post, No. 95 G. A. R., of which he was an active member, and took place Thursday following his death.

The honorary pall-bearers were as follows: Gen. James A. Beaver, Maj. G. A. Fairlamb, Thos. Myton, Capt. Geo. M. Boal, D. W. Woodring, Chas. Smith, Past Department Commander Austin Curtin, Dr. Theodore Christ, D. F. Fortney, W. H. Musser, Dr. J. M. Thompson, Capt. W. H. Fry, J. P. Harris, W. P. Humes, W. Montgomery, F. P. Green, John Uzzie.

The active pall-bearers were Gen. J. I. Curtin, H. H. Montgomery, H. K. Miller, Allen Smith, D. L. Sanders, Thos. Donachy.

$70,000 FIRE IN BELLEFONTE.

Glass Factory, Coal Sheds, Roundhouse and Several Warehouses Burned.

One of the most disastrous fires that has occurred in Bellefonte for some time broke out Sunday afternoon and before it was subdued laid waste the factory and warehouses of the Bellefonte Window Glass Company, the roundhouse of the Bellefonte Central Railroad Company, several buildings belonging to McCalmont & Co., coal, lime and implement dealers, and the warehouse of the Keystone Oil and Supply Company.

The fire started in the casting room of the glass factory and spread with great rapidity. Within an hour and a half all the buildings with their contents were smoking ruins. A high wind prevailed at the time, which kept constantly blowing and for a while the greater portion of the town was in danger of destruction.

The total loss is about $70,000. The glass factory had a large stock of glass on hand and was preparing to start operations about September 15. It was an eight pot furnace. The loss on buildings, machinery and stock is about $60,000, with $11,000 insurance. McCalmont & Co.'s loss is about $3000, Keystone Oil and Supply Company, $2000, and Bellefonte Central Railroad, $2500. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Reduced Rates to the Seashore.

The next Pennsylvania Railroad low-rate ten-day excursion for the present season from Bellefonte and principal intermediate stations (including stations on branch roads), to Atlantic City, Cape May, Ocean City, Sea Isle City, Avalon, Anglesea, Wildwood, or Holly Beach, will run Thursday, July 23.

Excursion tickets, good to return by regular trains within ten days, will be sold at very low rates. Tickets will be sold to Atlantic City via the Delaware River Bridge Route, the only all-rail line, or via Market Street Wharf, Philad.

Stop over can be had at Philadelphia, either going or returning, within limit of ticket. For information in regard to specific rates and time of trains consult hand bills, or apply to agents, or E. S. Harrar, Division Ticket Agent, Williamsport.

Nittany Club Reorganized.

At a largely attended meeting held at the Nittany Clubhouse the Nittany Country Club was organized to take the place of the recently disbanded Nittany Rod and Gun Club. The officers elected were: President, Colonel J. L. Spangler; vice president, J. W. Gephart; secretary, Edmund Blanchard; treasurer, George R. Meek; directors, John M. Dale, W. Harrison Walker, L. T. Munson, Dr. J. M. Brockerhoff, Robert Morris, Colonel Wilbur F. Reeder and Mr. Freeman, of Tyrone.

LOCAL NEWS FROM ILLINOIS.

Krape, Harpster and Goodhart are Mentioned in a Letter from Illinois.

This was Freeport's off year to celebrate on the elaborate scale. A goodly portion of its population was represented at the great celebration held in Orangeville on the fourth. Other portions spent their patriotic enthusiasm in the parks of Freeport and many hied to Globe Park, (two miles southwest of the city,) one of the most picturesque spots in Northern Illinois. This park is owned by W. W. Krape, founder of the Knights of the Globe organization, and contains about ninety acres,—an ideal spot for an outing or picnic.

Robert H. Goodhart, son of Wm. Goodhart, deceased, of Spring Mills,—an engineer on the Penna. railroad, with headquarters at Altoona, is spending his three weeks vacation in touring the west. Robert spent two years on the farms near this city several years ago. His friends in this section were glad to entertain him.

