COMMERCIAL REVIEW.

General Trade Conditions.

Bradstreet's says of the state of trade: "Trade conditions are still irregular. Business is of fair volume, but not so active as a year ago, partly because of the backward season, heavy rains interfering with crop movement, and collections; vexatious labor troubles, past and present, discouraging building operations, and the spread of the conservative feeling among buyers, based upon stock market liquidation and the feeling that high prices of many products will tend, if it has not already done so, to automatically check consumption.

"Many underlying conditions are however, still favorable. First in importance should be reckoned the decidedly better tone of advices from the corn crop, which has developed a larger yield and a better quality than was earlier deemed possible. Lower prices for this and other cereals and for cotton, whose yield will be smaller that seemed probable a month ago, seem likely to help our backward export trade in those products and improve the foreign exchange outlook.