W. W. Harpster has sold his confection business to a Mr. Web. Mr. Harpster will now devote his entire time to the pigeon business. At present he has nearly a thousand squabs. Mr. Harpster has a particular knack and fondness for this species of the feathery kingdom—hence his success. He contemplates taking his family east to Centre county and other points of interest after harvest.

Freeport had a cloudburst the morning of the 3rd instant, more than four inches of water fell in about three hours. Much damage in the way of washing was done to crops. Little wind accompanied the downpour.

LOCALS.

B. W. Ripka, merchant of Spring Mills, in his advertisement in this issue, argues in favor of the cash system.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Luse, of Millheim, Tuesday of last week celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. Welsh and grandson, Wm. Lohr, of Philadelphia, are being entertained by Mrs. Lucy Henney and Wm. Lohr, Sr.

Mrs. Anna Evans, daughter of George L. Goodhart, of Centre Hill, Tuesday of last week returned to her home in White, South Dakota.

J. Frank Ross, of Pittsburg, was home over the Nation's great holiday. He has been in the Smoky City for some time, and holds a good position.

W. D. Shoop and B. L. Hartman, of Reedsville, drove from that place to Centre Hall Saturday. Both these young men are employed in the bakery of A. C. Garver, Reedsville.

Mrs. Edward Foreman, accompanied by her son Ira, and little daughter of Youngstown, Ohio, were in town last week. Mrs. Foreman came east on account of the death of her father, Wm. Goodhart, of near Spring Mills.

Mrs. Hollis, better known to the young people of Centre Hall as Beulah Betts, and little son, of Hartford, Conn., are in Reedsville. She and her husband have been living in Hartford for several years, at which place Mr. Hollis is manager of a large tenement store.

There is a likelihood that Rev. H. H. Weber, D. D., general secretary of the board of Lutheran church extension, will be elected president of the Pennsylvania College, at Gettysburg. The institution has been without a head since the resignation of Dr. McKnight.

Miss Orpha Gramley, Spring Mills, Thursday will go to Pittsburg and after spending a short time there she will go to Bellevue, Ohio, to remain for several weeks. Miss Gramley is a daughter of T. M. Gramley, and is one of the successful young school teachers of Gregg township.

George W. Condo and family, of Jeannette, arrived in Centre Hall Saturday a week to remain a short time. Mr. Condo is engaged with D. T. Knappenberger, one of the leading butchers in Jeannette, and does the killing in the slaughter house. At this business he is becoming an expert.

Monday of last week, David Allison, a farmer living near Allenville, Millin county, was visited by burglars, who gagged and bound him to the stove, piled bed clothing on him and then proceeded to ransack the house. Fifteen dollars in cash was obtained. The farmer was released next morning by a neighbor who chanced to visit him.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ocker and daughter Miss Estie have been visiting in Centre Hall and other points in Centre county. Mrs. Ocker was accompanied to this place by her mother, Mrs. Reuben Gramley, of Rebersburg. Miss Ocker, before coming here, paid a visit to Miss Stryker and the family of Rev. A. D. Potts, at Petersburg.

The scarcity of farm laborers has hindered many farmers from prosecuting their farm work as rapidly as they like. In consequence of this wages have advanced in some quarters, but this fact has added few laborers to the farmers' pay role. To make matters worse, the recent wet weather has plied work up on the soil tillers. Corn was unfinished when haying came, and the wheat fields demanded attention before haying was rightly begun.

New Cash Store.

Several days ago a similar expression to the following was made by a CASH-PAYING customer of a CREDIT store in this town:

"I have often wondered why a person who pays CASH for everything must pay the same as the person who is allowed a year's time in which to pay for his goods."

That man forgot to consider that when he deals at a Credit Store he helps pay for the goods the other fellow gets on a year's time. The whole thing sums up to the following: The CASH-PAYING customer pays interest on the money the merchant has invested in the goods he sells to CREDIT customers. Give this a moment's thought. Why not deal at a Cash Store where everybody is treated alike. You can surely save money.

We now have in stock as fine a line as is carried by any general store in this section, and can save money for you. Next week's ad. will contain something of vital interest to everybody.

Bring your produce. Your patronage is solicited.
